Why Not Go West?

Why not go where the opportunities are for business and investment, and where you are bound to "win out," if you have energy and pluck? It is not so much the development of that country that interests one—it is the rapidity of the development. What promises to be one of the wonder cities of the West is —the business centre of the Pembina district, which has developed into a wide-awake incorporated town inside of a year, with churches, school, hotels, saw mills, stores and a board of trade. There are openings in all lines, and the more aggressive you are, the more you will be welcomed. Eager homeseekers are following the railroad and swarming into this new section, which has every advantage of soil and climate.

Entwistle, Alberta

Entwistle Has More Natural Resources Than Any Other Town in the Province of Alberta and is destined to be a big manufacturing and shipping point. Those who invest there early can figure on making quick money, based on actual achievement all through the West.

CROCKET TOO GAY FOR LONDON STREETS

"I intend to protect the women of this city from the insults of men if I can, and I fine you $10 and costs or 21 days in jail," Magistrate Love told John Crockett at the police court this morning when he found him guilty of annoying a young woman on the street yesterday.

Crockett, it was stated, walked up to a young woman he did not know and started talking to her. She ran out into the middle of the road, and when an officer remonstrated with Crockett for his conduct, the man abused the policeman. He was at once taken to the station.

Crockett recently married a young

CONTRACTORS WILL NOT BE MULCTED

Board of Health Discussed the Matter and Then Did Nothing.

WAS A HOPELESS TANGLE

Nobody Seemed Clear on the Subject, and the Easiest Way Out of the Difficulty Was Chosen.

An attempt was made yesterday afternoon to settle the dispute between the board of health and the contractors of the smallpox hospital over penalties imposed upon the latter for delay in constructing the work.

The session was a long one, and a great deal of argument was heard from all quarters. It will be remembered that the board assessed Foster & Shepherd, cement contractors, $100 for 20 days delay in construction; J. E. Showers, $30 for 16 days' delay; T. L. Partridge, $80 for 16 days' delay, and Noble & Rich, $70 for 14 days' delay. In addition Foster & Shepherd were taxed $75 for a new floor laid to replace the one laid by them.

Placing the Blame.

At the meeting yesterday the following contractors were represented: Foster & Shepherd, T. L. Partridge, J. E. Showers, G. S. Gould and the Commercial Electric Company.

The committee of the board endeavored to place the blame for the delay, but after a discussion of some length the affair became so hopelessly tangled, that they could make no headway. One contractor blamed the other, and it was impossible to place the blame where it belonged.

Will Not Collect.

It was decided to recommend to the board that the penalties be not collected. Some sharp things were said during the discussion in the board of contractors paying their respects to City Architect Nutter rather forcefully. He accused them of shirking the work and laid the blame for their apparent bad temper on what he termed the fact that he had endeavored to make them live up to their contracts.

One Firm Will Be Fined.

Foster & Shepherd will, however, be taxed $75 for the new floor. City Architect Nutter reported that he had condemned the interior of the hospital as being unsound and not according to specifications. When he found it badly built he notified the contractors to remove it. They did not comply with his request, and he called in another contractor and had the floor laid. The cost of this work was $75.

The Contractor Objects.

Mr. Foster claimed that the bill was too high, and charged that Mr. Nutter found a mistake in placing the furnace and had ordered the floor up in order to have an excavation made for it. This Mr. Nutter denied emphatically, and declared that the work was properly done. He showed some samples that did not look to be first-class cement as contracted for by the board.

Will Sue the City.

Mr. Foster, it is understood, will sue for the balance of his claim, provided the board insist that he pay the sum asked. However, it is likely the board will fight him on that.

EARL GREY IS TO BE INVITED

To Open the "Made in London" Exhibition in the Armories in April.

CONVENERS ARE NAMED

Report Presented in Regard to the Work on the Sanatorium—Ladies Are Enthusiastic.

His Excellency Earl Grey, Governor-General of Canada, will be invited to open the "Made in London" exhibit and bazaar, in aid of the London Health Association Sanatorium, to be given in the armories some time in April.

At a meeting of the women of London who are behind the project, the unanimous opinion was that Earl Grey should be invited to be present, to open the exhibition. His excellency has not been in London for some years, and the ladies considered it their duty to take in hand one that would particularly appeal to him, and they were confident that he would be present if at all possible.

Citizens Approve.

A number of ladies spoke to the motion to invite him, and declared that the suggestion had met with the approval of the citizens generally, and they hoped that the Governor-General would find it convenient to attend the exhibit.

His last visit to London has not been forgotten, and as his term may soon expire, they were hopeful that he would come to London once more.

Mrs. Adam Beck was chosen convenor of the general committee, with Mrs. George Robinson as honorary president of the "Made in London" exhibition.

The Officers.

Mrs. Harry Blackburn was made secretary, and Miss S. D. Gray, treasurer. The conveners of the several committees were named as follows:

Decorations Committee—Mrs. George Brown.
Advertising and Press Committee—Mrs. Donald McLean.
Summer Booth Committee—Mrs. F. P. Drake.
Spring Booth Committee—Mrs. John Stevely.
Autumn Booth Committee—Mrs. W. E. Robinson.
Winter Booth Committee—Mrs. Geo. Robinson.
Work Booth Committee—Mrs. Arthur Smith.
Theatre Booth Committee—Mrs. Ginge.
Orange Tree Committee—Mrs. J. W. Scandrett.

The conveners were given power to name their assistants on these committees.
