THE ROARIN' GAME—CITY CURLERS LEAVE FOR BELL ISLAND.

Teams from the St. John's Curling Association left the city yesterday for Bell Island, to play the Curling Cup put up during the regime of the H. E. Cowan-A. H. Salter year. It's felt certain that the Iron Isle wielders of the stone will offer the St. John's Curlers every hospitality. We realize that both teams are comprised of true sportsmen and further do we appreciate the courtesy extended the city curlers when last we had the pleasure of visiting Bell Island to play for the trophy. Good luck to all.

THE PRESIDENT'S PRIZE.

Owing to a number of the competitors for the President's Prize being in the teams that went to Bell Island, the President's Prize was not competed for at the Curling Rink last night. This prize will be competed for later.

GOLF AT BERMUDA.

W. G. GOSLING LOSES TO PETERSON OF PHILADELPHIA.

RIDDELLS BAY, Bermuda, Feb. 21. F. J. Peterson of the Merion Cricket Club, Philadelphia, to-day fought his way into the semi-finals of the Annual Riddells Bay Championship Tournament when he defeated W. G. Gosling, St. John's, by 5 and 4. Peterson was never in trouble at any time. He took the first three holes with two pars and a birdie and after being three up at the turn he seemed to be getting stronger and ended the match at the thirteenth.

ARTHUR GOSLING IN SEMI-FINALS.

A. G. Gosling of St. John's, champion of Newfoundland, had a close call to-day when he played J. C. Bremner of Bermuda. The latter was in exceptionally fine form and hung on like a terrier. He was one down at the fifteenth when his drive found the rough and then lost the sixteenth. As the seventeenth was halved, Gosling won the match. Gosling plays Lieut. R. D. Scott, R.N., in the semi-finals to-morrow.

PEPYS BEHIND THE SCENES.

Feb. 21st.—It is but lately given out that the Egyptians make a great deal about the tomb of King Tutankh-amen, which Mr. Carter and Mr. Lord Carnarvon did discover, and do now cancel the license which Lady Carnarvon holds, for the excavation of the tomb. Methinks 'tis about time there should be an end to this King Tut business, having caused the death of a good man, in my Lord Carnarvon, and little good from it, beyond the setting of a new pattern in gowns for women. I to the Enquiry and Mr. Warren in the box to give evidence. He tells about the relief work on the pit prop account, but gives out little that is new. Mighty stormy at night, with a great fall of snow, but I to dress myself warmly and so to the Methodist College Hall to hear the debate that the M.C.L.I. has with the Llewellyn Club, and the subject that the Modern Labor Movement is injurious to the Social Order. Many good discourses made, and Commissioner Walker as judge, and decides for the M.C.L.I., albeit he says the subject impossible almost, to adequately define. So home, but find it hard going, walking in the blizzard, and one side of my face aigh frostbitten.

London Traffic

233 CHILDREN KILLED IN NINE MONTHS.

There were 478 fatal and 50,743 non-fatal accidents in the Metropolitan area during the nine months of this year ending on 30 September, an increase of 23 per cent. over 1922.

Of the 478 deaths, 337 were caused by motor-cars and vans, states a report of the Safety First Council, issued last night. Accidents in which private motor cars were involved increased by 2,866 over 1922.

"Possibly," says the Council, "the outstanding feature is the traffic fatalities in which children are the victims. In the nine months 233 were killed. Much good might be done if teachers and parents said a few words of warning."

A Snappy Rehearsal

Last evening the performers in "Able's Irish Rose" were put through their paces by Professor Hutton. He said he intended to be hypercritical and he kept his word. Not a line or scene was permitted to pass until it was just so, and at the conclusion all were tired but happy in the knowledge that they had done the thing in style. The play is sheer comedy from start to finish, with several situations of quite dramatic intensity, and the various scenes were worked up cleverly by the performers. It is the kind of thing one will want to see more than once, the manner of presentation and interpretation of the roles providing even more comedy than the lines themselves, which abound in wit. All who saw the play in New York are gathering groups of friends here to witness the local presentation, and it is a safe prediction that all who see it once will want to go again.
