ALEX DESROCHES CAUGHT AT HIS PENETANG HOME

Took Him Two Weeks to Get There -A Reply From John Patterson.

HAMILTON, Aug. 2.-(Special).-

Since the city obtained an independent engineer's report on the best route thru the city for an electric railway, the board of trade has been making efforts to get a railway built to Galt, Guelph and the surrounding district. John Patterson, who undertook to build the Hamilton, Waterloo and Guelph Railway, but who was forced to abandon it on account of the opposi-tion to the use of the parks, has been approached and has sent his reply to the board of trade. His reply will not be made public until Saturday, but it is understood that he is willing to take hold of the scheme again. Alexes Desroches, the Penetang murderer who escaped from the Hamilton asylum two weeks ago last Thursday, was brought back to the asylum to-night. He was captured at his old home at Penetang and it had taken him two weeks to make his way there. For some days after his es cape the whole district was in a state of alarm.

Writ For Damages. Washington & Beasley have issued a writ against Farmer McAdam, Blackheath, Seneca Township, on behalf of the Barnardo Home, guardian of Lillian Booth, an English girl, under the age of 16 years. Damages to the extent of $1000 are asked, because it is alleged that William Moore, the farmer's stepson, acted improperly. Joseph Rodgers, another of the crapshooters, was committed for trial this morning on the charge of perjury. He and John O'Reilly are the only two of the six committed who have secured the $2000 bail, and the other four are still in jail. They are: William Burk-holder, James Yaldon, William Cornell and Charles Baird. Voldermer Peradesgarter, a Russian, was sent down for nine months this morning for stealing brass from the Canadian Westinghouse Company. C. M. Gripton, president of the Grimsby Park Company, has been summoned on the charge of acting improperly in the presence of two ladies. Removal-Notice that J. THE BRITISH WELCOME LEAGUE

Editor World: I recently had a long and interesting interview with Mr. A. Chamberlain, president of the above, and Chamberlain, president of the above, and most certainly a great work is being done on Front-street. The opening of the "Welcome Bureau" was one of the happiest and best inspirations this city has had for some years, and the "league" as the outcome thereof will prove not only of sterling benefit to Britishers, but of material help in building up our great Dominion.

The details of many cases where timely aid has been given to emigrants and their families are in some instances very distressing, and one fact is proven up to the hilt, namely, that the present system of emigration is bad from start to mish. The most undesirable classes are sent out, irrespective of adaptability or anything else. The transportation is in some ases, most unsatisfactory, and the lack of reception very discreditable. This paragraph might honestly be written twenty times as strong, and, in fact, to do this great question justice, we need a writer like the late Hon. W. E. Gladstone, who, if he were alive and knew the facts, as he did those of the Bulgarian atroci would mostly surely wake up Canadians and Britishers alike. I gladly hear that Senator Cox is likely to help General Booth in sending people out west, but the limit has been reached, so far as the cities are concerned, and there ought to be a stop, here and now, to anyone else from the British Isles entering Toronto permanently.

Let the government, and any of those persons, who have the interest of their persons, who have the interest of their fellow-men really at heart, who doubt my word, go and see Mr. Chamberlain, and he is in a position to give them most reliable information, proving all the foregoing, and unfortunately worse than all, that the treatment of British men, women and children by some of their employers in Canada, on coming out here, is a matter seriously touching our reputation and demands investigation. You have done the workers in Canada good service in the past, and I feel sure will try and insert this at your early
