REFUSE NEW TRIAL FOR JOHN DOUGHTY

Request Will Be Made to the Appellate Division for a Reserved Case.

THREE WEEKS' WAIT

Counsel Argued That Irrelevant Evidence Was Admitted at Trial.

John Doughty has to endure another three weeks of suspense in prison before he can become aware of his fate in connection with the $105,000 worth of bonds he is said to have stolen from Ambrose Small.

Doughty's counsel, I. F. Hellmuth, K.C., was yesterday refused by Judge Denton a new trial for his client, but granted a remand for three weeks so that an application might be made to the appellate division at Osgoode Hall for a reserved case.

John Doughty as he appeared in the dock yesterday was a much altered man in demeanor from that of two weeks back. All his jauntiness and apparently high spirits seem to have left him. His cheeks seemed to be sunken and his mouth has a drawn appearance as if caused by worry. He was not so well groomed as on former occasions, and from a casual observation it might be assumed that he is having sleepless nights and has arrived at a stage which lengthy incarceration produces. His eyes, also, appeared sunken and his face drawn.

For Reserved Case. Mr. Hellmuth based his application for a reserved case that evidence irrelevant to the issue and likely to prejudice the minds of the jury had been admitted at the trial.

He contended that evidence concerning what Jean and William Doughty did with the bonds while John Doughty was in another country and had no control over them should not have been admitted. The statement of one of the witnesses, F. Daville, that Doughty had made a proposition to him, Daville, to kill Small, could not have had an effect other than prejudicial on the minds of the jury, he said in addressing them.

Col. R. H. Green, acting for the crown, replied that what Daville had said in regard to "killing" Small had been blurred out, had been unexpected and said without any anterior knowledge on the part of the crown. In reply, Mr. Hellmuth said he had never heard of evidence of a threat to kill as evidence of intent to steal bonds.

Application Refused. Judge Denton, in refusing the application, pointed out that the court was not bound to accept the evidence. Forments of Jack or Jean Doughty, for that reason he could not see that the admission of the evidence complicated of had been in any way prejudicial to his honor pointed out that Daville, in police court, had given evidence which tended to show that Doughty was harboring a grudge against Small. In the trial court, the witness had suddenly gone farther and had sworn that Doughty had actually proposed to kill Small. Such evidence could not very well be prevented. It, therefore, became, said his honor, a question whether the jury had fairly assessed the evidence and had not been misled by the evidence. He was convinced that his instructions had been fair and impartial; he had told the jury to disregard the evidence of Daville's disreputable character. But, the defense might think that some of the "stunt work" had been done in a manner of summing up he would grant permission to apply to the appellate division.

CLEMENCY GRANTED BY LICENSE BOARD

Hon. W. E. Hanes informed John O'Neill (S. E. Toronto), in the legislature yesterday, that 173 applications had been made for remission of fine or penalties imposed under the O. T. A. between November 12, 1919, and March 1, 1920. Clemency, in whole or in part, was granted in 93 cases.

In no case had the recommendations of the board of license commissioners been turned down by the attorney-general or the executive council, and in no case had the attorney-general acted on his own initiative.

FINES FOR GAMBLING COST CHINAMEN MORE

The news that the penalty for gambling on the Lord's Day is going to be imposed on twelve Chinamen yesterday, when they faced Magistrate Jones for committing that offense. All pleaded guilty and a fine of $8 and $1 costs, a total of $9 each, were handed to them.

"What!" asked an elderly Chinaman, who seemed to be looking after the lot, "that's too much."

"Well, it's going up. It will be $10 next week," said a court official.

TRADE CONDITION IS DEMORALIZED

Declares W. F. Morley in Wholesale Grocers' Case—Evidence on Discounts.

On the resumption of the trial yesterday before Justice Orde, in which the attorney-general for Ontario seeks to have the Wholesale Grocers' Association of Ontario declared an illegal combine, Henry Rowntree of William Rowntree & Sons, retail grocers, of West Toronto, admitted that he received discount on goods after he had received invoices at the list price. He produced a silver pencil, which he declared was similar to those delivered with orders by the E. W. Gillett Company. Wilfrid Scott, of W. R. Scott, retail grocers, deposed that he had received discount on Gillett's goods. Sometimes it was in the form of cash.

Justice Orde ruled that witness must disclose all particulars and all details about discounts, otherwise his evidence would be struck out.

W. F. Morley of Toronto, wholesale broker in groceries, answering Mr. McKay, counsel for the association, said there was a quantity price. "And that means the best price to the man who buys the most. It is the survival of the fittest and the smaller dealer deserves to go to the wall. Am I oversteering the case?" queried Mr. McKay.

Witness replied in the affirmative. He said the trade was getting nearer to a cash basis every day. The condition of trade was never more demoralized than it was today. He thought the Wholesale Grocers' Association had too much power. He told how he had tried to gain admission to its ranks, how his application had been treated contemptuously and shelved by the influence of two or three men on the executive.

Discount on Gillett Goods. Milton Cork, buyer for Loblaw Groceries, Limited, admitted that a suggestion had been made to him that he could receive reduced prices on other goods as a result of purchases from certain wholesalers of some products of the Gillett company. A discount of five per cent. was taken off all invoices for five-case lots or more of Gillett goods. He had purchased Gillett goods from five wholesale firms. As far as he knew, there was nothing to show that the Gillett people had had anything to do with his receiving the discount suggestion. He said discounts of from five to ten per cent. were always allowed off invoices for starch.

The hearing was adjourned.

ELECTRIC LINES AID FRUIT BUSINESS

Encourage Production and Help Produce Movement, Witness Says.

Mayor Lovelace of St. Catharines, in giving evidence before the Sutherland Radial Commission at Osgoode Hall yesterday, declared that one of the principal reasons why the Niagara, St. Catharines & Toronto Electric Railway should be taken over by the Hydro Radial Commission was that it would bring about competition in freight rates.

"At the present time we feel that the N. S. & T. is practically tied up to the National Railway System," he said. "Business has suffered through fixed rates and monopolistic control of the national lines."

In the opinion of the witness much business had been lost by the N. S. & T. for lack of proper facilities. He contended that the service was neither full nor frequent enough.

W. R. Borgoyne, ex-mayor of St. Catharines, editor of The St. Catharines Standard, and president of the Hydro Radial Union of the Niagara district, pointed out that also the service on the N. S. & T. was far below what it should be or what it would be under Hydro Radial management. It had nevertheless demonstrated the superiority of electric lines over steam. He stated that the N. S. & T. was a steam road until 1906, when it was electrified. The seven municipalities in Lincoln from 1890 to 1900 showed only a growth of 27 and the seven municipalities of Welland only 277. With the electrification of the road in 1900 the Lincoln population had increased by 1919 by 8,288 and that of Welland by 7,303. From 1910 to 1920 Lincoln's population showed a growth of 10,080 and Welland of 20,537. The municipalities of Welland and Lincoln not served by the electric line had shown very marked decreases in population since 1900.

Speaking further regarding the benefits accruing from the electrification of the line, witness stated that with a service every two hours an against two trains per day under steam power, the passenger traffic had greatly increased and later on hourly service was instituted. The population had materially increased along the route, the extension and electrification of the line having been important factors in procuring industries throughout the district. Districts not served by the line had not progressed in anything like the same way.

Population Increased. Mr. Borgoyne said what St. Catharines now wanted was radial service to the west and northwest similar to that proven so successful to the east and southeast. He asserted that electric line had unquestionably encouraged the production of fruit and assisted in its movement.

Complaint of the delay in "less than carload shipments" via the G. T. R. from Hamilton and Toronto was made by C. S. Parnell, a wholesale grocer by St. Catharines, and formerly M.L.A. for Lincoln. He told of shipments being from six to eight days on the road.

INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL BOYS JUSTIFIED CONFIDENCE

Worthy of recording is the test that was given by the management of St. John's Industrial School, Blantyre, when the boys, 103 in number, were allowed out on parole for a few hours with the understanding that all should return at a certain time. The boys were to take a walk or otherwise employ themselves, according to inclination. Every boy came back and, with the exception of two or three who were a few minutes beyond the specified limit, everyone returned on time.

Another item of interest from the institution was the visit of the officers of the Holy Name Society, twenty in number, who, with their president and vice-president, Messrs. W. J. Baker and Smith, were the guests at dinner of the superintendent and staff of the institution.

CIVIC LINE TRAFFIC SHOWS BIG INCREASE

Traffic on the civic lines in the month just closed shows an increase of 15,000 passengers daily over the traffic of March, 1920. The actual number of passengers carried was 3,799,078, against 2,700,284 carried in March last year. The revenue last month was $58,020.53, an increase of $7,586.45 or 16.70 per cent.

CLEAN-UP AGREEMENT AWAITING APPROVAL

The board of control will have a conference on Wednesday or Thursday with Sir Adam Beck regarding the clean-up deal. The agreements are ready, and after getting the approval of the city, will be sent on to the legislature for ratification.

The mayor has received a copy of the proposed agreement. It's words, he said yesterday: "We will have to consider and pass on the Kingston road and radial entrance matters." "There will be no trouble about that. The city will retain control of the road. The city and the Hydro will be joint tenants (users) in common, the fee remaining with the city. There will be joint operation. The Hydro and the city are really all the same. But the fee should not be conferred."

MAYOR IS PESSIMISTIC OVER VIADUCT QUESTION

Mayor Church takes a very pessimistic view of the viaduct situation. "It is now or never with the viaduct," he said, adding that he believed the railway board and the government intended to grant indefinite postponement. There would probably be a crop of claims for damages from concerns whose lands were to be taken over, but these would be for the railway companies to settle.

INCREASE CONTINUES IN UNEMPLOYMENT BOARD STILL PRUNING ON CIVIC ESTIMATE

Relief Applications Again Go Over Two Thousand Mark—Farmers Take Men. Tax Rate at Present is About Three Mills Higher Than That of Last Year.

A big increase was shown in the number of Toronto's unemployed by the registration at the government employment bureau yesterday of 238 new applicants for work, the largest registration of new cases for a single day in more than a month.

The only work offering was from the farmers, who took 45 men back to the country with them yesterday. There was no work available in the city.

Relief applications were once more over the two thousand mark at the Krausmann Hotel yesterday, and it was reported that the relief situation was as serious now as it has ever been. Quite a number of single returned soldiers applied for relief, owing to their having been cut off by the department of soldiers' civil re-establishment. It was pointed out to The World by one of the officials that the government was transferring the burden of carrying these men on to the city instead of continuing to look after them men itself.
