LONDON, March 24.—(10.35 p.m.)—A British air raid on Hoboken, near Antwerp, where the Germans are constructing submarines, was officially reported today.

PETROGRAD, March 24.—Already the Russians have begun to burst the southern barriers, where they have been on the defensive, across the Carpathian passes, since December, when the Germans launched the great scheme to help the Austrians and outflank the Russian left from Hungary.

After seventeen charges the Russians drove the enemy westward and themselves waded neck deep, thru the swift current of the San and the flooded mountain snows. The Russians further east broke the enemy's position at the source of the Strzy, near Kostomok and held the Germans, killing the last man holding the rocky shelter.

WERE IN CHARGE OF MEN BROUGHT FROM THE UNITED STATES — USED DUMMY RIFLES AND DRILLED WITH PRECISION.

Inspector of Detectives George Kennedy, Inspector Crowe of No. 3 division, and nine headquarters detectives, surrounded St. Stanislaus Polish Church, at 16 Denison avenue, about 11 o'clock last night, and rounded up about 30 Austrians and Poles, who were drilling in the hall of the church. They were looked up in No. 3 station on a charge of illegally drilling. It is the first arrest for the offense of "illegally drilling" within the fence of "illegally drilled" within the memory of the oldest police official, and is probably the only one since the Mackenzie rebellion.

The detectives watched the manoeuvres for some time before breaking in on the drillers. Dummy rifles were used and orders were given in Polish and Austrian. According to Inspector Kennedy, the men were a well drilled body and carried out every order with military precision. With the men placed under arrest was an American-Austrian, who, according to the police, was brought across from the United States for the express purpose of whipping the squad into shape. The dummy rifles were all seized and carried to the police station for use at the trial of the men. St. Stanislaus Church, where the men were arrested, is a Polish Roman Catholic Church. Rev. Joseph Hinman is pastor.

WARSHIPS REPAIRED

Gaulois and Inflexible Now Ready to Enter Action Again.

The warships Gaulois and Inflexible, which are anchored in waters that are well protected, have finished their repairs. The shortage of coal is being felt at Constantinople, where numerous warships, notably those supplying the straits railway with power, have been forced to suspend operations. The authorities are compelling Christians, up to the age of 40 years, to enlist and work on the defence of the heights which protect the capital, on both the European and Asiatic sides. At Dardanelles the Turks have pillaged the habitations of subjects of the allied countries and have forced them to quit the city.
