Col. Hodgins, D. O. C., Says That Negotiations Are Going on With Several Corps to Come to This City for a Big Reunion -Scheme in Connection With Mobilization of 19th Inlantry Brigade.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Hamilton, Ont., March 14.-While not yet officially announced, it is stated on good authority, says the Times, that the officers of the Thirteenth Royal Regiment are negotiating with the military authorities at Wolseley ficult to see how they can get a man Barracks, London, Ont., to arrange for the members of the local regiment to spend the 24th of May there. The various regiments at London are arranging to hold a big celebration there this year on the Queen's Birthday, and It is understood that the local regiment will take part.

Half a dozen or so regiments will be gathered together, including the Twenty-first Essex Fusiliers of Windsor. Another thing which probably prompted the local officers to look toward London as a suitable spend the holiday is that a large number of the members of the regiment have at one time or another been connected with one of the various regiments there, thus making the triu doubly interesting to them. The officers of the Ninety-first Regiment do not seem to be onsidering a holiday trip this year, at least not on the Queen's Birthday. The expense, some of the officers think, would put the regiment back considerable, and another reason is that the regiment will likely be going to Toronto next July, when Gen. French arrives to make an inspection.

Col. Hodgins, D. O. C., stated to The Advertiser that while negotiations are on to bring some regiments to London for May 24, he was not yet in a position to say the corps that will come.

"It depends entirely upon what money we are allowed," he said. "We will do the most we can with the money we are granted. We may only have one regiment here, or we may have a dozen, but we will do the best
