

"OUT HER TEETH WITHOUT TROUBLE."

enclose a photograph of my baby girl, who is only 9 months, weighs 20 lbs., and is as bonny as anyone could wish for. Since she was 2 weeks old I have given her Neave's Food, and never had a broken night's rest, she has put 2 teeth without any trouble. Your food is certainly excellent.

Mrs. Hardy, 20 Rawdon Street, Brasford, Ontario.

Babies thrive on Neave's Food

Sold in Tin Specially Packed for Newfoundland. Send 5c. for postage of FREE SAMPLE.

THE Lady of the Night

Amelia Makes a Success

CHAPTER X. AMELIA MAKES A SUCCESS. "I can't find Nora," said Ryall, with a troubled countenance. "I've been to Nelaworthy. I've asked everywhere."

"Oh, bother the girl!" said Mrs. Ryall; "she's all right. She's gone to some of her old cronies, some of the common people, farmers, she's so thick with. Don't let's worry about her; she'll come back presently. The question is—shall I put on my purple velvet with the pearls or my white satin frock with the lamethysts? I want to look my best, for your sake, Reginald. Oh, don't look so gloomy. Here's a chance of our taking our proper place—the place you're always cackling about—and of proving that we are somebody. You're all right, I know; you've got a dress-suit, because I've seen it. It's old-fashioned, and you look a guy in it; but it doesn't matter how a man looks; it's the woman that goes by."

She thought and talked of nothing but her dress from that moment until the one in which they started in the hired fly for the Hall. She had decided in favour of the purple velvet, which was velvet, and the pearls, which were a string of palpably glass beads. She had made herself up with greater care than usual, and if she could only have been gaged she might almost have passed muster; for alas! the art of making-up is practised by ladies of a higher class and rank than actors and music-hall artists. She was all in a flutter of excitement—Ryall sitting gloomily beside her—on Wrigley's Gum advertisement. "AFTER EVERY MEAL" The gum with the lasting flavor—wrapped in the hygienic sealed package. A soody that's good for you. Aids appetite and digestion. Keeps teeth clean and breath sweet. A boon to smokers, with its cooling, soothing, effect on mouth and throat.

PIMPLES ON FACE CUTICURA HEALS

Caused Disfigurement, Itchy and Burning. Had Restless Nights. "My face came out in little pimples that were sore, and I scratched them constantly, and they they turned into sores, causing much disfigurement. I became so ugly that I hid my face by wearing a wig. The burning was so sore, and I had many rest-

"What a success!" said Mrs. Ryall, as she sank back in the fly and fanned herself with a cheap and gaudy fan. "Didn't I tell you, Reginald, 'ow it would be? We've turned over a new leaf to-night; we've got me to thank. Any you've only me to thank."

"I'm tired and sick of it all, Joseph," she said. "I'm tired of this life; I wish we were back at the little house at Clapham. We were so happy enough there; we had a life, we were together, and we were all right. I'm tired and sick of it all, Joseph."

"I was sitting there by the wayside," she added; she added "ma'am" as pertly as she could. "But why did you frighten Jacky?" demanded the lady placidly. "Nora explained that the horse had stumbled."

"I suppose you can't find the place where I was reading?" said the lady. "No, of course not; boys are so stupid. What sort of place are you looking for?"

CHAPTER XI. NORA'S FIRST REFUGE.

About an hour after she had left the shed in the field, Nora entered Forlash. The shops of the sleepy little seaport were just opening, and she paused before one with a strip of mirror in its front, and looked at her reflection. She saw a boyish form dressed in a rough serge suit; and for a moment, she stared at her changed appearance. Nora Ryall had gone, and quite an ordinary-looking lad had taken her place, ordinary in everything but the length of her hair; for, short as were the wavy curls, they were, to Nora's mind, not short enough for a boy. In fear and trembling she went into a shop and bought a pair of scissors. The shrewd assistant handed her the scissors with scarcely a glance, and added a small folding mirror with a corresponding lack of interest.

ASPIRIN

Only "Bayer" is Genuine. Warning! Take no chances with substitutes for genuine "Bayer" Tablets of Aspirin. Unless you see the name "Bayer" on packages or on tablets you are not getting Aspirin at all.

"I don't know," replied Nora wearily, wishing that she did. "I am looking for a situation."

"You won't find it by the roadside," remarked the lady. "Well, I am much obliged to you. Where is my book?"

"I suppose you can't find the place where I was reading?" said the lady. "No, of course not; boys are so stupid. What sort of place are you looking for?"

"Any place," replied Nora. "Any place is no place," said the lady. "You ought to know your own mind. Are you going along this road?"

"Oh, yes, ma'am," said Nora, as she got in and took the reins. (To be continued)

ASPIRIN Bayer advertisement. Only "Bayer" is Genuine. Warning! Take no chances with substitutes for genuine "Bayer" Tablets of Aspirin.

Elizabeth of Roumania.

Princess Elizabeth of Roumania is now a Grecian Princess, and in the course of time, may become Queen of Greece, for she has married the Crown Prince, eldest son of King Constantine, who is once more on the throne.

Princess Elizabeth on her mother's side is connected with the British Royal family, for her mother, the Queen of Roumania, was Princess Marie, daughter of the Duke of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha, who in the British peerage was Alfred, Duke of Edinburgh, second son of Her late Majesty Queen Victoria.

Princess Elizabeth on her mother's side is connected with the British Royal family, for her mother, the Queen of Roumania, was Princess Marie, daughter of the Duke of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha, who in the British peerage was Alfred, Duke of Edinburgh, second son of Her late Majesty Queen Victoria.

Princess Elizabeth on her mother's side is connected with the British Royal family, for her mother, the Queen of Roumania, was Princess Marie, daughter of the Duke of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha, who in the British peerage was Alfred, Duke of Edinburgh, second son of Her late Majesty Queen Victoria.

Princess Elizabeth on her mother's side is connected with the British Royal family, for her mother, the Queen of Roumania, was Princess Marie, daughter of the Duke of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha, who in the British peerage was Alfred, Duke of Edinburgh, second son of Her late Majesty Queen Victoria.

Princess Elizabeth on her mother's side is connected with the British Royal family, for her mother, the Queen of Roumania, was Princess Marie, daughter of the Duke of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha, who in the British peerage was Alfred, Duke of Edinburgh, second son of Her late Majesty Queen Victoria.

Princess Elizabeth on her mother's side is connected with the British Royal family, for her mother, the Queen of Roumania, was Princess Marie, daughter of the Duke of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha, who in the British peerage was Alfred, Duke of Edinburgh, second son of Her late Majesty Queen Victoria.

Fourteen Hours in Coffin

A remarkable case from burial alive is given in the London organ of the Medical Research Committee, as follows: On October 27, 1919, a hospital nurse of Charlottenburg, Prussia, aged twenty-three, took morphine and veronal, where she became unconscious. The temperature was low and the atmosphere damp and chilly.

"Dear me," said the lady, in by no means a startled voice, but as one who merely comments on an ordinary occurrence. "Where did you come from, boy?"

"I was sitting there by the wayside," she added; she added "ma'am" as pertly as she could. "But why did you frighten Jacky?" demanded the lady placidly.

"Nonsense!" said the lady. "Jacky never stumbles. He must have caught sight of you suddenly; he is very easily startled; he is so young. What are you doing here? Where are you going?"

"I don't know," replied Nora wearily, wishing that she did. "I am looking for a situation."

"You won't find it by the roadside," remarked the lady. "Well, I am much obliged to you. Where is my book?"

"I suppose you can't find the place where I was reading?" said the lady. "No, of course not; boys are so stupid. What sort of place are you looking for?"

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Do you know that by far the larger number of the common ailments of women are not surgical ones; that they are not caused by any serious displacement, tumor, growth, or other marked change?

Do you know that these common ailments produce symptoms that are very much like those caused by the more serious surgical conditions?

Do you know that many women and young girls suffer needlessly from such ailments? More than that, they endanger their health by allowing their ailments to continue and develop into something serious.

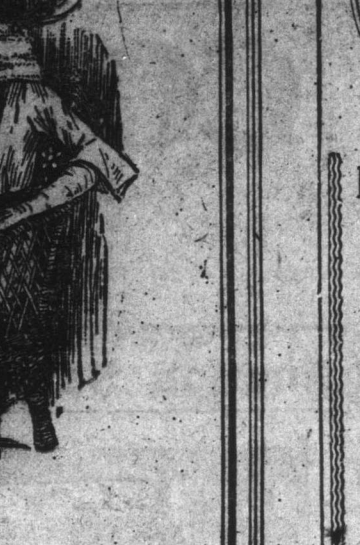

It is well known that the Queen of Roumania warmly sympathized with the Allies in their struggle to save Europe from German domination, and did much towards preventing her country from following Bulgaria.

Princess Elizabeth is the second child of the Rumanian Royal Family. The first is Carol, the Crown Prince, born on October 15, 1893; Princess Elizabeth was born on October 11, 1894. The other children of King Ferdinand are a son and two daughters.

Princess Elizabeth on her mother's side is connected with the British Royal family, for her mother, the Queen of Roumania, was Princess Marie, daughter of the Duke of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha, who in the British peerage was Alfred, Duke of Edinburgh, second son of Her late Majesty Queen Victoria.

Princess Elizabeth on her mother's side is connected with the British Royal family, for her mother, the Queen of Roumania, was Princess Marie, daughter of the Duke of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha, who in the British peerage was Alfred, Duke of Edinburgh, second son of Her late Majesty Queen Victoria.

Take It In Time!

Do you know that by far the larger number of the common ailments of women are not surgical ones; that they are not caused by any serious displacement, tumor, growth, or other marked change?

Do you know that these common ailments produce symptoms that are very much like those caused by the more serious surgical conditions?

Do you know that many women and young girls suffer needlessly from such ailments? More than that, they endanger their health by allowing their ailments to continue and develop into something serious.

It is well known that the Queen of Roumania warmly sympathized with the Allies in their struggle to save Europe from German domination, and did much towards preventing her country from following Bulgaria.

Princess Elizabeth is the second child of the Rumanian Royal Family. The first is Carol, the Crown Prince, born on October 15, 1893; Princess Elizabeth was born on October 11, 1894. The other children of King Ferdinand are a son and two daughters.

Princess Elizabeth on her mother's side is connected with the British Royal family, for her mother, the Queen of Roumania, was Princess Marie, daughter of the Duke of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha, who in the British peerage was Alfred, Duke of Edinburgh, second son of Her late Majesty Queen Victoria.

Princess Elizabeth on her mother's side is connected with the British Royal family, for her mother, the Queen of Roumania, was Princess Marie, daughter of the Duke of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha, who in the British peerage was Alfred, Duke of Edinburgh, second son of Her late Majesty Queen Victoria.

DR. LEHR, Dentist

329 Water Street. SPREADING DISEASES. Defective teeth, diseased gums, discharging abscesses, gum boils are positively dangerous because of the spreading of the infection to other parts of the body; indeed that infection can spread to others. More than this, those suffering from these conditions are more likely to contract diseases entirely apart from the infections themselves.

Insure with the QUEEN

the Company having the largest number of Policy Holders in Newfoundland. Every satisfaction given in settling losses. Office: 167 Water Street, Adrain Bldg. P. O. Box 728. Telephone 658. QUEEN INS. CO. GEORGE H. HALLEY, Agent.

ORANGES! Full assortment of SUN KIST CALIFORNIA ORANGES (Just in.) 250, 200, 216, 176, 150s. Also: 100 Bxs. FANCY TABLE APPLES. 50 Bunches BANANAS.

Soper & Moore Prince Albert Tobacco. Wait from M we will Extr

Prince Albert Tobacco. Let the Grafonola Make You Friends

Prince Albert Tobacco. The quality of Prince Albert Tobacco is widely recognized as unsurpassable in merit.

Prince Albert Tobacco. The quality of Prince Albert Tobacco is widely recognized as unsurpassable in merit.

Various small advertisements on the right edge of the page, including 'Take It In Time!', 'DR. LEHR, Dentist', 'Insure with the QUEEN', 'ORANGES!', 'Soper & Moore', 'Prince Albert Tobacco', 'Let the Grafonola Make You Friends', 'ASPIRIN', 'Elizabeth of Roumania', 'U. S. Picture & Portrait Co.', 'Cash's Tobacco Store'.