CITY MUST COME TO AID OR TAKE OVER RAILWAY

Sir Adam Beck Declares the L. and P. S. Needs Credit of $50,000.

INCOME REDUCED Move 1925 Council Be Asked To Establish Fund For

Line.

The city of London must secure redit of $50,000 for the London & Port Stanley railway or the company will have to hand back to the council the operation of the road. Such was the statement of Sir Adam Beck, chairman of the London railway commission, at the December meeting that body today. With earnings of 1924 showing a considerable de crease over the same period of las year and economy exercised in ever department, Sir Adam Beck declare.

Labor representative, moved that the Labor representative, moved that the 1925 council be asked to establish a line of credit with the city bankers to look after the probable deficit of 1924 in the operation of the road. While it is altogether likely that there will be a deficit this year, the amount will not be known until the end of December
