

JUNE MEETING.

The brethren and friends are reminded that the meeting this year will be held in Oshawa village, commencing Friday, 8th June. Brother A. P. Jones, of Lancaster, N. Y., nothing unusual preventing, will be in attendance. It is expected that brethren from all the churches in the province will assemble on the occasion. From Picton to Norwich, from Wainfleet to St. Vincent, may we not anticipate a full specimen of brethren present? Brethren and friends, let us have a good meeting.

ITEMS.

CORRESPONDENTS, who, during our absence, have been unavoidably neglected, will yet be respected.

THE MONTREAL REGISTER is thankfully acknowledged as an Exchange.

BIBLE ADVOCATE, St. Louis, one copy—the January Number—received.

THE BRITISH MILLENNIAL HARBINGER, Nottingham, England, by J. Wallis, has arrived in safety, and it will afford us much pleasure to exchange. The January, February, and March Numbers have come to hand. A letter to the Editor is in contemplation.

✍️ Poetry forwarded by A. F., Harmony, although long omitted, may still be expected to appear.

✍️ On what terms can J. Buchanan, Esq., Niagara Falls, furnish a Sunday School in Oshawa with Bibles?

OBITUARY.

DIED. at her residence on Friday morning, February 16th, aged 34 years, sister Mary Stewart, consort of brother John Stewart, Eramosa. The wife, the mother, the daughter, the sister, and the friend are all perished by a single stroke of death. A month ago our dear sister's cheeks wore her native England's rosiest hue—they suddenly assumed a fatal fever's deeper glow, and now are cold and pale in death.

“Health and vigor soon must flee,
 Blooming beauty loose its charms;
 All that's mortal soon must be,
 Enclosed in Death's cold arms.”

D. F. S.

We sincerely sympathize with our brother J. Stewart in this severe trial. His loss, in this life, is irreparable. Youth, beauty, health, and vigor have no power to stay the ravages of death; and O may we who are yet with the living, remember, each for himself, that the words are still true, “Dust thou art, and unto dust thou shalt return.” May Israel's God, who does not willingly afflict, sanctify to our brother this most poignant stroke.
