

Rowat's Special Tea
Buy it when you want the best.
60c, 70c, 80c, $1.10 per pound.
T. A. ROWAT & CO.

BABY GIFT SUGGESTIONS

The season of gift-giving is here. Do not forget the dear, wee baby.

10k. Solid Gold Rings, signet and stone set $1.00 to $1.50
10k. Solid Gold Rings, set with diamonds $2.00
Lockets and Chains $1 to $5
Bracelets $1.50 up
Bib Holders, in gold-filled and sterling silver $1.50 up
Baby Pins 50c each up
Silver-Plated Cups $1.50 to $5.00
Sterling Silver Cups $7.50 to $10.00
Baby Spoons, silver-plated 60c to $1.25
Baby Spoons, sterling silver $2.00 up
Comb and Brush Sets $2.75 to $5.00
French Ivory Hair Brushes $2.50 and $2.75
Rattles, sterling silver, with combination of pearl $3.50 and $4.00

C.H. Ward & Co.
Diamond Merchants and Jewelers.
386 Richmond St. Phone 1084

London & Port Stanley Railway
Timetables Effective September 8.
To St. Thomas—10:00, 11:20, 1:20, 3:20, 5:20, 7:20, 9:20, 11:20 a.m.; 12:20, 2:20, 4:20, 6:20, 8:20, 10:20, 12:20 p.m.
To Port Stanley—10:00, 11:20, 1:20, 3:20, 5:20, 7:20, 9:20, 11:20 a.m.; 12:20, 2:20, 4:20, 6:20, 8:20, 10:20, 12:20 p.m.
Limited train London to St. Thomas

Improve Your Home
The joy of New Wall Paper will make your home as new.
There is delight in the hours spent in a newly-decorated room.

COLERICKS'
812 Dundas Street.

"IN THE PUBLIC EYE"
BY Raymond Optical Co.
GLASSES YOU WEAR SHOULD BE MADE FOR YOU.
GLASSES that merely seem helpful to your sight are not necessarily the lenses that will correct your vision. They may be a pleasant-to-look-at, but they are not the lenses that will correct your vision. Allow our optometrist to look back through your pupil—back through the corner of your eyes at the crystalline lens. If there are no opacities, he will discover by other tests the manner in which your weakened eyes have interfered with your sight.

Brown Optical Co.
Eyes Examined, Glasses Ground
223 Dundas St., Phone 1877.

London Business College
Dundas and Richmond Streets.
J. G. BROWN, Principal.
N. STONEHOUSE, Vice-Principal.
Phone 7380.

Eczema Easily Relieved
JUST APPLY KINS-HAW
And see how quickly relief is obtained. It is guaranteed for $1 and 50c per bottle, or mailed direct on receipt of price. MUTUAL PHARMACEUTICAL CO.
Box 448, London, Ont.

STORAGE BATTERY RECHARGING AND REPAIRING
TRY
EXCELL AUTO ELECTRIC

Reliance Garage
Phone 6400. 297 Dundas Street.
61-11-12

HOT DRINKS
Hot Bovril, Hot Chocolate, Coffee, etc., now being served at our fountain.
TRY OUR DELICIOUS CHOCOLATES.

Annis' Candy Shop
12 Richmond, Opposite Smallman's.

LONDON RAILWAYMAN SERIOUSLY INJURED IN ST. THOMAS YARDS

James McLeary Is Severely Crushed When Roof Catches Cab.

ST. THOMAS, Nov. 30.—James McLeary, a London man, was severely injured late last night while proceeding from Ingersoll to St. Thomas as fireman on a C. P. R. train. He was leaning out of the cab window and failed to notice the projecting roof of a box car which had been blown off by the storm. The wreckage struck the cab and tore one-half of it away, crushing McLeary's head and shoulders badly. He was brought to St. Thomas and rushed to the local hospital, where he now lies in a critical condition. The extent of his injuries could not be definitely learned tonight, owing to his condition.

Buy Him a RED BIRD This Christmas

Will break forth in all its radiance if you give your boy a Red Bird. And all the while you enjoy his happiness with him you have the quiet satisfaction of knowing that you have provided a means of healthful outdoor exercise that will keep him healthy as well as happy.

Bicycle & Motor Sales
425 Wellington. Phone 3152.

USE "DANDERINE" IF HAIR IS COMING OUT

For a few cents you can save your hair and double its beauty.

To stop falling hair at once and rid the scalp of every particle of dandruff, get a small bottle of delightful "Danderine" at any drug or toilet counter for a few cents, pour a little in your hand and rub it into the scalp. After several applications the hair usually stops coming out and you can't find any dandruff. Help your hair grow strong, thick and long and become soft, glossy and twice as beautiful and abundant.

MISS BROWNE HAD TO GIVE UP POSITION

Was in a Badly Run-Down Condition For Six Months—Tanlac Restores Her.

"Tanlac has helped me so much that it is a great pleasure to recommend it," said Miss Doris C. Browne of 87 Glen Lake avenue, Toronto, Ont.
"I suffered from a nervous breakdown," she continued, "and for six months I was in a dreadful condition. My appetite failed, strength and energy left me and I was so nervous I could hardly keep still. I would have dizzy spells when I would almost faint. My condition was such that I had to give up my position and for several months I could not do any work at all. I could hardly sleep, lost several pounds in weight, and became very despondent, for nothing helped me, and I was getting worse all the time."
"Hearing so much about Tanlac, I decided to try it, and before I finished my second bottle I was feeling so much better that I took it for a month and have recovered entirely from the nervous breakdown. My appetite is fine, I sleep like a child, and am in better health than I was in a dreadful condition. I have regained all my lost weight and really feel as well as if I had never been sick at all."
"Tanlac is sold in London by Standard Drug, Limited, and by an established agency in every town."

PRINTERS CELEBRATE FIFTIETH BIRTHDAY OF LONDON UNION

Local Union One of the Best On the Continent.

OFFICERS TELL OF WORK Old-Timers From Far and Near Guests of Local "Typos" At Banquet.

Celebrating the 50th anniversary of the London Typographical Union, No. 123, the present members, and many former members now living in other cities, gathered at a banquet held in the Tecumseh House Saturday night. Many prominent members and officers of the International Typographical Union were present. A splendid program of toasts and musical numbers was given.

James J. Murray, international delegate of the union, said that the conduct of the branch in London has always been exemplary and in the history of the I. T. U. nothing to its discredit. No. 123 has ever been a credit to the union. He said that the union has been a source of pride to its members, and that the union has been a source of pride to its members, and that the union has been a source of pride to its members.

"In the world's great war no group of workers has given more loyal and effective co-operation than have the members of the International Typographical Union. On the night of the 1st of December, 1914, the union in the workshops we have supported the governments under which we live, with unflinching determination. Many sacrifices have been necessary and these have been made courageously and without flinching. Many members have died both in the Canadian and American armies, and large sums have been paid in mortuary benefits for these men. These institutions have been established have been preserved intact through this critical period; every member has been met and the organization is stronger numerically and financially than at any time in its history. Its treasury total of $12,765.81.

"The I. T. U. has disbursed $3,888.47 in its three beneficial funds. During the five years of the war, as follows: Old age pensions, $1,693.12; mortuary benefits, $1,521.67; and union funds, $1,673.68. The total of $3,888.47 was paid into the treasury of the I. T. U. by members of the organization, and the union has been a source of pride to its members, and that the union has been a source of pride to its members.

"In the recent referendum vote, the recommendation of the executive council that old age pensions be increased from $5 to $6 was carried by a margin of over 40,000. This increase will make the yearly pension $312 a year, which is as high as the receipts from the pension assessment will permit.

"Efforts will be made by the union to secure a 44-hour week so that Saturday half-holiday may be observed without necessitating the working of overtime on other days to make up for time lost in that half-day. In many cities the eight-hour day, which was fought for and secured in 1906, has become almost a joke, for it is reduced to an eight and three-quarter day, for this reason. It was proposed to have the 44-hour week start in May, 1921, and it will prevail internationally in the printing industry.

While our wage scale increases show that substantial gains have been made in many jurisdictions, the fact remains that the members of the union have not been able to maintain standards of living which they enjoyed in the years previous to the war, because of the depreciation in the value of the dollar.

"In many instances employers have granted voluntary increases above the rates fixed by local agreements. Some of these increases have been substantial, and others have been entirely inadequate. On the other hand, a few employers have insisted on the last part of the year, there has been no uniformity in these scale readjustments. Of course, there has been some friction. It could not be otherwise. Fair wage adjustments are the only cure for industrial unrest.

Local Boards Successful.
"Local boards of conciliation have been successful in a large number of cities. The question has been raised that a national board of conciliation in each industry offers the most practical means through which the printing industry reconstruction can be accomplished. In the commercial branch of the printing industry such a board of conciliation has been organized in the United States. It would work to the advantage of the employer and employee if a similar body was created in Canada.

"Realizing that the printing industry demands intelligent men in the composing rooms, the I. T. U. has introduced a program that will produce journeymen of high mental calibre. A system of trade training for masters has been perfected that solves the problem of incompetency, and insures the boy taking the trade that he will be able to graduate into a thorough printer.

"Employers have been content to disregard education in preparing boys for the trade and did not seem to realize the injury such indifference inflicted on the future conduct of their printing room. It finally resulted in the degradation of the trade, and the loss of the trade and brought about a deplorable condition. Employees were simply set to get type and turned out work without any regard for artistic appearance.

Apprentices Thoroughly Trained.
"The I. T. U. recommends that local unions provide in their wage scale a system whereby the apprentices will be given an opportunity to master the processes of printing and that a reasonable wage be paid them upon their introduction to the trade. This will have the effect of attracting boys into the industry who will be mentally capable of mastering the trade and their chosen vocation. This will wipe out incompetency in our ranks and will make a card in the I. T. U. a guarantee of the holder's ability to perform efficient work.

day, compared with the eight hours of the present day, things don't seem so rosy. He also said that now when a man gets sick he can either go to the home till he has recovered or else stay at his own home and receive $4 a week. T. H. Purdon spoke on behalf of the publishers of the city. He said that although he had enjoyed the banquet in its entirety, he had been particularly pleased with Mr. Murray's speech, and the stand he had taken in it regarding the education of the boys. He said that the boys should be properly trained in the printers' trade, and that the union should be a source of pride to its members, and that the union should be a source of pride to its members.

He said that the union should be a source of pride to its members, and that the union should be a source of pride to its members, and that the union should be a source of pride to its members, and that the union should be a source of pride to its members, and that the union should be a source of pride to its members.

He advocated a broader education, and said that in time he believed that the union should be a source of pride to its members, and that the union should be a source of pride to its members, and that the union should be a source of pride to its members, and that the union should be a source of pride to its members.

He said that the union should be a source of pride to its members, and that the union should be a source of pride to its members, and that the union should be a source of pride to its members, and that the union should be a source of pride to its members, and that the union should be a source of pride to its members.

He said that the union should be a source of pride to its members, and that the union should be a source of pride to its members, and that the union should be a source of pride to its members, and that the union should be a source of pride to its members, and that the union should be a source of pride to its members.

He said that the union should be a source of pride to its members, and that the union should be a source of pride to its members, and that the union should be a source of pride to its members, and that the union should be a source of pride to its members, and that the union should be a source of pride to its members.

He said that the union should be a source of pride to its members, and that the union should be a source of pride to its members, and that the union should be a source of pride to its members, and that the union should be a source of pride to its members, and that the union should be a source of pride to its members.

He said that the union should be a source of pride to its members, and that the union should be a source of pride to its members, and that the union should be a source of pride to its members, and that the union should be a source of pride to its members, and that the union should be a source of pride to its members.

He said that the union should be a source of pride to its members, and that the union should be a source of pride to its members, and that the union should be a source of pride to its members, and that the union should be a source of pride to its members, and that the union should be a source of pride to its members.

He said that the union should be a source of pride to its members, and that the union should be a source of pride to its members, and that the union should be a source of pride to its members, and that the union should be a source of pride to its members, and that the union should be a source of pride to its members.

He said that the union should be a source of pride to its members, and that the union should be a source of pride to its members, and that the union should be a source of pride to its members, and that the union should be a source of pride to its members, and that the union should be a source of pride to its members.

He said that the union should be a source of pride to its members, and that the union should be a source of pride to its members, and that the union should be a source of pride to its members, and that the union should be a source of pride to its members, and that the union should be a source of pride to its members.

He said that the union should be a source of pride to its members, and that the union should be a source of pride to its members, and that the union should be a source of pride to its members, and that the union should be a source of pride to its members, and that the union should be a source of pride to its members.

for the children of laborers. They must be trained to become leaders. The majority of the present leading men of the world have university training. It is a great help. Every fireproof building in London shows that labor is to become the backbone of the country, and the present time in England it is the organized labor that has stabilized the country in spite of the attempts of the extreme radicals to throw it into confusion.

Must Combat Reds.
The toast to the guests was responded to by J. Pendergast of Detroit, the former president of the local union. He went to represent many former members of Union 123, but now working in that city. He said that great care should be exercised in the selection of officers and in the expressions of views in order that the Red element might be kept out of the union. He said that the union should be a source of pride to its members, and that the union should be a source of pride to its members, and that the union should be a source of pride to its members.

J. Gallager also responded, and emphasized the views of Mr. Pendergast. Others who responded were J. Reid, Windsor; E. Carter, Brantford; H. Bessie, London; and Robert Burns, London. The toast to the guests was responded to by J. Pendergast of Detroit, the former president of the local union. He went to represent many former members of Union 123, but now working in that city. He said that great care should be exercised in the selection of officers and in the expressions of views in order that the Red element might be kept out of the union. He said that the union should be a source of pride to its members, and that the union should be a source of pride to its members, and that the union should be a source of pride to its members.

The toast to the guests was responded to by J. Pendergast of Detroit, the former president of the local union. He went to represent many former members of Union 123, but now working in that city. He said that great care should be exercised in the selection of officers and in the expressions of views in order that the Red element might be kept out of the union. He said that the union should be a source of pride to its members, and that the union should be a source of pride to its members, and that the union should be a source of pride to its members.

The toast to the guests was responded to by J. Pendergast of Detroit, the former president of the local union. He went to represent many former members of Union 123, but now working in that city. He said that great care should be exercised in the selection of officers and in the expressions of views in order that the Red element might be kept out of the union. He said that the union should be a source of pride to its members, and that the union should be a source of pride to its members, and that the union should be a source of pride to its members.

The toast to the guests was responded to by J. Pendergast of Detroit, the former president of the local union. He went to represent many former members of Union 123, but now working in that city. He said that great care should be exercised in the selection of officers and in the expressions of views in order that the Red element might be kept out of the union. He said that the union should be a source of pride to its members, and that the union should be a source of pride to its members, and that the union should be a source of pride to its members.

The toast to the guests was responded to by J. Pendergast of Detroit, the former president of the local union. He went to represent many former members of Union 123, but now working in that city. He said that great care should be exercised in the selection of officers and in the expressions of views in order that the Red element might be kept out of the union. He said that the union should be a source of pride to its members, and that the union should be a source of pride to its members, and that the union should be a source of pride to its members.

The toast to the guests was responded to by J. Pendergast of Detroit, the former president of the local union. He went to represent many former members of Union 123, but now working in that city. He said that great care should be exercised in the selection of officers and in the expressions of views in order that the Red element might be kept out of the union. He said that the union should be a source of pride to its members, and that the union should be a source of pride to its members, and that the union should be a source of pride to its members.

The toast to the guests was responded to by J. Pendergast of Detroit, the former president of the local union. He went to represent many former members of Union 123, but now working in that city. He said that great care should be exercised in the selection of officers and in the expressions of views in order that the Red element might be kept out of the union. He said that the union should be a source of pride to its members, and that the union should be a source of pride to its members, and that the union should be a source of pride to its members.

The toast to the guests was responded to by J. Pendergast of Detroit, the former president of the local union. He went to represent many former members of Union 123, but now working in that city. He said that great care should be exercised in the selection of officers and in the expressions of views in order that the Red element might be kept out of the union. He said that the union should be a source of pride to its members, and that the union should be a source of pride to its members, and that the union should be a source of pride to its members.

The toast to the guests was responded to by J. Pendergast of Detroit, the former president of the local union. He went to represent many former members of Union 123, but now working in that city. He said that great care should be exercised in the selection of officers and in the expressions of views in order that the Red element might be kept out of the union. He said that the union should be a source of pride to its members, and that the union should be a source of pride to its members, and that the union should be a source of pride to its members.

The toast to the guests was responded to by J. Pendergast of Detroit, the former president of the local union. He went to represent many former members of Union 123, but now working in that city. He said that great care should be exercised in the selection of officers and in the expressions of views in order that the Red element might be kept out of the union. He said that the union should be a source of pride to its members, and that the union should be a source of pride to its members, and that the union should be a source of pride to its members.

The toast to the guests was responded to by J. Pendergast of Detroit, the former president of the local union. He went to represent many former members of Union 123, but now working in that city. He said that great care should be exercised in the selection of officers and in the expressions of views in order that the Red element might be kept out of the union. He said that the union should be a source of pride to its members, and that the union should be a source of pride to its members, and that the union should be a source of pride to its members.

The toast to the guests was responded to by J. Pendergast of Detroit, the former president of the local union. He went to represent many former members of Union 123, but now working in that city. He said that great care should be exercised in the selection of officers and in the expressions of views in order that the Red element might be kept out of the union. He said that the union should be a source of pride to its members, and that the union should be a source of pride to its members, and that the union should be a source of pride to its members.

The Storm

As a result of Saturday night's storm, many miles of telephone wire are down, and service, especially long distance to all points, is interrupted.

Every effort is being made to effect repairs and re-establish connection quickly.

We ask the indulgence of our patrons, assuring them that no time is being lost in getting the lines working again.

The Bell Telephone Co. of Canada

vided you roll it up afterward on kid curlers or on paper until the hair has dried in the shape you want it to go: Gum arabic 1/2 ounce
Quince seed extract 2 ounces
Rosewater 1/2 ounce
Glycerine 1/2 ounce
Lily of the valley 8 drops

National Campaign
INTERCHURCH FORWARD MOVEMENT.
IN THE ARMORIES, LONDON.
Tuesday and Wednesday
December 2nd and 3rd

SPEAKERS:
Tuesday Evening—Bishop Farthing, Dr. John MacNeill.
Wednesday Evg.—Dr. Hugh Pedley, Rev. Principal Gandier, J. H. Gundy, Esq.

Gipsy Smith Choir Each Evening
Rev. Quinton Warner, Director.

are of general interest. He cannot allow of undertakes to prescribe or offer advice for individual cases. Where the subject is not of general interest, letters will be answered personally, if a stamped and addressed envelope is enclosed. Address all inquiries to Dr. L. K. Hirschberg, in care of this office.

MY HEART AND MY HUSBAND

ADELE GARRISON'S NEW PHASE OF REVELATIONS OF A WIFE

What Arthur Walters Brought to Madge.
Despite the assiduous interest in the case of seeing a persistent stranger, Madge, the name of the man who had been a part of her life, was a familiar name to her. She had heard of him in the papers, and she had heard of him in the papers, and she had heard of him in the papers.

An Instant Calmer.
"I just tired sweeping out bunch of soup greens off front porch," she said. "I'll be home every day for two, three days, say he want see you. I tell him nothing doing until next week, but he come just same, Missis Underwood. He say he want see you, but he never have time to say. She ask me to look like, and even I tell her she say he probably some young book agent, and tell me to say you never home, he get tired coming. He never give me dot card before, but he saw you in yard just now, and say bring dot card to you quick. Vot I say? Tell him get quick to tell out of here."

The Sealed Letter.
"All right, I feex," she acquiesced, and in another moment I heard her as saying "I'll be home every day for two, three days, say he want see you. I tell him nothing doing until next week, but he come just same, Missis Underwood. He say he want see you, but he never have time to say. She ask me to look like, and even I tell her she say he probably some young book agent, and tell me to say you never home, he get tired coming. He never give me dot card before, but he saw you in yard just now, and say bring dot card to you quick. Vot I say? Tell him get quick to tell out of here."

DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS
ALL KIDNEY DISEASES
BRIGHT'S DISEASE
DIABETES
23 THE PROPHET

COZY SLIPPERS
The ideal gift for any member of the family. Everybody likes to get a pair of slippers for Christmas. Perhaps brother or baby is hoping you will return a pair. Then the little tots should have them to keep their little feet warm when they jump out of bed the next morning. We have just the kind that please. Come in and make your selection today. If they do not fit, have them exchanged after Christmas.

Cook's Shoe Store
HORLICK'S THE ORIGINAL MALTED MILK
Avoid Imitations & Substitutes