LATE LOCALS

Chief Kerr of the fire department received from Ald. Thos. Bullock this morning the sum of $25 as a donation to the Firemen's Relief Association.

Three well filled immigrant trains passed through the city this morning on route west. The first one arrived at 2 o'clock, the second at 4 and the last one at 10:30 o'clock.

While taking bills from the depot to the I. C. R. sheds, this morning, Michael Driscoll took a weak turn and falling had his head cut rather badly. He was taken to his home on Smythe street.

The many friends of Harbor Master Ferris were pleased to see him about the streets again today. He is feeling much better and expects to be all right in a day or two.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas arrived on the Boston train today from a wedding trip, and are visiting friends in Fairville. Mrs. Thomas was formerly Miss E. A. Baxter of Norton. They will leave shortly for Calgary, where they will make their future home.

Indiantown was the scene of much drunkenness, Saturday night, and that usually quiet and peaceful part of the city was greatly disturbed by the noisy imbibers. Crowds of those celebrating congregated about the ferry house and not a few of them were injured by coming in contact with the ice and pebbles on the street.

The mayor was asked this morning if anything was being done in the matter of the harbor commission getting at work. He said he was awaiting word from Hon. Mr. Fisher, deputy minister of public works, but it appeared nothing was being done. He may write to Sir Wilfrid Laurier and ask him to look into the matter, if some action is not taken very soon.

A number of business men met Saturday afternoon and arranged for a public meeting to be held in the board of trade rooms tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock to discuss civic matters. The principal matters will be the new elections bill and the permanent street paving bill. The mayor and aldermen and a number of other citizens have been invited to speak. Another meeting may be held on Wednesday evening.

EXTENSION OF STREET RAILWAY

Matter of Street Cars Running Over Suspension Bridge Will Be Arranged This Week.

The question of the street cars running over the suspension bridge will probably be discussed this week. Col. McLean, vice-president of the St. John Railway Company, said this morning that Premier Pugsley had arranged for a conference to be held in Fredericton this week to discuss the matter. Col. McLean said he had asked that if the bridge was strengthened provision should be made for the street cars to run across.

Asked if there was a possibility of the lines being extended through Rockwood Park this year he replied that the company had all the work they could do this year to complete the west side tracks. Everything is now in readiness, he said, to lay the rails down Rodney wharf, as soon as the ferry boats are moved. The piling is all ready and the rails are likewise on hand. Work on the new car shed at the west side is going along as rapidly as possible.

THE KNOCKER

The penny-wise and pound-foolish policy has been well exemplified in the new sanitary conveniences in the country market.

For years the people who frequent the market had endured a disgraceful state of affairs, so far as sanitary arrangements were concerned, and a lot of money was spent from time to time in useless efforts to repair the irreparable.

At last it was decided to construct a place that would be clean, well ventilated, supplied with proper sanitary fittings, and so located as not to be an offence to the eyes, nostrils and stomachs of the people. Such a structure, of bricks, with tiling inside, and all the necessary fittings, was designed, and after very long delays was

J. S. WILLISON WILL SPEAK

Will Address the Canadian Club of St. John This Week.

A meeting of the executive of the Canadian Club will be held in the Times building this afternoon at 5.15 o'clock. The next club luncheon will be held the last of this week, possibly on Saturday, and the speaker will be J. S. Willison, the editor of the Toronto News. Mr. Willison goes to Halifax, to address the first luncheon of the newly formed Canadian Club in that city, and will come to St. John on his way home. He will address the Canadian Club of Montreal on Monday next. Mr. Willison is one of the brightest and most fearless of Canadian journalists, and he enjoys great popularity as a public speaker in Ontario cities. The Canadian Club is fortunate in prevailing on him to address its members.

SERMON ON ST. PATRICK

Ireland's Patron Saint the Subject of Rev. Fr. O'Keefe's Discourse in the Cathedral.

The feast of St. Patrick, the patron saint of Ireland, was today celebrated in the Roman Catholic churches. Solemn high mass was celebrated at the cathedral and the sermon on St. Patrick was preached by Rev. Father O'Keefe, and a collection was taken for the Roman Catholic orphanage.

Father O'Keefe took as his text St. Paul's words: "I have fought a good fight, I have kept the faith." In the course of his sermon the preacher referred to the sufferings of St. Paul, in spite of which at the close of his life he was able to speak the words of the text. He then reviewed the life of St. Patrick, telling of his birth in France, his faith and his teaching among the people of Ireland, and passed on to a description of the faith of the Irish people and their churches and monasteries; and then made a comparison of their trials and sufferings to show the value of keeping the faith for which they were so willing to suffer. He next referred to the Irish people as they were in the first periods of their faith, and concluded by narrating a legend of a woman who, in the days of King Malachy, passed through the island without being molested by its inhabitants.

SAY IT IS UNJUST

St. Paul, Minn., March 12, 1907. Editor Evening Times, St. John, N. B. Sir—Your issue of the 21st inst. is before me. I observe on page five an article taken from the Winnipeg Free Press. This article is very unfair, unjust and misleading.

The facts are that we were not parties to the suit and had no knowledge of the complaint. We are informed that the reason the defendants never made a complaint to us was for fear that we might block the plot which they had formed and be able to prove the identity of the scoundrel which we shall most certainly do when the next note is brought into suit.

The conspiracy appears to have been to procure exactly the evidence that was procured, granting us no opportunity to prove its falsehood, and then have Judge Matthews make a finding which they could have published in all the papers throughout the country. They hoped they could injure us to such a great extent through the publication of their malicious charges, having the cloak of respectability with Justice Matthews' name attached, so that we would be glad to call off the holders of the notes and pay them ourselves. We are not built of that kind of stuff. We may be unable to get any evidence before the Supreme Court in the case now pending, but we shall certainly establish the truth and identity of the scoundrel sold at Swan Lake, when the next suit is prosecuted. We trust you may give this information as much prominence as given to the malicious statements of what the Tory party furnished you by the Winnipeg publication. Very truly yours, McLAUGHLIN BROS.

A SERIOUS RUNAWAY

A rather serious runaway occurred this morning shortly after eleven o'clock in front of the depot on Mill street. E. A. Belyea, of Westfield, and wife, were driving along when their sleigh collided with electric car No. 32. The horse took fright and throwing the occupants out of the sleigh, ran down through the I. C. R. yard, where it was captured.

Mr. and Mrs. Belyea were slightly injured by the accident, and the former claims that the car ran into his sleigh while he was crowded near the track by other teams. He states that he intends to bring action against the street railway.

HAVE AT THEE, VILLAIN!

(Eastern Chronicle) The irresponsible and ignorant purveyor of misrepresentation whom the Tory party have hired to assist the "leader," "the editor-in-chief," in slinging mud each week, has, through the Standard, given an splendid illustration of the act he attempts to describe,—"putting his foot in it." We may as well squelch the individual effectively.

Yesterday was the feast of St. Patrick, Ireland's patron saint, but as it was Passion Sunday, in the Catholic churches the celebration was deferred until today. Father O'Donovan preached a very eloquent sermon yesterday on St. Patrick and Ireland's patron saint was also the theme of Rev. W. W. McMaster in the Germain street Baptist church last night.
