Golf and Nerves. There is one phase of the game writes Fred Ray in the Windsor Magazine, which I am of opinion no amount of practice other than competitive is of use. I refer to putting. Go out to the green and you will hole putts in that nothing is depending on the ball. Your nerves are at rest, and ball is struck correctly. But what a nerve when you are engaged in a hole or playing in a competition! Nerves, the beginner has to learn how to hold his club and strike the ball; to judge the strength of the greens, many other matters. But this being said, to-hole putts is quite another thing. It is not motor or aeroplanes that would astonish you. But light. The lights of London, even younger men must remember candle, the paraffin lamp, which lit horribly, and lit but a corner of the room. Fifty years ago the light of the candle was a candle or two encouraged nuffers. And this evening the awfully Victorian is dazzled by the electric light that turn midnight into noonday; houses and streets have abolished candles, and the coming of light would be wonder of the man who had gone deep with a tallow candle and wakened the switch.

NATIONAL CONFERENCE OF SCIENTIFIC EXPERTS PLAN REMEDIES TO CHECK DOWNWARD TREND OF HUMAN RACE

Battle Creek Sanitarium, Dr. Stephen Smith, Judge Ben Lindsay, Mrs. Ella Flagg Young, Dr. J. H. Kellogg and Rev. Newell Dwight Hillis.

The National Conference on Race Betterment which opened in Battle Creek, Mich., on Jan. 8, is the first representative group of competent scientific experts ever gathered in the United States to discuss the deterioration of the human race and to propose remedies to check the downward trend. Similar conferences have been held in other countries. The decline of the birth rate in the British Isles became so alarming that the English Parliament appointed a commission to make a study of the conditions and to recommend plans for their amelioration. France has also given official recognition to the downward tendency of the race and is taking steps to avert its eventual extinction. Speakers of national prominence have a share in the work of the conference, among them: Dr. Victor C. Vaughan, president of the American Medical Association; Dr. Ernest B. Hoag, of Leland Stanford University; Dr. W. A. Evans, medical editor of the Chicago Tribune; Dr. Booker T. Washington, principal of Tuskegee Normal; Mrs. Ella Flagg Young, superintendent of the Chicago public school system; Dr. C. B. Davenport, director of the Carnegie Station of Experimental Evolution; Rev. Newell Dwight Hillis, pastor of Plymouth Church, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Hon. Woodbridge N. Ferris, governor of Michigan; U. S. Senator Chas. E. Townsend of Michigan; Sir Horace Plunkett, former minister of agriculture for Ireland; S. S. McClure of New York, and others of equal prominence. Dr. J. H. Kellogg, superintendent of the Battle Creek Sanitarium where the principal sessions of the conference were held, was the host of the conference and delivered an address on "A New Race," which was the keynote of the meeting. The conference, it is anticipated, will be made an annual affair, funds from a private endowment making that possible. It will study and encourage all practicable methods of race advancement and will endeavor to keep public sentiment alive to the modern trend of scientific achievement in race betterment. His Outlook. His aunt said to the boy athlete the other day: "I am delighted to hear of your success on the school baseball team, Harold; but you must remember that there are other things in life besides baseball." "Yes, aunt, I know," said the boy, "but, hang it all, I'm afraid I'm too light for football or rowing." — Boston Transcript.

NEW YORK'S WATER TUNNEL TOTALS A COST OF $160,000

Is Largest in World and Will Deliver 500,000,000 Gallons a Day

New York, Jan. 16—After nine years of labor, the last barrier has been broken in the Catskill Aqueduct Tube, the longest water tunnel in the world. It extends 111 miles, from the Ashokan Dam at Esopus, N. Y., to Brooklyn, and when in operation will supply New York with 500,000,000 gallons of water daily. By many engineers the undertaking has been classed second only to the Panama Canal. It cost more than $160,000,000 and in human lives nearly 300. A dull roar signaling a dynamite blast 400 feet underground in Harlem marked the breaking through of the tunnel. The tube for the most part is 500 feet beneath the ground, and in spots dips to more than 700. It varies in diameter from eleven to seventeen feet. Within two years it is promised that water will be flowing.

OPENING UP FORESTS AND GUARDING AGAINST FIRES

Spokane, Wash., Jan. 15—Four hundred and forty-seven miles of telephone line and 800 miles of trail were completed in the national forests of western Montana and northern Idaho during the last summer and fall by the United States forest service, making a total of 8,183.52 miles of telephone line and 4,903.75 miles of trail. The telephone lines and trail constructed this summer open up for protection some of the largest bodies of timber, and the construction of the lines adds greatly to their protection from fire. The recent facilities for the handling of the fire situation in northern Idaho and Montana show a great improvement over what they were in 1910. "Binks inherits his wit." "Yes, he writes the same jokes his grandfather wrote."
