that the Member who made the speech will have an opportunity to reply.

Mrs. Maily: I was being brief, but everyone keeps interrupting me.

Mr. Orlikow: I have not finished my point of order. The Member keeps saying that others interrupt her. I wish she would at least have the courtesy to listen to my point of order.

I suggest to you, Mr. Speaker, and to the Member, that she is going to use up the entire 10-minute period so that the Member for Oshawa (Mr. Broadbent) will not be permitted to answer the supposed question she is asking. I say that that is wrong and you ought to rule accordingly, Mr. Speaker.

Some Hon. Members: Hear, hear!

Mr. Deputy Speaker: I can assure the Hon. Member for Winnipeg North (Mr. Orlikow) that should there be a question at the end of the comment of the Member for Gatineau (Mrs. Maily), the Hon. Member for Oshawa (Mr. Broadbent) will certainly have an opportunity to reply.

Mr. Orlikow: What is your question?

Mrs. Maily: Mr. Speaker, I will finish my comment. I have every right to make a comment as well.

Mr. Deans: A brief comment.

Mrs. Maily: The Leader of the NDP has made several comments and cast aspersions on this Budget. He has said that it is for the greedy. I am pointing out that among the "greedy" he has to think of the workers whose jobs have been maintained and the workers whose jobs will be created.

I want to make the further comment that he mentioned that pensioners did not support the measure. In my own riding pensioners have supported it.

Mr. Tassé of Morin Street in Gatineau—

—has sent back his pension cheque for the month—

Mr. Rodriguez: He must be a Tory.

Mrs. Maily: He is not a Tory. He has sent me back his cheque for the month of May saying, "Keep on with the good work because I know very well that the NDP and the Liberals are going to try to scare you into going back on your very good Budget". He has also encouraged Mr. Trudeau to do the same.

Some Hon. Members: Hear, hear!

Mr. Deputy Speaker: I will give the Hon. Member for Oshawa (Mr. Broadbent) an opportunity to reply, should he wish to.

Mrs. Maily: I have not posed the question.

Mr. Orlikow: You are finished. Sit down. Make your speech in your own time.

Mr. Broadbent: Mr. Speaker, first in English—

[English]

—the Member mentioned the pensioner who lives in her riding. I can only conclude it must be either George Hees or Doug Fisher.

An Hon. Member: Or Charlie Lynch.

Mr. Broadbent: It may be someone else. To understate it, no more than 90 per cent of pensioners would be in opposition. I guess that would be the case. I do not want to be glib. The evidence is overwhelming. I hope that the Member understands that the vast majority of pensioners and all Canadians are opposed to what the Government is doing.

Some Hon. Members: Hear, hear!

[Translation]

Mr. Broadbent: She talked about the motion but, unfortunately, this debate has to do with pensions, not workers in general. I would like to talk about unemployment in Canada, as she would, but I must point out that pensions are the issue right now.

Not unlike her Prime Minister, Mr. Speaker, she would rather talk about something else because she knows full well that the policy concerning retired Canadians is unfair. That is a fact.

Mrs. Maily: A point of order, Mr. Speaker.

[English]

Mr. Deputy Speaker: The period for questions and comments—

[Translation]

Mrs. Maily: Mr. Speaker, a point of order to suggest—

Some Hon. Members: Sit down!

Mr. Deputy Speaker: I would ask—

[English]

Some Hon. Members: Sit down.

Mr. Deputy Speaker: I ask all Members to show courtesy to other Members. We had a very vigorous and lively debate on Bill C-31 in the last two days in the House. All Members were always courteous. I would ask the same thing of Members today on this motion.

We will resume debate on the motion with the Hon. Member for York-Scarborough (Mr. McCrossan).

Mr. W. Paul McCrossan (York-Scarborough): Mr. Speaker, I am pleased to speak in today's debate because I regard this motion as a hypocritical motion by a hypocritical Party
