KATE VALLIANT. Continued from 4th page. Mr. Valliant accepted the defence of his dead wife affably. He was already feeling that life still has joys in store for him, if unhampered by a daughter he could go to the sequestered nook he had spoken of, and there enjoy the good income and him by his wife unobserved by any domestic responsibility.

CHAPTER II. IN BOOMERANG ROAD. While Mr. Wynham and his sister Kate Valliant were travelling towards Mrs. Carroll was exercising herself both in spirit and body, in making preparations for the 'At Home,' especially with a view to its offering a fair aspect to the observation of Mr. Wynham and his sister.

CHAPTER III. THE BOOMERANG ROAD. A few words about the waste of butter fat in cheese making. Before leaving the vat there is a little waste of fat without a corresponding waste of casein because of harsh handling, the fine particles of casein carrying the butter with it.

CHAPTER IV. THE BOOMERANG ROAD. The first thing that brought heads out of open windows, caused noses to be thrust against closed ones, and made the mid-day post-boy pause in his rounds with the dinner bell, was the spectacle of the elevation of a crimson canopy over the balcony at No. 12. Presently after this, arrived half a dozen palm ferns of invalidish aspect, in company with an elderly man in a dark frock, a few well-washed steaks bearing a flower-piece, and some baskets of primroses.

CHAPTER V. THE BOOMERANG ROAD. The fact is, dear, when I was in town in Christmas, I met a girl called Blanche Carroll, at a dance at Mrs. Beaufort's who nearly made me propose to her straight off the first time I saw her, she was so exactly like what I want my wife to be. I've spoken to you about Mrs. Beaufort, the old Admiral's wife haven't I?

CHAPTER VI. THE BOOMERANG ROAD. Women suffering from the ailments peculiar to their sex, and pale and sorrowful may be speedily cured and restored to a fresh blooming complexion by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. W. J. Witter, Franklin, Mass., writes:—'My sister had been ill for seven or eight years and looked as though she were going to the grave. Your Dr. Williams' Pink Pills completely restored her. Sold by all druggists. Beware of imitations. ADVERTISE IN THIS PAPER.'

AGRICULTURE. Notes and Suggestions of Practical Utility. FOR THE FARM, FIELD, GARDEN AND DAIRY. Cleanings of Interest for Our Country Readers. Animals have no moral restraint; they are amenable only to the physical law.
