

INDUSTRIAL OPPORTUNITIES.

THE SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN SHOWS HOW TRADE MAY BE EXTENDED.

What is Good for Americans Should be Good for Canadians—Both Countries Have the Goods and the Markets Can be Developed.

The search for foreign markets may be justly said to have developed in recent times into an exact, specialized science, in which, not only individual experts and associations, but expert government commissions, elaborately organized, equipped, and maintained, each play with constantly increasing efficiency their coordinate roles.

The German Export Commission was sent out in February, 1906, to study the markets of China, Korea, and Japan, and returned after a year of thorough and carefully systematized work, bringing back a collection of not only the art products or other merchandise ordinarily exported from those countries, but also of ordinary textiles and other goods made in those countries for the use of their own people or for export to neighboring countries.

Similarly in France, the commercial commission sent out by the Chamber of Commerce of five manufacturing cities, Marseilles, Roubaix, Lille, Bordeaux, and Lyons, has returned after an absence of nearly two years, and has presented its collection and reports to the Chamber of Commerce directly interested.

REV. DR. CAREY DEAD.

The Former Pastor of Brussels Street Baptist Church Expires Suddenly in Ottawa.

Rev. Dr. Carey, formerly pastor of Brussels Street Baptist Church, died suddenly Tuesday afternoon in Ottawa, where he has been residing with his daughter, Mrs. J. B. Tyrrell. The telegram announcing the sad news came to the home of Mr. McGinty, 24 Padlock street, where Rev. Dr. Carey lived while in St. John, and it caused a great shock indeed.

No particulars were given, but the Telegram's Ottawa correspondent was wired and furnished the account given by the doctor's lamented death. The news quickly spread among the congregation of Brussels street Baptist church and many called at Mr. McGinty's to ascertain if the report were accurate. When they learned that it was, expressions of deep sorrow were heard from all.

Dr. Carey was a friend to everyone he met and so general was the esteem in which he was held that it is safe to say where he was when the great character of the man is known. Amiable, charitable, broad-minded and an earnest Christian, none who knew him but must respect and admire him. As one of his former congregations at Brussels street church said Tuesday evening, he lived as a child, free entirely from the darker side of life.

He went to Upper Canada, intending to go to his home at Fort Rowan on Lake Erie, to rest for a time and pursue his studies in Gaelic and Hebrew. Resolutions of regret at his departure were passed by the Baptist ministers, and by the Executive Alliance, of which he had been president.

Ottawa, May 16.—One of the most able and successful men of his time in Canada, Rev. Dr. G. M. Carey, passed away today at the residence of his son-in-law, Mr. J. B. Tyrrell.

His death was sudden. For several days he had been suffering from acute indigestion. When his danger visited him at noon he was asleep. Later in the afternoon he was found dead in bed.

THIS LOOKS SERIOUS.

BRITISH OFFICERS ARRESTED FOR CONSPIRACY BY BURGHERS.

This Will Probably Bring to a Head the Troubles Between the Outlanders and the Dutch Settlers—List of Grievances at the Bottom of the Affair.

JOHANNESBURG, May 16.—A number of men have been arrested here on the charge of high treason. The officers arrested, who are eight in number, instead of seven as previously called, are Captain Patterson, formerly of the Lancers; Col. R. F. Nicholls, Lieut. E. J. Tremlett, Lieut. C. A. Ellis, lately a private detective at Johannesburg, Lieut. John A. L. Mitchell, formerly of the horse artillery, former Sergeant Fries, former Sergeant R. P. Hooper, and former Sergeant Nichols. None of them has been in the employ of the British South Africa Chartered Company.

It is stated that the commissioner of police who had the affair in hand had been working on the case for four months. Mr. Beatty, the detective, who effected the arrests, received his instructions last week and secured the necessary warrants yesterday.

The executive of the Transvaal is sitting in secret session this evening considering the arrests.

Further warrants have been issued. It is asserted that the officers already arrested were also preparing to organize a corps in Natal, the British colony between the Orange Free State and the Indian ocean, to assist the projected movement at Johannesburg.

CAPE TOWN, May 16.—According to advices from Pretoria the charge against the prisoners is that, while staying in the sand privately, they were read and engaged in enlisting men for the purpose of rebellion when they were ready to give the signal.

It is stated that the enlistment roster included 2,000 men, and that a number of incriminating documents were found at the time the arrests were made.

LONDON, May 16.—Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, secretary of state for the colonies, who was interviewed in the lobby of the house of commons this evening, said he had heard nothing officially regarding the arrests in the Transvaal, but he asserted that he could lead him in any way to anticipate or explain the arrests.

The news caused considerable excitement among the members of the house, but little disposition was manifested to credit the rumors of a rebellious conspiracy.

The grievances of the Outlanders, or residents of British or other nationality living in the Transvaal were recently enumerated as follows by a correspondent of the London Times:

- 1. They (the Outlanders) have no vote in the levying of taxes.
- 2. No voice in the payment of officials.
- 3. No control of the education of the country.
- 4. No power in the municipal government of their townships.
- 5. Their newspapers are gagged. If an editor offend Mr. Kruger he may be sent to prison, or sent to live at Pietermaritzburg in the case of levying, or sent out of the country altogether.
- 6. They are not permitted to hold public meetings.
- 7. The period when they can acquire rights of citizenship has been extended from two to twelve years after they have taken the oath of allegiance. British allegiance; and this only by the vote of three-quarters of the burglers in each man's individual district.
- 8. The juries by whom they are tried are not their peers, but burglers, their political masters.
- 9. They must bear the entire taxation of the country.
- 10. Their interests in the country are burdened by monopolies. Of such take one instance, comparatively trivial—is the saturated water concession. To protect the monopolists to whom this was granted a tax of three pence was levied.

11. Their children born in the republic have been deprived of the birthright of citizenship.

12. There is a law which would deprive even of the right to complain.

13. The president of the republic may expel from the country any member of the community whom he may wish to get rid of. This without trial.

14. Dues, loans—given as if personally from the president—are made indiscriminately to the burglers. The writer knows of cases where the president's family have given £200 at a time on note of hand. These are not in the way of charity. It is realized on both sides that these loans are the price of constant loyalty and service to the president. An eminent Dutch banker comments on this impression. Of his own experience he is aware of these loans, and a war of their states, that they should be repaid in money or in kind. Thus the burglers are bound to the status quo. The money comes, of course, from the Outlanders' pockets in the first instance.

15. The principle has been established that the government should take up bonds on farms so as to prevent the land from passing into the hands of Outlanders.

A petition embodying these grievances and beseeching the intervention of Her Majesty was recently addressed to Queen Victoria by twenty-one thousand Uitlanders of British descent or nationality.

On May 5 last President Kruger refused Great Britain's demand for the cancellation of the dynamite concession, contending it constitutes a breach of the London convention of 1884 by the terms of which the British sovereignty is restricted to control of foreign relations.
