The Toronto musonic tample scheme fails to arouse enthusiasm. the defendants take that risk. It seems to be hazardons for me to interiore at this stage. To my mid the plaintiffs do not appear to have clothed themselves with corporate powers, and therefore could not enter into a contract as a company. But if they had been wrongfully dealt with they could enter an action against the city and recover damages to the amount of their loses. I cannot admit that there was a contract in existence, as Mr. Lefroy so ingeniously wished to show. By the terms of the advertisement calling for the tenders the usual but unnecessary condition. The lowest or any tender not necessary condition, the lowest or any tender not necessary lacetyled, was inserted. The city council was not bound to accept either one contract or the other. It could have refused both. As for a scientific test of the lights by experis or engineers. I cannot see that it should be of a confidential character. The plaintiff countries. The lights of both companies, however, had undergone a popular test. The citizens and the aldermen had seen them burn nightly. The aldermen came to the decision, from their own personal judgment of the lights, that those of the defendant company were the best and awarded them the contract on its merits. I will therefore dissolve the injunction with costs."

Evidence—The Mongolians Must be Regulated. Attached to the Grand Trunk train which arrived from the west at 7.30 last night was a government private car containing Hon. Mr. Chapleau and Mr. Davin, of the Chinese coumission, who were on their way home from the Pacific slope. Both gentlemen seemed to be in good health and to have enjoyed their trip. They left Victoria on Aug. 25 and came over the Northern Pacific. They were twenty erable time in San Francisco and other cities and towns in the United States. In conversa and towns in the United States. In conversation with a World reporter at the station last night Mr. Davir said that while in British Columbia he made arrangements for the meeting of the commission, made appointments with witnesses, and corresponded with persons likely to give information. Some three or four days after the commission arrived in Victoria, the commission was f-rmaily opened by Mr.
Davin reading the commission. Mr. Davin attended all but two meetings of the commission. He arranged with Mr. enderdonk for a trip up the Fraser river, and made a vo-age of several days. Attended the court house at Nanaimo, and came back and was present at Nanaimo, and came back and was present at a banquet given in honor of the commission.
At the banquet in reply to the toast of the evening "our eastern guests," he spoke at length dweiling on the national future before Canada once the railway was computed. He, was cheered from the mement he rose until he concluded. At this banquet were all the leading nien of Victoria—bankers, merchants, members of parliament, senators and mintary men.

That does not look, said the reporter as if He lodged with Mrs. Wilkie at 1.8 Victoria street. Considerable enquiries have been made by various parties for him but no one as yet is able to get upon his track. A World repo ter learned that he had apologized to Mrs. Wilkie on Monday last for groaning in his room, the cause of which he said was business troubles. Mr. Milloy, it appears, speculated a great deal in American stocks, a d was a constant watcher of the ticker in the offices of the brokers. He was a frequent customer at the bucket shop of Griffin & Co., in the Leader lane, where it is said he has lost a considerable amount of money of late. His favorite form of speculation was in "purs and calls" on New York. He is a tall, slim man, were light tweed clothes, dark side whiskers, and Irish features.

Various conjectures were offered last night as to where Mr. Milloy had gone, some even going so far as to say that he might have made away with himself, but nothing defin te could be learned. He was a graduate of the university of Toronto, having taken his degree in 1870. John Manion, better known as "Skip," a candy butcher on the Grand Trunk railway, took supper at Staneland's last night. He endered a $5 note in payment for a 35 cent check, and received $1.65 in change. A little

The R. C. Yacht Dinner. The annual ante-regatta dinner of the Royal Canadian yacht club came off last night at the club house with more than usual colat. The chair was taken by Commodore John Leys, ir., and the toasts of the Queen. Prince of Wales Pressident of the United States, Lake Yacht Racing Association. The Representatives of the Sister Clubs, The Pres. The Guests and The Ladies were duly homered amid songs from the company. The toast of The Ro, al Canadian Yacht Club brought Com. Leys, ex-Com. Boswell and Hon. Secy. Grasett to their feet and excellent speeches from each. The party separated about midnight after spending, as admitted by ail, one of the pleasantest evenings ever known in the annals of the Royal Canadian Yacht club.

The Police Games. The Police Games.

To-day the police games come off at the Jarvis street lacrosse grounds. The great event, of course, will be the tug-of-war between the Buffalo and Toronto police forces. The Buffalo men will arrive this morning, accompanied by a large number of Biscas. The Toronto team will be composed of MaCrea, Dodds. Patterson and Stormont (anchor), captained by Serst. Stark. A junior team, twelve in number, under the explaincy of Policeman Porter, will pull against a dozen men from the infantry school.
