The reports of the city officials are not ready. Ald. PROTECTION OF OCEAN ROUTES.

The Basis of a Lasting Union Between England and America.

NEW YORK, Feb. 26.—Sir George S. Clarke, K.C.M.G., a distinguished officer of the English army, now located in Malta, in the course of an article in the March numthe course of an article in the March num-ber of The North American Review, pub-lished to-day, replying to Mr. Andrew Carnegie's suggestion of a union between England and the United States, says the importance of the United States, says the importance of the United States as a market for the products of British industry has been well pointed out by Mr. Carnegie, but the involved complexity of business relations brought about by the free transference of capital from one country to the other defies all estimate. Only disaster to either, which must never come, would reveal the full extent of our mutual inde-

Considering the enormousness of the commerce between the two nations, Sir George Clarke suggested that it is of su-preme importance to both that the ocean routes of the world should be inviolate and lable, and here, he thinks, is a basis for union which will endure. St. Joseph's, Leslie-street.

The musical vespers and lecture are the always interesting subject to the Christian. "The Roman Catacombs," on Sunday even ing last at St. Joseph's Church, Lesliestreet, were quite successful, judging by the fete en scene. The choir of the church, assisted by Mr. Tomney, Mrs. Petley and Miss Herson, did justice to the musical portion of the service, whilst Rov. Dr. Tracey of St. Mary's, city, entertained his audience with a vivid and interesting decription of the history of the trials of the early church in connection with his subject. He depicted the object of St. Peter's coming to Rome and his life in the city of the Cæsars, his martyrdom and that of his co-laborer, St. Paul, the persecu-tion of the church under the Emperors, the catacombs as the last resting place of the martyrs, the lite of the church in and her offering of the sacrifice of the mass in the Catacombs; the various inscriptions on the tombs of the martyrs found therein a living proof of the identity of the Catholic faith of the first and nineteenth centuries. The rev. lecturer riveted the attention of his audience to his subject in all its details for nearly an hour, and all returned to their homes after service edified and instructed.

NEW YORK, Feb. 26.—The British steamer Moonstone, which arrived last night from Pernambuco, sailed from that port Jan. 26. Capt. Laverick brings no news of a special nature, and had nothing new to say concerning the state of affairs at that port. The city, as already reported, is still under martial law. The torpedo boat Destroyer was the only war vessel in the inner harbor, the rest of the fleet having gone south some time previously. The people dare not openly express their opinions on shore, being fearful of arrest by the authorities. The prisons are already full of prisoners, arrested for talking in the streets, and with others who appeared to take sides with the rebels.

Previous to the loyal fleet starting south

Previous to the loyal fleet starting south all the laborers, longshoremen and others were seized and put on board these vessels to man them. There had been no conflict on shore. Business was fair. The people are very anxious for a speedy settlement of the war one way or another. Electrocated at Sing Sing.

been placed in the electrical chair Warden Durston gave a signal and Electrician Davis turned on the current of 1740 volts. The form in the chair jumped upwards, straining at the straps as the current passed through it. At the end of three seconds the current was reduced to 400 volts. It was kept at that 55 seconds, and then shut off entirely. The doctors expressed the opinion that the man was killed by the first shock.

Such habits result in loss of manly power, wreck the constitution and sometimes produce softening of the brain, epilepsy, paralysis, and even dread insanity.

To reach, re-claim and restore such unfortunates to health and happiness, is the aim of the publishers of a book written in plain but chaste language, on the nature, symptoms and curability, by home treatment, of such diseases. Goods received and returned per express. holders. Oats declined moderately, the whole market being pretty soft at times,
Provisions weak. The opening was easier on a heavy run of hogs longs let go through. Commission houses and packers bought lard quite liberally on the first break, but later through brokers. The trade seems to be enlarging. There was a good general business to-day. Liberal receipts of hogs this week are expected, and the effect has doubtless already been felt in to-day's trade. The purchase of pork and lard on further declines ought to be profitable.

Schwartz, Dupee & Co. wired Dixon: With the exception of decrease in the visible to-day's news on wheat was bearish. The lowest prices for May were on the announcement that Hatch had succeeded in taking his anti-option measure from a committee supposed to be hostile to it, and in sending it to his own committee, the Agricultural. Cabies were weak. There was an increase on passage of almost 900,000 bushels. The local stock, 21,992,000 bushels. Exports were moderate, less than 300,000 bushels. The western weather was almost spring-like. Private crop reports from Missouri, Illinois and Michigan were favorable. Corn was lower, influenced by the decline in wheat, large receipts, favorable weather and by an increase in the local stocks of over 1,000,000 bushels. The visible increased 385,000 bushels. Theyovisions worked lower again to-day. Receipts of hogs exceeded the estimate, and weak grain markets had some influence. Lard was offered quite freely for near deliveries. It is a question of hogs now, and if we are to have a further increase in receipts in March, as many well-posted people predict, we will have lower prices for product.
