THE SNEEZEWOOD TREE.

One of nature's curiosities of South Africa is the Sneezeewood tree, which is so called because one cannot cut it with a saw without sneezing, as the fine dust has exactly the effect of snuff. No insect or worm will touch it; it is very bitter to the taste. When placed in water it sinks.

ENTERTAINED THE SOUTH END BOYS

The Y. M. A. of Germain street Baptist church gave the South End Boys' Club and their friends a delightful entertainment last evening. They were assisted by a Y. M. C. A. moving picture machine, operated by Louis F. Marshall. The entertainment began with several selections by the Germain street Y. M. A. orchestra led by Dr. P. L. Bonnell. The other members were L. Creighton, P. Bustin, S. Mealey, Reg Brown and R. Cosman. The playing by this excellent orchestra was very heartily enjoyed. Four reels of pictures were thrown on the screen, educative, adventurous and comic. A. M. Belding called the boys to order before the programme began and introduced W. C. Cross, who gave a bright and entertaining address as well as an impressive address to the boys. The G. Ballantyne was in charge of the Y. M. A. group. As the orchestra retired they were given three hearty cheers by the boys. Mr. Belding extended thanks to the Y. M. A. in behalf of the Boys' Club. This was the first of a number of entertainments which will be given to members of this club during the winter.

SARAH BERNHARDT BUYS BURIAL PLACE

Great French Actress Has Purchased Her Casket.
Paris, Dec. 7.—With the purchase of a tiny plot in the Bay of Biscay, Sarah Bernhardt has practically completed preparations for her death. The little rock island is only a few acres in extent, lying a number of miles off mainland near Belle Isle, where she has a summer home. Bernhardt has specified that she be buried on the island. The land was purchased from the French government for 1,200 francs.

It is understood that Bernhardt has made detailed plans for her funeral and the design for the tomb to be erected upon the isle. It is well known that she already has purchased the casket in which she desires to be interred. Despite these preparations, Bernhardt is as lively and vivacious as ever. She is appearing every night in "La Gloire" at her theatre, and critics declare that her art is as great as at any time in her career.

LOCAL NEWS

A fine big box of articles for a sale was packed up at the Red Cross depot yesterday afternoon to be sent to Miss Aylward, the public health nurse at Riley Brook. Miss Aylward will hold a sale to raise funds for her work, and her friends in the city have taken such pleasure in providing some articles for the sale. The Royal Standard chapter of the I. O. O. F., the girls of the Wilanetide school and interested Red Cross workers have together contributed the articles which have filled the box.

The Daughters of Israel met last night at the school house in Carleton street and received gratifying reports of recent efforts to raise funds. A rummage sale had netted $50; the raffling of a silver tray, donated by the president, Mrs. Joseph Goldman, had realized $50 and further gifts of friends brought the total amount to $120. Mrs. Goldman presided and there was a large attendance of members. Reports showed that the need for philanthropic work was even greater this winter than last winter and plans were made for caring for needy cases.

LIBERTY BOND INTEREST TAXED IF A DIVIDEND

Internal Revenue Bureau Announcement Intended as Warning to Corporations.

Washington, Dec. 7.—The Internal Revenue Bureau announced that there was nothing in the new revenue act which would permit corporations to distribute interest from Liberty bonds as dividends with the expectation that stockholders receiving dividends from such a source would not have to pay the income surtaxes. The statement was made in order to avert the purchase of large blocks of Liberty bonds by corporations which might constitute the law in such a manner as to make this procedure possible. If the attempt was made, the Revenue Bureau announced, there was ample legal means to handle the situation. The formal announcement read: "Under the Revenue act of 1918, interest on Liberty bonds held by corporations was exempt from the corporation income tax, and such interest is also exempt from the corporation income tax under the Revenue act of 1921. Liberty bond interest, however when distributed in the form of dividends, remains subject to surtaxes in the hands of the stockholders in the same manner as other dividends. There appears to be no reason to expect that the new law will give any encouragement to corporations to own Liberty bonds for the purpose of avoiding surtaxes, but if any such attempt should be made the law provides ample means for dealing with it."

HID FROM KIN 27 YEARS.
Death Shows "Miss Hatfield," Sixty, Was Mother of Five.

Camden, N. J., Dec. 7.—The death of a woman here, known here as Miss May Hatfield, sixty years old, owner of a cigar and candy store at Point and Erie streets, revealed a strange story of a redoubt, long supposed by her family to be dead. Nearly $1,000 in cash was found in her house. Just before she died the woman sent for a neighbor, saying she was married and had one daughter and four sons, whom she left more than twenty-five years ago. She gave the name and address of her son in Philadelphia. He arrived this afternoon and recognized his mother, whom he had not seen in twenty-seven years. The son searched the house and found in a couch $500 in bills and $200 under carpets. One and two-dollar bills behind window frames and pictures amounted to nearly $400. Neighbors said the woman had not been seen to leave the house in twenty-two years, doing her shopping through children.
