

BRITISH EMBASSY,
WASHINGTON.

January 23rd, 1930.

Sir:

In the absence of Sir Esme Howard, I am writing to thank you for your kind letter of January 21st. Sir Esme left Washington yesterday for New York, where I am to join him tomorrow, and I shall be happy to show him your letter then. I understood from him before he left that the arrangements which have been made for him in Montreal are entirely agreeable to him and that there was nothing which he wished to add to them. I know he will be most grateful for your kindness in placing a car at his disposal. He will arrive at Montreal by the C.N.R. at Bonaventure Station at 8.0 a.m. on January 27th, and he has engaged rooms at the Ritz Hotel. As I think you know, he is leaving again for Ottawa at 4.10 p.m. that day.

Yours truly,

General Sir Arthur Currie,
G.C.M.G., K.C.B.,
McGill University,
Montreal.

Michael Bright
Private Secretary.
