A poem by the Archbishop of Halifax is published by Appletons of New York. It fills a neat and well printed volume of 150 pages. The poem is entitled ninta, a modern Life Drama," and sets forth the overthrow of agnosticism in the minds of the actors by the influences of religion. The subject is treated in verse, which sometimes reminds us of Moore, but we fancy His Grace has found himself somewhat trammelled here and there by the exigencies of the several hero and heroine. His Grace's book will no doubt be widely read.

Seven Wild Geese at one Shot:

He was lying surrounded by his decoys when a fine flock of geese came within aplendid range, being about ten to fifteen yards high and from thirty to forty yards distant. In sketching out the history of Daven port & Treacy and their unprecedented rise into an important place in relation to piano manufacturing in this country, a most interesting changes is unfolded. A Very Successful Native of Chatham, Spillane's History of the American pianoforte has an interesting sketch of the business of Messrs. Davenport & Treacy, which will be interesting to many who remember Mr. Treacy and his family, who formerly resided in Chatham. The Journal says:—

Spillane's History of the American pianoforte has an interesting sketch of the business qualifications, have always taken pains to merit the good-will and esteem of the piano trade and the musical press, and are highly esteemed as private citizens. Within the domain of their business interests they are highly progressive and liberal. They have succeeded only by honorable methods and are altogether a firm entitled to eminent esteem affd favor, and are no small factor in the statistics of piano history.

A serviceable and comfortable carriage is a good thing to CARRIAGES.

There is a little history attached to the factory where our carriages are made which may interest you. The Gananoque Carriage factory was started by some Ontario men. They did not have much experience when they began though they had a lot of money. One was a grain buyer and another a merchant and another a member of parliament and so on. In a year or two they had less money but more experience and then being sensible men they began to look about for other men who had both money and experience to join them else they would not have had anything but experience left.

Just about that time, some makers of carriages from Ohio were at Ottawa trying to get the government to lower the barriers which prevented them from driving their vehicles over into our markets. But the government said NO.

If you want our markets bring your men and your machinery and your money into our country and make here combined. The Ohio men had practical experience in making fine carriages and the Ontario men had a good general knowledge of our country and what its people wanted their vehicles to be like. The combination was a good one and has prospered. Gananoque carriages were sold last year by the thousand in every province in Canada from the shores of one great ocean to that of the other and all along the ways between. We sold over five hundred ourselves last year and expect to sell as many this year.
