

RUSSIA HAVING ALL SUCCESS IN HER MOVES

News of Signal Victory Over Austrians Is Momentarily Expected.

RECENT REVERSE SLIGHT

People Not in Least Depressed by the Loss of Two Corps.

ULTIMATE VICTORY SURE

Going On to Bitter End, Content to Accept Fortunes of War.

[Canadian Press.] London, Sept. 2.—The Petrograd (St. Petersburg) correspondent of the Post sends the following on the operations on the Russian front: "Russia is scoring success after success against Austria, and is momentarily expecting news of a signal victory."

"The commander-in-chief on the Austrian front apparently plans to drive in strongly with one army from the east, starting from the Russian provinces adjoining Roumania, and in the meantime merely aims to restrain the Austrian advances into the Polish provinces, thus keeping Austria on the alert along the line of two to three hundred miles."

ON TO LEMBERG.

"While pushing temporary advances in South Poland, the Russians are fighting their way westward from Podolia and Bessarabia upon Lemberg. When they attempted to turn the Russian flank near Halycz, near the junction of the Gnila Lipa River with the Dniester, and a sanguinary fight took place there two days ago. The Austrians were signally defeated, losing 5,000 killed and many prisoners, including 32 guns, a standard and quantities of supplies."

A Desperate Attack. "Apparently the progress of the southern Russian army from Podolia in Galicia has been a series of fights on an increasing scale until a third river, known as the Foulpa, was reached. The fight for the possession of the valley of the Foulpa was severe. The Austrians had realized the strength of the Russian advance and had strongly fortified a naturally formidable position. This was carried after an obstinate fight. The Austrian force, a whole army corps, lost about half of its strength."

A Concerted Movement. "These actions occupied the Russian left, but right still being in Russian territory. It is believed that the Russian actions were part of a concerted movement with the surrounding of Lemberg as its objective, thus dealing a death blow to the Austrian defence."

More Towns Occupied.

[Canadian Press.] London, Sept. 2.—A dispatch to the Reuters Telegram Company from Petrograd (St. Petersburg) gives the following official announcement:

"The battle on the east front in the Galicia was participated in by the Twelfth Austrian corps, which had only been transferred from the Roumanian frontier on August 25. The Austrian army has been reinforced by numerous bodies of the Landsturm."

"Our troops continue the offensive increasingly and our cavalry division has penetrated farther into the interior of East Prussia, destroying means of communication. It has also occupied a station in the Koerschen region and Soldau and Sensburg. The German forces remain inactive."

Public Not Depressed.

[Canadian Press.] London, Sept. 2.—11:27 p.m.—A Reuters dispatch from Petrograd (St. Petersburg) says that the battle which has been admitted as a reverse to the Russian troops in East Prussia was fought in the Osterode on the Soldau-Nieidenburg-Osterode line.

"Public opinion, adds the dispatch, 'is not one whit depressed by what is regarded as merely a temporary check to Russian progress in this quarter. Doggedly determined to carry the war through to the end, the Russians do not admit the possibility of ultimate defeat.'"

Abandoned Guns.

London, Sept. 2.—10:12 a.m.—In a dispatch from Petrograd (St. Petersburg), dated yesterday, the correspondent of the Times quotes the message of Grand Duke Nicholas to the Emperor as follows:

"I am happy to glorify your majesty with news of the victory won by the army of Gen. Russky. After seven days of uninterrupted fighting the Austrians are retreating in complete disorder. In some cases they are running away and abandoning their guns, rifles, artillery, packs and baggage trains."

"Prior to this decisive battle, Gen. Russky's army captured in the course of the seven days 24 guns, a multitude of firearms, and a great number of machine guns."

Lemberg Destroyed.

[Canadian Press.] Paris, Sept. 2.—12:45 p.m.—A Havas Agency dispatch from Antwerp contains the following official announcement by the Belgian Government:

"The situation remains the same in the provinces of Antwerp and Limburg. The Germans have set fire to several sets of farm buildings. M. Morchten, attaché at the Russian embassy, confirms the report of the destruction of Lemberg, Cessal and Beschofsheim by Russian cavalry and also that they have broken the lines of the enemy between Hellsberg (East Prussia, 40 miles south of Koenigsberg) and Koenigsberg."

Why Allies Withdraw.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 2.—Advices of the withdrawal of the left wing of the allied troops from the east, contained in a private dispatch received at the French embassy today from Paris. The cablegram bears yesterday's date.

"On account of the turning movement of the Germans toward our left wing, and in order not to accept battle under conditions which might have been unfair, our troops withdrew toward the south and southwest," it said. "Our forces have stopped for the time being, the enemy in the Rethel region. The situation remains the same in the centre and on our right."

"An investing of Koenigsberg by Russians in Eastern Prussia is now nearly complete."

TITANIC STRUGGLE

Allies Confident. London, Sept. 2.—3:39 a.m.—The Daily News correspondent, writing from Gournay-en-Bray, a small town near Rouen, says: "The German advance is amazing. A great battle is raging, with what result I know not, but I do know that the French and British armies are intact, and still confident of ultimate success."

"Incredible as it seems, the tremendous masses of men that the Germans have hurled at the allies have not overwhelmed them. It seems that while the Germans have the weight, the allies certainly have the wit and science, and these with reinforcements will eventually win."

"Gen. Pau had fine success, but in the centre and left centre the allies were not so successful, being obliged to retire. As a result of Sunday's battle the Germans now occupy (name of town deleted by censor) Confidence."

In spite of the fact that the French capital has been removed to Bordeaux, and that the German army of the west is within 100 miles of the outer fortifications of Paris, a strange air of confidence prevails today among the allies.

The general feeling seems to be that the German advance is wearing itself out in hammering away at the allied lines, which give, but do not break.

President Poincaré has issued a proclamation to the people, telling them that military necessity alone has led him to remove his Government to Bordeaux. Military experts agree that Paris will soon be the theatre of the hostile forces in the area of the west. Even the downfall of the French capital is not expected to end these operations.

Greatest Confidence.

The feeling of confidence was greatly increased by the news of the great victory of the Russians in Galicia. Reports from Petrograd (St. Petersburg) tell of the entry of Russian troops into the capital of Galicia. This appears credible, as news of the defeat of the Austrians in that district has been received from several sources.

The battle of Lemberg probably was the greatest ever fought. Evidently it resulted in a decisive and perhaps overwhelming defeat of the Austrians. The battle line extended over 200 miles, and is estimated that 1,500,000 men were engaged.

Took Seven Days.

According to official dispatch received by Emperor Nicholas from Grand Duke Nicholas, commander-in-chief of the Russian forces, the victory was won after seven days of fighting. The climax came when the Austrians were routed in a final desperate assault on the Russian centre, which was held by Gen. Russky.

The Austrian army in Galicia was acting in close co-operation with two German army corps facing Breslau and seeking to envelop the Russian forces. The Russian forces, however, met with a series of disasters, ending in a complete rout when an attempt was made to pierce the Russian centre.

Western Situation.

In the west the line now held by the left flank of the allies in the valley of the Oise runs diagonally from a point northeast of Paris to the town of Compiègne. North of Compiègne, 140 miles northeast of Paris, the right of the allies rests on the fortified town of the German frontier.

The names of the British who fell in the four-day battle last week will be announced today. The names of the British who fell in the four-day battle last week will be announced today. The names of the British who fell in the four-day battle last week will be announced today.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Ingersoll, Sept. 2.—A plumber's torch was responsible for a fire today at the residence of E. De Witt Witt, corner of Womman and Francis streets. The firemen rendered effective service and neighbors worked heroically in removing part of the contents. The damage will amount to several hundred dollars.

CHINA NEUTRALITY IS TRANSGRESSED

Foreign Diplomats Informed That Germany, Japan and Great Britain Are All at Fault.

[Canadian Press.] London, Sept. 2.—(Delayed.)—Prince Frederick William of Lippe took his own life, following a mistake of his own making, according to Lady Randolph Churchill, who just arrived here from Germany, coming by way of Holland.

"The true story of the death of Prince Frederick William of Lippe," she said, "is that he committed suicide. He was commanding a German cavalry regiment before Liege on August 4, when his regiment, in the darkness of evening, nearly annihilated a German infantry regiment, which it had mistaken for Belgians. The prince shot himself, fearing to face the anger of Emperor William. His widow, with whom I am acquainted, was informed of his death on August 14."

The British regiments, which are expected to take part in the invasion of Tsing-Tau, are still at Tien-Tsin.

The foreign diplomats here that Germany, Japan and Great Britain were transgressing China's neutrality in Shantung Province, and at the same time expressed regret that China was unable to prevent such transgression.

The note continues with these words: "But it is still incumbent upon the belligerent powers to respect the territorial and administrative rights of China and all persons and properties within the area defined above."

DIRECTOR OF CASINO ARRESTED AS SPY

Well-Known Monte Carlo Man Had Many Plans.

[Canadian Press.] London, Sept. 2.—Advices received in London from Monte Carlo contain the following news: "M. Kutz, one of the four directors of the Casino, who has been very much trusted here, and also has an estate agency at Beaulieu, has been arrested on suspicion of being a spy. He was found on him, and with him were found plans for the invasion of France. The Casino is closed."

Lung-Kow is a new Chinese port, situated 100 miles north of Tsing-Tau, in Kiao Chow.

Between 6,000 and 15,000 Japanese troops had been landed at Lung-Kow previous to today. The Japanese control the telegraph lines out of Lung-Kow.

JAPAN LENDS MORE MEN AT LUNG-KOW

[Canadian Press.] Che Foo, China, Sept. 2.—5:20 p.m.—Japan landed 4,500 additional men at Lung-Kow today. Of these forces 530 men are marines, the others being soldiers.

FOODSTUFFS CHEAP IN VIENNA AT PRESENT

[Canadian Press.] Vienna, via Copenhagen and London, Sept. 2.—3 a.m.—Although the war has now lasted more than a month, the prices of foodstuffs in Vienna have not increased, and in some cases even are lower than last year. Meat, eggs, lard and several other commodities are cheaper, while wheat, sugar and flour are unchanged. Butter and oil are slightly higher in price. The Minister of Agriculture declares that supplies of foodstuffs are ample. The number of cattle and the amount of dairy products available is much greater, the minister stated, than ordinarily, because exportations have ceased.

Vienna is absolutely quiet, with few indications that a great war is in progress.

RED CROSS WOMAN WAS SUBJECT TO INSULTS

LONDON, Sept. 2.—Mrs. Stobart, who went to Brussels in the middle of August to establish a hospital under the auspices of the Belgian Red Cross, has returned to London after a thrilling experience. While trying to get the Belgian Red Cross through the German lines she was arrested, with her party, outside of Louvain, and taken in a cool truck to Tongres, where she and her party were subjected to insulting treatment as a suspected spy at the hands of the German officers.

Mrs. Stobart and her party spent the night in a guard room, expecting to be shot in the morning. They were, however, sent to Cologne. They were then taken to Brussels, where they were mobbed by crowds of howling German soldiers at Liege, Aachen and other stopping places. They were finally liberated and escaped the horrors of Holland, after encountering many difficulties.

WHAT WILL U. S. A. DO ABOUT OUTRAGES?

British Paper Says Belgian Mission Is Well Justified.

[Canadian Press.] London, Sept. 2.—The Chronicle, in an editorial on the Belgian mission to the United States, says that the mission is well justified. The sending of the Belgian mission to the United States seems a well-justified step, for obviously the United States has a definite though distant responsibility toward the civilized world in this matter. The observance of the international rules of war can only be enforced by the action of neutral states.

In the face of the German Government's frank violation of nearly every article in the Hague convention, what is the United States going to do?

ITALIANS COMPLAIN OF LONDON SLOWNESS

Dispatches Arrive After Germany's Result Is Bad Impression.

[Canadian Press.] London, Sept. 2.—3:35 p.m.—Delayed. The Evening News publishes the following dispatch from its correspondent at Milan:

"Italian newspaper correspondents are complaining of the great delay in transmission of telegrams from London to Italy. These messages take from twenty to thirty hours to come through, while press telegrams from Rome take only a few hours to reach Italy. As a result the German versions of events always precedes the Italian version and influences Italian opinion to such an extent that first impressions are often wrong. The Germans are most detrimental and difficult to correct."

"The English authorities in their own interests should give more facilities to Italian correspondents in London."

NEWFOUNDLAND WILL REGULATE FOOD PRICES

Special Session of Legislature Will Deal Too With Moratorium.

[Canadian Press.] ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Sept. 2.—The session of the Legislature opened this afternoon. The Governor's speech stated that the purpose of the session was to enact bills for the financing of a regiment, insuring public safety by providing a moratorium if necessary; also for the regulation of prices of commodities, and for enabling the Government to appoint a commission to investigate last winter's inadequate supplies, for which no measure had been taken.

The Opposition approves of the Government's measures and session will likely close Saturday.

The enlistment of a regiment of 500 men which the Government offered the Imperial authorities now from the eastern district return from the fisheries they will probably swell the number to 1,000 or more.
