

FOR AND ABOUT WOMEN.

Marrying a Man to Reform Him—The Folly of It—Dresses That Wear for Twelve Years—A Woman Lawyer in Wisconsin—When Girls Should be Silent.

Don't MARRY HIM to Reform Him. Don't marry a man to reform him! To God and your own self be true.

No matter how fervent his pleadings, Be not by his promises led. He can't be a man while a woman, He'll never be one when he's wed.

Don't marry a man to reform him—To repeat it, alas, when too late; The mission of wives least successful: In the making of crooked limbs straight.

There's many a maiden has tried it, And proved it a failure at last; Better tread your life's pathway alone, dear, Than wed with a lover that's "fast."

Mankind's much the same the world over; When exceptions you'll find are but few; When the rule is defeat and disaster, The chances are great against you.

Don't trust your bright hopes for the future, The beautiful crown of your youth, To the keeping of him who holds lightly His fair name of honor and truth.

To "honor and love" you must promise; Don't pledge what you cannot fulfill; If he'll have no respect for himself, dear, Most surely you, then, never will.

'Tis told us the crown of a woman Is as hard as the blow of a man, And the world will be better when women Frown on error as hard as they can.

Make virtue the pride of your favor; Place wrong doing under a ban; And let him who would win you and wed you Prove himself in full measure a man!

Dresses That Wear for Twelve Years. In Wales the country people collect the wool for their garments themselves from the blackberry bushes, gorse, and hedgerows.

When Girls Should be Silent. Would a well-bred girl, possessed of any feeling whatever, possessed of the slightest sensibility or sense, divulge the fact that she had refused him?

A Woman Lawyer in Wisconsin. A crowd of men and women filled the Supreme Court room at Madison, Wis., recently, piqued with curiosity to see and hear the first woman lawyer who ever appeared before the Supreme Tribunal of that State.

A Little Roman Girl Buried for Centuries With Her Doll. In May last the workmen who were digging the foundation for the new law courts in Rome, discovered a sarcophagus buried 30 feet below the surface.

With a skeleton of a young girl, says the Youth's Companion, with the remains of the linen in which she had been wrapped, and some brown leaves from the myrtle wreath with which, emblematic of her youth, she had been crowned in death.

On her hands were four rings, of which one was the double betrothal ring of plain gold, and another with Eileuth, the name of her betrothed, engraved upon it.

But what is most strange, as being almost unique, was a doll of oak wood, beautifully carved, the joints articulated so that the legs and arms and hands move on sockets, and the hands and feet daintily out with small and delicate nails.

On the outside of the sarcophagus was sculptured her name, Tryphana Orperia, and a touching scene, doubtless faithfully representing her parting with her parents. She is lying on a low bed, and striving to kiss herself on her left arm to speak to her heart-broken father, who stands leaning on her bedstead, his head bowed with grief, while her mother sits on the bed, her head covered, weeping.

Something About Shoes. A woman who understands the economy of dress will never buy a cheap pair of shoes. No poorer investment can be made, for besides giving out in shorter time than a first-class article, it will look shabby and worn long before it should be so.

to those made of French kid, which every little bruise and touch turns purple. A rule observed by many women, and a good one it proves, too, is never to wear a street shoe in the house. It receives harder treatment, strange to say, from numerous inevitable collisions with articles of furniture than it would find in double the amount of street wear.

Italian Women Use Peach Leaves for Combs and Medicines. Italian women have been collecting peach leaves in South Brooklyn during the past few weeks, their object being to concoct out of the dried leaves a tonic, which may be used either with food or as medicine.

It is now undergoing a general test, and is expected to be on the market by Christmas. Mr. Davis is conducting this invention himself.

OTTAWA'S COUNT. A Recent Capital Society Favorite Comes to Grief in New York. NEW YORK, October 3.—On Thursday evening last a well-dressed and well-educated young man drove up to the Century club in a cab, and presenting to the manager a note bearing the signature of Mr. L. D. Meskill, editor of the North River bank, asked for a check for $400 on the North River bank, which also bore Mr. Meskill's name.

THE PAPER READER. One of the most interesting and valuable historical reviews of the Pope's temporal power, which have been published for many years, was the paper read by Mr. W. J. Sparrow, L.L.D., at the conference of the Catholic Young Men's Society of England, in Hull, on August 5th, before a large audience of representative clergy and laity.

When Peppin drove out the Lombards, we are expressly told that he made restitution to the Church and the Commonwealth of the city of Rome of the territory that had been wrongfully taken from them by the Lombards. Again, when Charlemagne delivered Rome from its foes, he expressly declared that he restored it not to the Pope, but to the Church.

When Britain was a mixture of swamp and forest and while the painted savages wandered and fought, the Vicar of Christ was a temporal prince. If there be any property sacred upon this earth the patrimony of the Church is pre-eminently sacred.

When Britain was a mixture of swamp and forest and while the painted savages wandered and fought, the Vicar of Christ was a temporal prince. If there be any property sacred upon this earth the patrimony of the Church is pre-eminently sacred.

When Britain was a mixture of swamp and forest and while the painted savages wandered and fought, the Vicar of Christ was a temporal prince. If there be any property sacred upon this earth the patrimony of the Church is pre-eminently sacred.

When Britain was a mixture of swamp and forest and while the painted savages wandered and fought, the Vicar of Christ was a temporal prince. If there be any property sacred upon this earth the patrimony of the Church is pre-eminently sacred.

When Britain was a mixture of swamp and forest and while the painted savages wandered and fought, the Vicar of Christ was a temporal prince. If there be any property sacred upon this earth the patrimony of the Church is pre-eminently sacred.

When Britain was a mixture of swamp and forest and while the painted savages wandered and fought, the Vicar of Christ was a temporal prince. If there be any property sacred upon this earth the patrimony of the Church is pre-eminently sacred.

When Britain was a mixture of swamp and forest and while the painted savages wandered and fought, the Vicar of Christ was a temporal prince. If there be any property sacred upon this earth the patrimony of the Church is pre-eminently sacred.

When Britain was a mixture of swamp and forest and while the painted savages wandered and fought, the Vicar of Christ was a temporal prince. If there be any property sacred upon this earth the patrimony of the Church is pre-eminently sacred.

When Britain was a mixture of swamp and forest and while the painted savages wandered and fought, the Vicar of Christ was a temporal prince. If there be any property sacred upon this earth the patrimony of the Church is pre-eminently sacred.

THE TEMPORAL POWER

The Pope Claims His Dominions by Titles Such as no Other Sovereign Can Show.

The Church and the State—The Bonaparte was Divine not Human—An Able Statement and Established Facts.

One of the most interesting and valuable historical reviews of the Pope's temporal power, which have been published for many years, was the paper read by Mr. W. J. Sparrow, L.L.D., at the conference of the Catholic Young Men's Society of England, in Hull, on August 5th, before a large audience of representative clergy and laity.

The following is the most important portion of this address: For 300 years the Christians continued to be the most loyal of the subjects of the empire, and in all things lawful to render obedience to the Emperor of Rome.

For 300 years the Christians continued to be the most loyal of the subjects of the empire, and in all things lawful to render obedience to the Emperor of Rome.

For 300 years the Christians continued to be the most loyal of the subjects of the empire, and in all things lawful to render obedience to the Emperor of Rome.

For 300 years the Christians continued to be the most loyal of the subjects of the empire, and in all things lawful to render obedience to the Emperor of Rome.

For 300 years the Christians continued to be the most loyal of the subjects of the empire, and in all things lawful to render obedience to the Emperor of Rome.

For 300 years the Christians continued to be the most loyal of the subjects of the empire, and in all things lawful to render obedience to the Emperor of Rome.

For 300 years the Christians continued to be the most loyal of the subjects of the empire, and in all things lawful to render obedience to the Emperor of Rome.

For 300 years the Christians continued to be the most loyal of the subjects of the empire, and in all things lawful to render obedience to the Emperor of Rome.

For 300 years the Christians continued to be the most loyal of the subjects of the empire, and in all things lawful to render obedience to the Emperor of Rome.

For 300 years the Christians continued to be the most loyal of the subjects of the empire, and in all things lawful to render obedience to the Emperor of Rome.

For 300 years the Christians continued to be the most loyal of the subjects of the empire, and in all things lawful to render obedience to the Emperor of Rome.

For 300 years the Christians continued to be the most loyal of the subjects of the empire, and in all things lawful to render obedience to the Emperor of Rome.

For 300 years the Christians continued to be the most loyal of the subjects of the empire, and in all things lawful to render obedience to the Emperor of Rome.

For 300 years the Christians continued to be the most loyal of the subjects of the empire, and in all things lawful to render obedience to the Emperor of Rome.

For 300 years the Christians continued to be the most loyal of the subjects of the empire, and in all things lawful to render obedience to the Emperor of Rome.

For 300 years the Christians continued to be the most loyal of the subjects of the empire, and in all things lawful to render obedience to the Emperor of Rome.

For 300 years the Christians continued to be the most loyal of the subjects of the empire, and in all things lawful to render obedience to the Emperor of Rome.

For 300 years the Christians continued to be the most loyal of the subjects of the empire, and in all things lawful to render obedience to the Emperor of Rome.

For 300 years the Christians continued to be the most loyal of the subjects of the empire, and in all things lawful to render obedience to the Emperor of Rome.

For 300 years the Christians continued to be the most loyal of the subjects of the empire, and in all things lawful to render obedience to the Emperor of Rome.

For 300 years the Christians continued to be the most loyal of the subjects of the empire, and in all things lawful to render obedience to the Emperor of Rome.

For 300 years the Christians continued to be the most loyal of the subjects of the empire, and in all things lawful to render obedience to the Emperor of Rome.

For 300 years the Christians continued to be the most loyal of the subjects of the empire, and in all things lawful to render obedience to the Emperor of Rome.

For 300 years the Christians continued to be the most loyal of the subjects of the empire, and in all things lawful to render obedience to the Emperor of Rome.

For 300 years the Christians continued to be the most loyal of the subjects of the empire, and in all things lawful to render obedience to the Emperor of Rome.

For 300 years the Christians continued to be the most loyal of the subjects of the empire, and in all things lawful to render obedience to the Emperor of Rome.

IRISH MARRIAGES AND DEATHS.

MARRIED. GROSSIN—BONNIE—Sept. 12, at St. Patrick's church, Cork, P. O. O'Brien, the youngest son of Denis Grossin. P. O'Brien, Postmaster, to Katie Marie, eldest daughter of John Bourke, Shanallymore.

COSTELLO—FRANK—August 28, at the Dominican church, Limerick, by the Rev. M. Ryan, O.C.O. of Oola, assisted by the Rev. M. Ryan, M.B. O'Brien, cousin of the bride, Richard L. Costello, of Battersbury, Postmaster, Limerick Junction, to Ellie Josephine, youngest daughter of the late Edmund Frewen, Barronstown, Tipperary.

ENNIS—BRADY—September 4, at St. Patrick's, Monkstown, county Dublin, Edward H. Ennis, Barrister-at-law, Dublin, to Mary, eldest daughter of the late Simon J. Brady, of Kingstown.

HOXY—BURGESS—September 5, at the pro-Cathedral, Marlborough street, Dublin, Patrick Joseph, eldest son of the late Martin Hoxey, to Teresa, eldest daughter of the late R. Charles Burgess, both of Dublin.

MOORE—O'CONNOR—Sept. 12, at St. Stephen's church, Dublin, the Rev. William Richard Moore, B.A., Rector of Carrick of Shannon, son of William M. Moore, Solicitor, Waterloo road, Dublin, to Lily Darcy, eldest daughter of the late Gore Gregory Cochrane, of Dromard, county Fermanagh.

O'DONNELL—FRANCIS—At the parish church, Ballymore, Co. Mayo, Francis, third son of Francis O'Donnell, Constable, to Kathleen Charlotte, younger daughter of Stephen F. Prince, Ballymore.

ROUGHAN—O'ROURKE—Sept. 1, at Killargue chapel, Patrick Roughan, Carney county Sligo, to Bridget, daughter of Hugh O'Rourke, Arghavilla, Carrigallen, county Leitrim.

SEATER—STAFFORD—Sept. 4, at the church of Saint Michan, North Anne street, Dublin, by the Rev. Father Dudley, O.C., Nicholas James Seater, eldest son of James Seater, Hamilton Arms Hotel, Balbriggan, to Mary Josephine, eldest daughter of Laurence Stafford, of Baidyole, 40 East Arran street, Dublin.

SWENNEY—MCBRIDE—September 4, at Saint Finian's church, Falcarragh, P. J. Swenney, Constabulary, Tyrone, to Bridget McBride, youngest daughter of Manus McBride, merchant, Falcarragh.

DIED. ATKIN—September 8, at Oldcastle, cc. Meath, John M. Atkin, M.D., formerly of Virginia, cc. Cavau, aged 89 years.

BOWEN—August 5, at Dinapore, India, B. A. Bowen, Colonel-Sergeant, 1st Bata. Connaught Rangers, aged 58 years.

BOWEN—September 11, Emily Seaver, wife of Wm. Bowen, Broadmeadows, cc. Dublin.

BYRNE—September 12, at her residence, 5 Keen's place, Old Kilmahin, Dublin, Margaret Byrne, wife of Stephen Byrne, formerly of Athy, cc. Kildare.

BUCKLEY—September 3, at his residence, Killeahandra, cc. Cavau, Henry Buckley, aged 83 years.

BROWN—September 12, at his residence, 121 Shannon street, Cork, in his 80th year, Patrick, brother of the late Rev. David Brown, P.P., Prior, cc. Kerry.

COLCLOUGH—September 11, at 7 St. Joseph's Green, Glasnevin, Lieut. Col. Beauchamp Henry Colclough, 88th Battalion Royal Irish (Westford) Regiment, aged 65 years.

CLARKE—At the residence of Miss Fitzpatrick, Newtown Clarke, Palmerston, Ann Clarke, late of Monkstown, Dublin, aged 80 years.

CALLANAN—September 4, at the Presentation Convent, Dunganran, Bridget (in religion Sister of the Holy Trinity) third daughter of Jeremiah Callanan, of Ballinacree, Carrick-on-Shuir, aged 27 years. In religion 7 years.

DALY—Sept. 12, after a short illness, Thomas Daly, aged 62 years, of 9 Westland row, and 1 Bloomfield terrace, Marston, Dublin.

DEAR—Sept. 14, at his residence, 25 Great Charles street, Dublin, in the 70th year of his age, Columbus Patrick Drake, Esq., J.P., eldest son of the late Christopher Drake, Esq. of Horston, Trim, county Meath.

EMERSON—September 9, after a long illness, Maria, wife of Joseph Emerson, J.P., Fair View, Kilkenny.

FURLONG—Sept. 8, at the Leinster Arms Hotel, Kilmacshock, Mary, wife of M. Furlong, aged 38 years.

FAY—Sept. 11, at his residence, Colbride, cc. Kildare, Mrs. Eliza Fay, relic of the late Richard Fay.

GAVIN—August 7, at Quetta, Beluchistan, India, of pneumonia, George Fitzmaurice Gavin, Cap. 6th Bombay Cavalry (Jacob's horse) in his 34th year.

GONNOR—Sept. 1, at his residence, Kilmown, George, eldest son of the late David Gordon, Coolintaggart, Gorey, age 58 years.

HAMILTON—September 8, at Belfast, Hannah, wife of Mr. James Hamilton, late Head Constable Constabulary Westford and daughter of Mr. R. Harding, ex-Head-Constable.

HORT—At 58 Leinster row, Dublin, in the 63rd year of her age, Magdalena, younger daughter of the late Cashel Fitzsimmons Hoy, Esq., of Dundalk.

HENNESSY—Sept. 10, Timothy, son of John Hennessy, 26 Blarney street, Cork, aged 13 years.

KENNY—Sept. 12, at his mother's residence, Tullaghmeadow, County Meath, John Kenny, grocer's assistant, late of Mr. Burke's, Dublin, and second eldest son of the late John Kenny, poor rate collector.

GOVERNMENT LAND IN DAKOTA.

Millions of acres of free government land in the Mouse River, Turtle Mountain and Devils Lake regions of Dakota, near the great markets of St. Paul, Minneapolis and Duluth. Secure a home in Dakota. For further information, maps, rates, &c., apply to F. I. Whitney, G. P. & T. A., St. P., M. & M. Ry., St. Paul, Minn.

ITALIAN INGRATITUDE. Mr. Gladstone Blames Her for Joining the Triple Alliance.

LONDON, October 1.—A great deal of interest and comment have been excited by the publication in the Contemporary Review of a long article, the authorship of which is ascribed to Mr. Gladstone.

The writer strikes out boldly in powerful condemnation of Italy's course in joining the triple alliance, which places her in a position she has no right to occupy.

Italy, he declares, owes her independence, which means everything of value she possesses, to France, and it would be the gravest scandal if she should become involved in a fight against France.

The Government of King Humbert was not menaced and there existed no state of affairs upon which it could base an excuse for entering into a warlike combination whose aims were palpably toward an armed conflict contemplating the conquest and degradation of France.

Moreover, Italy has nothing to gain by such an alliance, or the victories it might achieve in the warfare its instigators are seeking, and may ere long rue the day she permitted herself to be used as a cat's paw on the strength of promises that will never be fulfilled.

In conclusion, the article demands to know whether or not England is bound by any agreement to aid in the objects of this alliance or give countenance to the acts. If she has been committed, the people of the British Empire are entitled to know by whom, and with what prospects of advantage to the country.

The article is certain to bring out a semi-official denial or avowal of England's participation in the triple compact. Some interesting revelations are among the possibilities.

SEE ATE POISONED CANDY. Candy Full of Strychnine Sent to Clergyman—A Terrible Crime.

St. JOHN, N.B., Oct. 3.—An extraordinary sensation has been caused here by the discovery that Mrs. MacLean, the wife of the Rev. Dr. MacLean, a leading Presbyterian clergyman, died from the effects of eating poisoned candy sent through the post office by some one in this city.

After eating some of the candy she was attacked with all the symptoms of strychnine poisoning, and died before aid could be rendered.

It is supposed that the intention was to poison her husband who was not at home. The candy is in the hands of an analyst, and though there is no official report, there is enough known to show that the stuff is heavily charged with strychnine.

An autopsy will be held on Monday when the inquest is resumed on Monday.

OTHER ATTEMPTED POISONINGS. A similar package of candy was sent to the Rev. John Deroyer, rector of St. John Episcopal church. He bit a piece of it, but detecting its bitter taste sent it to an analyst.

There was also some sent to the Rev. T. J. Dolmstadt, a Methodist, who also had his suspicions aroused and disposed of it in the same way. The clergymen being of different denominations and not having any common enemy, so far as known, the work is believed to be that of some monomaniac.

The facts were not known until late to-night and the developments cause great excitement. The cases resemble similar ones which occurred in Guelph, Ont., some time ago, when the candies were poisoned with arsenic.

WHO CAN GET GOVERNMENT LAND IN DAKOTA? All settlers in taking free government land in Dakota are protected from obligations to the amount of 160 acres of land, and seed, stock, implements and provisions to a reasonable amount; and also, are not liable for obligations incurred in other countries.

Father—"Eleanor, now that you have given up young Hopkins, I wish he would stop coming to the house." Daughter—"He's been here only seven times this week, pa."

Father—"Only seven times? How many times do you want him to come?" Daughter—"Don't be harsh, father. George is trying to break off gradually."

Mrs. Parsons (to her maid)—"How is the weather, to-day, Marie?" Maid—"Fresh and windy, madame." Mrs. Parsons—"Very well; you will please put a healthy smile on my cheeks this morning. I am going out."

GOVERNMENT LAND IN DAKOTA.

Millions of acres of free government land in the Mouse River, Turtle Mountain and Devils Lake regions of Dakota, near the great markets of St. Paul, Minneapolis and Duluth. Secure a home in Dakota. For further information, maps, rates, &c., apply to F. I. Whitney, G. P. & T. A., St. P., M. & M. Ry., St. Paul, Minn.

ITALIAN INGRATITUDE. Mr. Gladstone Blames Her for Joining the Triple Alliance.

LONDON, October 1.—A great deal of interest and comment have been excited by the publication in the Contemporary Review of a long article, the authorship of which is ascribed to Mr. Gladstone.

The writer strikes out boldly in powerful condemnation of Italy's course in joining the triple alliance, which places her in a position she has no right to occupy.

Italy, he declares, owes her independence, which means everything of value she possesses, to France, and it would be the gravest scandal if she should become involved in a fight against France.

The Government of King Humbert was not menaced and there existed no state of affairs upon which it could base an excuse for entering into a warlike combination whose aims were palpably toward an armed conflict contemplating the conquest and degradation of France.

Moreover, Italy has nothing to gain by such an alliance, or the victories it might achieve in the warfare its instigators are seeking, and may ere long rue the day she permitted herself to be used as a cat's paw on the strength of promises that will never be fulfilled.

In conclusion, the article demands to know whether or not England is bound by any agreement to aid in the objects of this alliance or give countenance to the acts. If she has been committed, the people of the British Empire are entitled to know by whom, and with what prospects of advantage to the country.

The article is certain to bring out a semi-official denial or avowal of England's participation in the triple compact. Some interesting revelations are among the possibilities.

SEE ATE POISONED CANDY. Candy Full of Strychnine Sent to Clergyman—A Terrible Crime.

St. JOHN, N.B., Oct. 3.—An extraordinary sensation has been caused here by the discovery that Mrs. MacLean, the wife of the Rev. Dr. MacLean, a leading Presbyterian clergyman, died from the effects of eating poisoned candy sent through the post office by some one in this city.

After eating some of the candy she was attacked with all the symptoms of strychnine poisoning, and died before aid could be rendered.

It is supposed that the intention was to poison her husband who was not at home. The candy is in the hands of an analyst, and though there is no official report, there is enough known to show that the stuff is heavily charged with strychnine.

An autopsy will be held on Monday when the inquest is resumed on Monday.

OTHER ATTEMPTED POISONINGS. A similar package of candy was sent to the Rev. John Deroyer, rector of St. John Episcopal church. He bit a piece of it, but detecting its bitter taste sent it to an analyst.

There was also some sent to the Rev. T. J. Dolmstadt, a Methodist, who also had his suspicions aroused and disposed of it in the same way. The clergymen being of different denominations and not having any common enemy, so far as known, the work is believed to be that of some monomaniac.

The facts were not known until late to-night and the developments cause great excitement. The cases resemble similar ones which occurred in Guelph, Ont., some time ago, when the candies were poisoned with arsenic.

WHO CAN GET GOVERNMENT LAND IN DAKOTA? All settlers in taking free government land in Dakota are protected from obligations to the amount of 160 acres of land, and seed, stock, implements and provisions to a reasonable amount; and also, are not liable for obligations incurred in other countries.

Father—"Eleanor, now that you have given up young Hopkins, I wish he would stop coming to the house." Daughter—"He's been here only seven times this week, pa."

Father—"Only seven times? How many times do you want him to come?" Daughter—"Don't be harsh, father. George is trying to break off gradually."

Mrs. Parsons (to her maid)—"How is the weather, to-day, Marie?" Maid—"Fresh and windy, madame." Mrs. Parsons—"Very well; you will please put a healthy smile on my cheeks this morning. I am going out."

Mrs. Parsons (to her maid)—"How is the weather, to-day, Marie?" Maid—"Fresh and windy, madame." Mrs. Parsons—"Very well; you will please put a healthy smile on my cheeks this morning. I am going out."

Mrs. Parsons (to her maid)—"How is the weather, to-day, Marie?" Maid—"Fresh and windy, madame." Mrs. Parsons—"Very well; you will please put a healthy smile on my cheeks this morning. I am going out."

Mrs. Parsons (to her maid)—"How is the weather, to-day, Marie?" Maid—"Fresh and windy, madame." Mrs. Parsons—"Very well; you will please put a healthy smile on my cheeks this morning. I am going out."

Mrs. Parsons (to her maid)—"How is the weather, to-day, Marie?" Maid—"Fresh and windy, madame." Mrs. Parsons—"Very well; you will please put a healthy smile on my cheeks this morning. I am going out."

Mrs. Parsons (to her maid)—"How is the weather, to-day, Marie?" Maid—"Fresh and windy, madame." Mrs. Parsons—"Very well; you will please put a healthy smile on my cheeks this morning. I am going out."

Mrs. Parsons (to her maid)—"How is the weather, to-day, Marie?" Maid—"Fresh and windy, madame." Mrs. Parsons—"Very well; you will please put a healthy smile on my cheeks this morning. I am going out."

Mrs. Parsons (to her maid)—"How is the weather, to-day, Marie?" Maid—"Fresh and windy, madame." Mrs. Parsons—"Very well; you will please put a healthy smile on my cheeks this morning. I am going out."

Mrs. Parsons (to her maid)—"How is the weather, to-day, Marie?" Maid—"Fresh and windy, madame." Mrs. Parsons—"Very well; you will please put a healthy smile on my cheeks this morning. I am going out."