The Correct Clothes At "Correct" Prices

A business-like business suit, a frock coat or Prince Albert, or an evening dress suit, should be "correct" in fit, form and fashion—and it costs you no more to get such a suit than one that transgresses the rules of good taste and current style.

Modish suits for Easter wear—business and semi-dress suits for all the year—Prince Albert and evening dress suits for special occasions—and overcoats that are in keeping with the suits.

NEW CANDIDATES FOR COUNCIL Zemacura GIVE PROMISE OF LIVE CONTEST

Situation Materially Changed by Entry of Strong Group of Prominent Business Men-More Expected-Who the Candidates Will Be exception of H. H. Pickett are in the field for re-election.

Already several candidates had announced their intention of entering the lists, but there were hardly enough of them tomake the fight really interesting. The situation was materially changed yesterday when the announcement was made that a number of prominent business men are likely to be candidates. So far eight names have been announced and more are expected. It is understood that some of those who are mentioned have not entirely made up their minds, and are walting to see what a complete ticket would look like before giving their final consent.

Already several candidates had announced their intention of entering the include him in such a ticket he has no objections.

It is understood that Aldermen Frink, Sculley, Elkin, Rowan will not receive serious opposition for re-election, and Ald. Christie is likely to go in by acciamation.

The developments in the next few days will be watched with interest. The present council and the group of candidates announced yesterday and the other individual candidates so far in the field are as follows:

There are now excellent prespects of a very lively fight among those who wish to retain or attain the honor of a seat at the common council next year. Until recently it looked as if the present council was to receive little opposition. Mayor Bullock will in all probability be returned by acclarmation and all the aldermen with the exception of H. H. Pickett are in the field for re-election.

While there has been no announcement of a definite ticket it is under stood that these gentlemen are working together in the interests of good government and will form what will be practically a citizens' ticket. Some of them when approached by the Star this morning were unwilling to discuss the matter until their arrangements are nearer completion.

"Don't pay too much for your whistle." Think of that proverb when you select your new spring clothes. Think also of C. B. Pidgeon at the corner of Main and Bridge streets. Think again of the fine qualities you can buy here and the money you can buy here and the money you can save.

"Main street, Fairville of teachers was formed to make arrangements and it was hoped to make up a party who would travel together in a tourist car. So far the rallway rate offered has been prohibitive, but it is hoped that better rates will be secured later. The American roads will be giving very low rates to the Seattle Exposition and this may aid the teachers in securing transportation at a reasonable figure.

Apart from the benefit of attending the conference such a trip would be wery desirable for those engaged in educational work. The efforts to hake up a large party will be continued and it is expected that soms arrangement will be reached that will make it hoses to the secured to make up a party who would travel together in a tourist car. Thursday evening about twenty invited relatives gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Stout, Sr., in honor of the christening of their first little grand-daughter. Rev. T. J. Deinstadt, of the Fairville Methodist Church, performed the ceremony, giving the little one the name Ruby Jean. The parents of the child, Mr. and Mrs. William Stout, Jr., were sponsers. A bountiful supper was served at the conclusion of the ceremony.

At present prospects are splendid for a good Easter market in all lines of produce. Reasonable prices are being asked and fair changes are expected to take place. The quantity on hand is a large and varied one, and starting today trade is expected to be especially brisk until after Easter.

The scarcity of poultry is apparent, but the next few days should witness a big increase in the number of fowl arriving. ENTERTAIN CAPT. MILLS

Luncheon at the Union Club Today—School for instruction Closes After Successful Session.

A very pleasant function took place at the Union Club today, when the officers of the 3rd Regiment Canadian Artillery entertained Capt. J. E. Mills, R. G. A., Quebec, at luncheon. Col. J. B. M. Baxter presided and the affair proved very enjoyable. Capt. Mills has been in St. John for several weeks in connection with the work of the school for instruction which has been carried on for the benefit of the officers, noncoms. and men of the Third Regiment. The school has been in session for six weeks with Sergt. Major Cox acting as instructors. Six officers and about forty men have taken the course to qualify Corner Duke & Charlotte Sts instructors, Six officers and about forty men have taken the course to qualify for certificates and the school has been as the school has been and the school has been as the for certificates and the school has been in every way a success. It is said, in fact, to have been the most successful conducted in Canada this year. Last night the non-come, and men completed their work and the officers will finish next week.

At the Natural History Society of Tuesday evening Dr. Matthew will lecture on Phosphate Beds in South Carolina and New Brunswick, and will also explain a new class of plants. These subjects will be illustrated. The public are invited.
