Fredericton Junction, June 24.—Church people throughout the diocese, who are taking a deep interest in the work which is being done by the Rev. Horace E. Dibblee, rector of Burton, in his new mission of Gladstone and Blissville, will hear with pleasure that a most successful jubilee service was held at Fredericton Junction on the evening of the 22nd instant. Major Hartt's company of the 71st Battalion, after a preliminary drill under Lieut. Thomas, marched to the hall and took up a position opposite the front entrance. Soon afterwards quite a number of Orangemen from the Loyal Orange lodges in the neighborhood assembled near the soldiers, and in a few moments a good representation of the Order of Foresters put in an appearance.

Promptly at the hour of half-past seven the clergy filed in procession out into the crowd, which was patiently waiting for the doors to be opened. The choir members, to the number of about fifteen, having been admitted to their places on the platform, the signal was given and the procession entered the hall, led by seven clergymen, who were closely followed by the officers and men of the 71st, the Orangemen, the Foresters and the citizens. The gallant colonel of the battalion, with Major Hart and Lieut. Thomas, were given seats beside their men, who were given the right front rows of the hall, the Orangemen sitting directly opposite, and the Foresters were seated on chairs in the main aisle.

The chief usher during the evening was a veteran of the Crimean war, Sergeant John Alexander, who bore upon his breast her majesty's Crimean medal, with three clasps. He was ably seconded in his efforts to seat the vast crowd by that energetic church worker, H. A. Thomas. The singing was a specially attractive feature, the hymns being from the Jubilee collection, and were excellently sung. The National Anthem at the close of the service never went up from more grateful hearts than many of those who sang it at Fredericton Junction on this occasion. The prayers, with special jubilee collects, were said by Rev. A. B. Murray of Stanley. Rev. John Parkinson read the first lesson and Rev. Rural Dean Roberts the second lesson. The sermon was preached by Rev. H. Montgomery, rector of Kingsclear, from the following words: "By me kings reign, by me princes decree justice," and short addresses of encouragement and good cheer were given by Rev. Sub-Dean Whalley and Rev. R. W. Colston.

The Rev. H. E. Dibblee, who some two years ago held here the first Church of England service ever known in this place, has every reason to feel gratified with the result of his efforts to celebrate with us the jubilee of our gracious sovereign. Andover, June 23.—One day last week two prisoners escaped from the county jail here. One was Mitchell Leport, an Indian, and the other a man named Gerow, who was in for debt. Sheriff Tibbits, who is also jailor, left in the morning, leaving the prisoners locked behind the corridor door, but having the range of the cells. About noon they succeeded in breaking open the door leading to the main hall, and escaped from there by way of a bedroom window. They were last seen going across the flats on their way to Uncle Sam's domain. The Indian Leport had only been in the jail for a few days, and was serving a sentence of six months for keeping intoxicating liquor and selling it to Indians on the reserve.

For some months past rum has been an article of commerce at Indian Point. The department of Indian affairs at Ottawa being informed of the state of the case, ordered Indian Agent Farrell to investigate, with the result that Leport was arrested and convicted.

The work on the interior of the new Episcopal church is progressing very rapidly.

Members of the Masonic order assembled at their lodge room this morning and clothed in regalia, marched in a body to Wesley Memorial church, where Rev. R. S. Crisp preached an able sermon from the text 1st Kings, 6th and 7th verses: "And the house when it was in building, was built of stone made ready before it was brought thither; so that there was neither hammer nor axe nor any tool of iron heard in the house, while it was in building."

The rev. gentleman spoke of three periods in a nation's history—the heroes, when the great fathers of the nation are struggling for existence; the period of splendor and the period of decadence. Isreal in the time of the text was just emerging from the first to the second stage in its history. The preacher then referred at some length to the building of the temple, in which 153,000 men were employed and a proof of the strength of the structure, the foundations still remain. It remained for those who belong to the noble order of Free and Accepted Masons to discover the secret meaning of the Operative Masonry of ancient times and in the building of the temple they had the highest authority for taking their leading idea. The preacher proceeded to pay a high tribute to the Masonic order, to its acts of benevolence done without ostentation and to its many other good features. The sermon was greatly apreciated by the congregation as a whole, as well as by the members of the society for whom it was specially prepared.

Fredericton, N. B., June 21.—Relay bicycle race from Fredericton to St. John will be done tomorrow, starting from here at six o'clock. The Fredericton club sent men out this evening and the St. John men are here. The heavy state of the roads, it is feared, will prevent fast time. Fredericton, N. B., June 23.—W. R. Racey, the well known and popular agent of the Merchants' Bank of Halifax, is dead, and the circumstances of his death are as startling as the event was sudden. After the bank clased this afternoon, Mr. Racey went up the road for a ride upon his horse Jumpaway, as was his usual custom. About six o'clock the town was startled with the news that he had been thrown from his horse and killed, near Ryan's brickyard, about a mile above the city. This information was not correct; Mr. Racey was not killed. He was riding along a perfect level piece of road and fell from his horse, dead. Heart failure was the cause. When first discovered he lay at the side of the road, lifeless, and the horse stood near him eating grass. There were no bruises or marks of any kind on the body, and no disfigurement of his clothing, and although no person saw him fall, everything points to this conclusion, and this is the opinion of the physicians who saw the body and know the man. Arrangements were at once made for the removal of the body to his residence, but definite arrangements for the funeral are not yet made, but it will probably take place on Friday. The deceased was a gentleman well and favorably known in this city and throughout the maritime towns and cities, where his bank has an agency. He was born in Ontario, near Sarnia, and has a brother in Chicago and a sister in London, Ont., and was about forty years old. Mrs. Racey, who is not strong, is completely prostrated with grief. A PECULIAR CASE.

DISTRESSING RESULTS FOLLOWING VACCINATION.

A Young Daughter of David McHardy, of Fergus, the Victim—Has Suffered the Most Intense Agony—Doctors Failed to Help Her.

(From the Fergus News-Record.)

Nearly every person in this section is acquainted with Mr. David McHardy, the popular leader of St. Andrew's church choir, Fergus. Our reporter called upon Mr. McHardy at his home in Upper Nichol recently, and from him and his estimable wife a tale of terrible suffering was elicited, suffering that has brought a once exceptionally strong and healthy child to the verge of the grave. The subject of the sketch, Lena McHardy is fourteen years of age, and her parents say she has not grown any since her illness began some two years and a half ago. Her terrible suffering dates from the time she was vaccinated in June, 1894, and what she has undergone has aroused the deepest sympathy of all the friends of the family. In conversation with Mr. McHardy and his wife the following facts were elicited: "Two years ago last June," said the father, "Lena was vaccinated by a doctor in Fergus. The arm was very sore and swollen all summer, and became so bad that it was a mass of sores from the shoulder to the elbow. In October 1894 a large lump appeared on her back, over one of her lungs. The doctor who vaccinated her treated her all that summer, calling very frequently, but the medicine he gave her did no good and she was growing weaker and weaker. When the lump broke out on her back another doctor was consulted, who said she was in a very bad state of health. Her constitution appeared to be completely undermined and her appetite had completely failed. The last doctor called in gave some outward applications and lanced the gathering, but it did not give the patient any benefit. Nine such gatherings have appeared since that time, but each broke and disappeared of its own accord, only however to be followed by another. The child became very puny, and little or no food would remain on her stomach. At night she would fairly rave with the pain in her arm and back, and consequently her trouble was aggravated by a loss of sleep. She had the best of attendance, but to no avail, and she was slowly but surely sinking. Friends advised a treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and as a last resort they were tried. To the surprise of both parents and friends Lena began to improve soon after beginning the use of the pills. Her appetite returned, she became stronger and her general health much improved. The sores have not yet left her back and arm, but her constitution is being so very much improved under the treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills that her parents are looking for a complete cure. Mr. and Mrs. McHardy thank Pink Pills for the present improved condition of their child, as they have done her more good than the scores of bottles of doctor's medicine which she took.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a blood builder and nerve restorer. They supply the blood with its life and healthgiving properties thus driving disease from the system. There are numerous pink colored imitations, against which the public is warned. The genuine Pink Pills can be had only in boxes, the wrapper around which bears the full trade mark, "Dr. Williams' Pink Pils for Pale People. Refuse all others.
