Give Your Wife a Bond As a Christmas Gift

Yes, it is a little early to talk of such matters, but we want to call your attention to it before you make other arrangements. Have you ever thought of giving such a handsome and enduring gift? Just think what it would mean to her—every six months a little coupon to cut off and money coming in—a practical and welcome reminder of your thoughtfulness. And this will continue year after year until the bond is due, then she will have the face value of the bond to re-invest. She will also have joined the "BONDHOLDER" ranks—a distinction that any thoughtful and careful woman would be glad to attain.

We offer a number of safe bonds in as low a denomination as $100. Think it over. Better send for our list to-day.

Thanking the Kind Employer.

BY RUTH CAMERON.

Of course you have gotten your Christmas shopping all done by now. But if by any chance you haven't made all your purchases yet, here is a suggestion for you: If you want to do true honour to the spirit of Christmas and to Him in reverence to Whom—despite our apparent forgetfulness of the fact—the festival was instituted, why not try to give the largest share of your Christmas trade to those shops which treat their employees most fairly and kindly during the holiday season.

We all know that the holiday season is a time of terrible strain to the men and women behind the counter. We go home completely exhausted from a single afternoon spent in the turmoil and confusion. Just think what it must be to spend eight and nine hours a day for weeks in it. Under the very best conditions it must be enough to drain one down to the very dregs. Under the worst it must be unbearable.

Now, wouldn't you like to say Thank You to those employers who make things as pleasant as they can for their workers? Very well, then say it. How? By giving as much of your trade as you can to those employers. That is the most logical thanks you can utter.

How can you find out which employers deserve your thanks? Well, ask the girls themselves for one way. They will tell you quickly and loyally enough if the employer is kind. And if he is not, you can guess by their manner, even if they do not dare to speak out.

In a comparatively lucid interval in the Christmas rush, while we waited for change, I chatted with the girl who had served me. "These weeks must be terribly hard for you," I said. "Oh yes," she answered, "they are hard, but you know we get extra money in commissions during the Christmas shopping season. That helps a lot."

In another shop, in a city where I used to live, a shop which is noted for its magnificent Christmas decorations, I asked a girl if the same custom of extra commission was followed.

She laughed bitterly. "I should say not," she said. "There's where all the money goes," pointing to the decorations. "We don't get an extra penny, and we work like dogs and lose our half noon hours, too."

In some shops the girls are allowed to sit down when not waiting on customers.

In others, although the seats may be supplied because of the law, the girls get a black look if they dare use them.

Won't you make it your Christmas present to the shop girl to say the Thank You of your trade to the employer who gives her a square deal?

True, individually you are an atom, but remember, collectively you are the whole world and can do whatever you will.

Ruth Cameron

A BLOOD MEDICINE WITHOUT ALCOHOL.

Recently it has been definitely proven by experiments on animals that alcohol lowers the germicidal power of the body and that alcohol paralyzes the white corpuscles of the blood and renders them unable to take up and destroy disease germs. Disease germs cause the death of over one-half of the human race.

A blood medicine, made entirely without alcohol, which is a pure glyceric extract of roots, such as Bloodroot, Queen's root, Golden Seal root, Mandrake and Stone root, has been extensively sold by druggists for the past forty years as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. The refreshing influence of this extract is like Nature's influence—the blood is bathed in the tonic which gives life to the blood—the vital fires of the body burn brighter and their increased activity consumes the tissue rubbish which has accumulated during the winter.

Dr. R. V. Pierce, the founder of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, and a physician of large experience and practice, was the first to make up an ALTERNATIVE EXTRACT of roots, without a particle of alcohol or narcotic.

"It is with the greatest pleasure, that I write to let you know of the great benefit I received from the use of your medicines and self-treatment. Mrs. H. H. H. of London, Ont. C. I. suffered for three years from a running sore. Consulted four doctors but they failed to mend or give relief. Finally I was told I was in consumption and would have to consult a specialist concerning my sex, that the dead bone must be cut out before the wound would heal. A kind friend told me to use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I did, and after seven months' use of the treatment the sore is healed, and I enjoy better health than I ever did. I dressed the wound with Dr. Pierce's All-Healing Salve and took the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Pleasant Pellets' for my troubles. I shall always recommend your medicines."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate liver and bowels.

Household Notes.

Insects like neither salt nor alum.

Save the newspapers for polishing windows.

If a range is properly taken care of it will last fifteen years.

Rust can be removed by boiling the garment in cream of tartar water.

The fat from ham and sausage is very good to use for warming over potatoes.

It is much better to remove the skins from all fruit to be eaten by children.

It is a convenience in traveling to have a broad band of color painted on your trunk.

Put the zinc-covered kitchen table with a cloth dipped in vinegar. It will keep it bright.

Do not allow ashes to collect in the ashpan; they will cause the grate to burn out quickly.

Frozen potatoes can be made eatable if they are soaked in water three days before cooking.

Painted woodwork can be satisfactorily washed by dissolving baking soda in warm water.

Put a pair of old gloves in the shoe box to keep the linings clean when polishing shoes.

Cayenne pepper sprinkled on every shelf and in every crevice is said to drive mice away.

The water in which unsalted rice has been boiled makes an excellent starch for lingerie waists.

Open shelves should be avoided in the kitchen, as it is almost impossible to keep them free from dust.

Do not throw away the coarse, green celery leaves. Dry them; they make very good flavoring for soups.

Stale macaroons make a delicious addition to puddings and custards if pulverized and sprinkled over the top.

It is convenient to keep a bottle of common shot on the sink shelf for use when cleaning bottles or glass jars.

Holes in stockings are much easier to darn if a thread is run around each hole before beginning to darn.

If a little salt is sprinkled in the frying pan before putting the fat in, the stove will not be splashed with the grease.

After cutting a slice off a ham, rub the cut side with cornmeal, as this keeps the ham from becoming rancid.

Butter or milk should not be allowed to remain uncovered in the refrigerator, as they absorb odors very quickly.

If windows are wiped once a week with a cloth dipped in alcohol, they will not become frosted in cold weather.

When garbage is burned, it should first be dried, otherwise steam is created, and the moisture is injurious to the firebox.

If a trunk cover refuses to shut, try fitting the tray into the cover and shutting them down together. This always succeeds.

Put silver in a pan and cover it with thick, sour milk. Let it stand for half an hour and it will come out bright as a new dollar.

Paint brushes can be kept from drying out by putting them in water, over which there is a little kerosene oil or turpentine poured.

When roasting meat, put a pan of water in the oven, the steam which arises from the water will aid in making the meat tender.

Put a box of rich earth in the cellar before frost comes; it will be ready for use when you want to start your early seeds in the spring.

When water has spilled on a valuable book, lay a blotter on each side of the first wet leaf and iron until dry with a medium hot iron.

Clothes will not freeze fast to the line if a cloth is dipped in salt water and rubbed over the line when the clothes are ready to hang up.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20.
 Roused by attacks upon foreign lives and property in Mexico, as a result of the Revolution there, the United States' Ambassador to the Mexican capital leaves here to-day with a demand that Mexico take prompt action to put an end to the existing unrest. While the State Department maintains silence, it is understood that foreign governments have made representation concerning the destruction of the property of their citizens in Mexico, and the jeopardy in which those citizens are placed.

NEW YORK, Dec. 20.
 The Board of Estimates has voted to spend all the money necessary to give New York City one of the largest municipal dock systems in the world. For three miles or more along the Brooklyn waterfront, the city will take its pick of the choicest property and the cost may approximate $150,000,000. Included in the property which may be taken over are the mammoth plants of the Bush Terminal Company, and the New York Dock Company, whose estimated value is $50,000,000. The acquisition of other property, by condemnation or otherwise, is expected to cost a second $50,000,000; whilst under the terms of the Terminal Committee's report a third $50,000,000 will be expended on building the docks and electric railway along the waterfront.

LONDON, Dec. 20.
 Much hard language was indulged in, and venomous feeling aroused in the House of Commons this afternoon over the retirement of Vice-Admiral Bridgeman from the position of First Sea Lord of the Admiralty. Admiral Beresford and First Lord Churchill reviled each other to the utmost limit allowed by the British Parliament.

Backstairs methods, bribes, threats, gross insinuations, were some of the choice phrases exchanged. Briefly, Beresford charged Churchill with pursuing a policy of bribes and threats. If, he said, the Sea Lords disagreed with Churchill's autocratic assumption of executive as well as administrative authority, they were dismissed by insolent letters. The reply given by Churchill was crisp and stinging. Lord Beresford, he said, had made a number of insinuations of a gross character. He had skulked in the background, waiting for an opportunity to make charges unsupported by facts. "He has levelled scurrilous attacks of espionage, favoritism, blackmail and inefficiency against me," said Churchill, "but I have never taken him too seriously. He does not mean to be as offensive as he really is. I am sorry he was not made Admiral of the Fleet, and know how sore he is about it, but since I have been at the Admiralty, I have discovered that it would be very difficult to get a board of naval men to approve of such an appointment. Churchill stuck to his guns in saying that he had written to Admiral Bridgeman, insisting upon his retirement solely on account of the Admiralty's health rendering him incapable of adequately fulfilling his duties."
