We hear from Southampton that Mr. Pinder's "influence" is sadly on the wane. In the words of the base ball crank, "the We say then that the electors of York people up there have got on to his curves." The manner in which he and his son George absorbed the Bear Island grants for rock blasting as foreman and laborer, has struck the people as very peculiar. On Nov-28th 1894 the Record was good enough to observe that "despite the fiasco of the last local election the Hon. A. G. Blair has a great majority of the people of York with him, as the reception accorded him when he made his address last night shows."

The opposition are after Mr. Perley's scalp in Sunbury and the old gentleman cannot possibly be elected. The Wilmots, Glasiers, Mitchells, all former staunch supporters of his have gone back on him party in the legislature from 1892 to 1895 and are working for Morrow, who with Harrison will snow Dr. Stockton's friends under in Sunbury. "IF, as Mr. Pitt's declares," the Bathurst school question is a dead issue, said a prominent Orangeman to The Herald this morning, "then my opposition to the government is removed and I shall vote the whole government ticket on the 16th. Mr. Pitts led us to believe that he would never cease agitation until the concessions made to the Roman Catholics in 1875 were repealed, and that he would fight it out on that line, but now I see he has surrendered, and declares all that he was agitating for is a dead issue. He ted us into a hole and leaves us there."

MR. > The Redoubtable James K. as a Laborer and Foreman.

Many electors in Southampton and along the river generally, have frequently asked THE HERALD to publish the record of James K. Pinder's rock blasting operations at Bear Island, and today we comply with the request. What the people are anxious to know is, how the money was disbursed and how much stuck to the Pinders' pockets. It will be observed that one year James K. would be foreman of the work and the next his son George would take that position, while the father would appear on the works as a laborer. Whether the money charged against the various other parties went into the right pockets, they themselves will be able to judge when they read the accounts. James K. Pinder is a loudmouthed person who is always charging boodling against his opponents, but his perations at Bear Island taken from the public records, show that the great Nacawicker has himself had his hand very deep into the treasury.
