

"Pining for Love." The following is a reprint of the Montreal Gazette. It is either a neat way of advertising the ball, or else the trick of a forward girl. In either case it is a production of spirit.

"Sir, I am unfortunately a ward in Chancery, and have an old curmudgeon of an uncle that would rival Sir Peter Teazle or Sir Anthony Absolute for tediousness. At present he is suffering, like Mr. Shandy from rheumatism, and he will not be reasoned with. I have pleaded my case like an angel, showing him the necessity of my getting a partner for life, and in order the better to make a choice, pointed out to him the desirability of my going to the coming ball in honor of the maritime select society, especially as it is known, amongst a select circle, that his Excellency the Governor General and his suite intend honoring the festivities with their presence. His reply is something like that of Polonius to the fair Ophelia—'Poh! you speak like a green girl. This is for all—I will not, in plain terms, let you go. My rejoinder certainly was not 'I shall obey my uncle.' What am I to do? I am eighteen, slightly blonde; my name and address is ———. Would that I could divulge them with propriety! I am sure that I should have in the fair city of Montreal some gallant, with the spirit of Romeo or Lorenzo, to go to the ball with me, and I would have loved me, stealing my soul with many a woe, and straining my arms from my dusky tresses. Fortunately, I have an Abigail who is very fertile, and as the night of the ball is not yet definitely fixed, I may yet succeed by some ruse or other to get a chance of a polka. If so, for the curious, I shall be dressed in blue. My gage to any fellow with a heart, and a bounding says, with a bound that to W. Carss's complexion that like me, and breath that I defy not, will be a surrogue, which I shall wear as a necktie, one equal in value to that parted with by Scrooge, but one which my old Shylock of a guardian would not give for a hundred pounds of money, but in his fastidiousness—but I say again—denominated all bachelors under twenty-one. In the days of chivalry, from the time of Amadis de Gaul to that of the renowned Don Quixote de la Mancha, it was customary for the Sir Knights to throw down the gauntlet of defiance for the honor of some Dulcinea del Toboso. I hope I shall be pardoned for throwing down my gage in the hope that some light and mirror of gallantry will release me from a home that might not inaptly be termed a Worm Candy.

(CERTIFICATE.)

Albany Medical College, December 15, 1862.

I have the honor to certify that I have analyzed Dr. Ward's Worm Candy, and to the public I would say that it contains nothing that is in the least injurious to the youngest infant. They are entirely vegetable, and possess those truly antiseptic qualities which alone are preferred as exterminators of the common or LINDS.

J. V. P. QUACKENBUSH, Prof. of Obstetrics, Albany Medical College, Women and Children.

This Medicine has been prepared by the proprietors for a number of years; it has been used with the most decided success in numerous families of the first respectability, and has received the approval and recommendation of several eminent medical gentlemen. The most alarming symptoms of the disease arising from the prevalence of worms in the intestines have been speedily and entirely removed by the use of the VEGETABLE WORM CANDY.

Dreadful indeed are the effects of these pernicious vermin on the constitution, destroying the appetite, vitiating the nourishing principles, and their certain consequences are paleness, emaciation, a stoppage of the growth, etc., and often followed by consumption and decline. Even where worms are not discharged, this medicine acts as a gentle and safe domestic physic, clearing the passages of whatever is noxious, introducing a healthy chyle into the constitution. This is a purely vegetable preparation, and contains nothing that is injurious to the smallest infant, and children will eat them as quickly as common candy.

Price 25 cents.
