

Bourgeois, by Mr. Colbert, the minister at Court. - The King of France grants all she desires. - Six other generous companions. Bishop de Laval. - The Baron de Fancamp and his statue. - Confidence in God. - Our Lady Queen of Ville-Marie..... 95

CHAPTER ELEVENTH.

Notre-Dame de Bonsecours. - Devotion of the people to this shrine. - The powerful intercession of Our Lady of Bonsecours, first manifested in favor of a Sister of the Congregation. - The bell of Bonsecours church. - Sister Morin and the Hospital Nuns. - The miraculous Statue. - Bishop de Laval visits Ville-Marie. - His pastoral letter. - Rules for the Congregation. - Sister Bourgeois desires to give up all her claims to the Superiority, and assembles the Sisters for this purpose, before returning to France..... 105

CHAPTER TWELFTH.

Sister Bourgeois' confidence in God, calms the fears of those around her at sea. - Other trials. - Burning of the Convent. Two of the Sisters perish in the flames. - Sister Bourgeois' resignation in this hour of sacrifice. - The Ursulines of Quebec. Sister Bourgeois' firmness saves her Congregation. - Her words, when giving the Habit of the Congregation to a novice. Bishop de Saint Vallier, second Bishop of Quebec..... 118

CHAPTER THIRTEENTH.

The mission of the mountain. - Encouragement given to this enterprise by the King of France. - Marie Barbe Attontinon and Marie Theresa Ganensagouas, the Iroquois Sisters. - Marie Barbier. - The old stone towers. - Other missions, - How the Sisters lived in these primitive missions. - The House of Providence in Quebec. - Sister Bourgeois opens parochial schools in this city. Holy Thursday, - Confidence in God rewarded 127

CHAPTER FOURTEENTH.

Sister Bourgeois' spirit of mortification. - Imitation of the Blessed Virgin in her outward appearance. - Special favors received from Heaven. - The pious foundress erects a church contiguous to her Congregation. - Miss LeBer's generosity. - The Hotel-Dieu destroyed by fire. - Miss LeBer consummates her heroic sacrifice. - Sister Bourgeois' impressions at the sight of the three different vocations of holy women, now dwelling within her Congregation..... 144

CHAPTER FIFTEENTH.

The Congregation of Notre-Dame in 1690. - The interior world of suffering. - Sister Bourgeois' way of the cross. - Strange illu-