DIPLOMATIC RELATIONS BETWEEN THE U. S. TO BE CONTINUED.

GREAT BRITAIN.

The following is the latest in ment:

On the evening of Friday the 20th Gladstone stated that on Monday last Lord Palmerston announced it was the intention of Her Majesty's Government to suspend diplomatic relations with the A. Minister, he did not give any explanation of the motives which led to that course, he adverted to the conduct of the A. government in the dismissal of Mr. Palmerston. At that period there was reason to believe that the A. government was not, and therefore, have thought the explanation at that time premature. He did not of this silence, but the motion to which referred having been withdrawn, and the some uncertainty, also, as to the which an action, gentlemanly opponent, who given notice of his intention to introduce question, was about to take, he thought important that the House should be early as possible the nature of the reply the government intend to give to the de from Mr. Marcy, respecting the dismissal of Mr. Cameron from Washington, and laps, when they had the answer in to time to discuss the question. He the wished to know when the government be prepared to lay their reply to Mr. Marcy upon the table.

Lord Palmerston said his hon. friend rightly understood the motive which in him to abstain on Monday from making observations upon the subject. His equally strong prevailed on the present occasion. He would, therefore, say in the question, that he had no doubt of the ability to lay all the papers upon the table, including Lord Clarendon's answer to Mr. Marcy on the course of next week, pro on an early day.

Sir J. Pakington said the honorable member had acted quite right in asking the government for the production of the papers, and he was glad to hear that in course of a few days the House would be in possession of the papers returned to Mr. Marcy's patch. It would, perhaps, be only fair towards the government to postpone any cussion on their conduct with regard to elatement question until the despatch was received, but he earnestly hoped that despatch would not be long delayed. He spoke of the papers returned to Mr. Marcy, when he said that he regarded with signs of the greatest anxiety—the almost say with shame—the state of relations with America. For the preat position of affairs he attached blame, judging only from the public documents which were in the hands of honorable members, to what he considered to be the misconduct and unwise policy of Her Majesty's government, by which the government of the United States had been irritated, and offended. Under the circumstances, he regretted that Mr. Baillie felt him under the necessity of withdrawing his motion, but he trusted that the intention of Mr. Marcy or some other independent member, would party sense and wisdom, and the opportunity of the House on the subject of the attention to the real merits of the question.

Sir G. Grey strongly deprecated the adopted by the Hon. Baronet, in express so decided an opinion upon the question the present moment. He was glad to find only from the cheers on his own side, and not from the manifest indications of the side of the hon. Baronet, that his view did not meet with general concurrence.

Mr. Moore appealed to Lord Palmerston to appoint an early day for discussion on the subject.

No answer was returned, and the subject was dropped.
