BIG INDUSTRY

Something about one of the Maple City's Entertaining
Factories—its Rapid Development.

Of the many industries that are making Chatham famous, none of these is making more rapid strides or bringing out more rapidly than is the lumber business of J. L. Scott. Only last July the business was started under the firm name of Colby, Scott & Co. Now, however, Mr. Scott has assumed all interests in the large business. Floyd Scott has charge of the office business and William Link is superintendent in the factory.

Already the business gives steady employment to fourteen hands. The site chosen for the planing mill and lumber yard of J. L. Scott is particularly adapted to the lumber business with its good dockage and large room for the storage of lumber. At present there is about 750,000 feet of lumber in the yard, besides a large stock of pines, larches, shingles, etc. The planing mill is now in full running order and is working at its full capacity every day.

The Colby stock rack is made in large numbers. Pat. O'Rourke has charge of the blacksmith shop where the irons for the Colby racks are made. A steel fan removes the necessity for a bellows. On the first floor also is the planing department, where the lumber is dressed. On the second floor, and painted on the third floor, the parts are then put together in the make-up room. Jos. Shaw has charge of the paint shop. On the second floor is a turner's lathe and a hand saw in addition to other machinery. James Riddell is the turner, and brackets, mantles, window posts, and everything requisite for verandahs or fancy wood effects are made in this department. All wood work required for interior finish is also manufactured here. At present the men are engaged making doors, and a large stock will be kept on hand. Chas. Allen is the band sawyer. All the sandpapering is done by machinery. In fact nearly all the work is done by machinery. That is why such a large amount of work is daily turned out by the 14 men employed. There are 14 wood working machines in the factory, and others are being continually added. A large moulding machine has been ordered and will be installed in a couple of weeks. A dock will be built all along the water front next year a vessel will be chartered for the season just to carry lumber for J. L. Scott's lumber business.

At presentash doors, mouldings, and all kind of builders' supplies and materials for sale. Already Mr. Scott has large trade, but he is prepared to double it. Every business enterprise which Mr. Scott has undertaken has proved successful, and there is doubt that this venture will also prove a source of profit to him and an addition to the manufacturing industries of this city.

OLE RIGHT OF SALE J. L. CAMPBELL THE BOSTON SHOE STORE

SATCHEL OF THE SATELLITE

The Grit election odor is now long green.

Sombody will not get the chairmanship he wants.

One could enjoy going sleigh-riding these days were it not for the cold.

The old school trustees all got there even though they did sell the school.

This cold snap may be all right, but what we are looking for is a coal snap.

There's many a slip 'twixt the alderman and the chairmanship he wants.

The men of the North aren't the kind I like, judging by what happened on Wednesday.

That snow storm Wednesday morning in the three Norths set a bad example.

Kindly refer to G. G. Martin in future as Ald. Martin, of the Property committee.

Now that John Edmondson is back in the Council, Emma St. will once more gain fame.

It was rather mean of Robinson Crusoe to desert his man Friday at the election post on Monday.

The aldermen say it was great fun to see Archie side-stepping the chairmanship of the Board of Works.

The ratepayers have shown beyond doubt that they approve of the School Board's actions.

Those North Winds are always cutting. Their worst work was to cut down Conservative majorities.

The Hamilton Spectator man wants the three Norths wiped off the map. Rather wipe out the Grit majorities.

The Aldermen who attended the caucus yesterday sent Archie McGoig to the Cemetery—committee.

What we expected—the other fellow got the Norths, but five Conservative aldermen were elected out of nine in Chatham.

Paul Kruger was going to deliver a blow that would stagger humanity. W. E. McKeough delivered a blow that staggered Chatham.

I guess the reason the brick-maker was defeated was because the voters "wouldn't cross Jordan on a municipal ballot."

Wednesday we got two black eyes and a tap on the nose from North Perth, North Norfolk and North Grey. But, never mind, Herb Clements was elected school trustee over the creek.

Up goes the price of oil another cent per gallon. I wonder if Rockefeller has made another donation to the Chicago University. Great Financier is Rockie.

And again, I am constrained to remark that birds of a feather congregated in the same company.

"How is it going?" queried a young man of one of Cowan's earnest workers, on the corner last Saturday.

"Well, young man, you know how many I takes to head me in the east end, and who, on being informed that three Grits had been elected, yelled "Hurrah!" in a gladstone tone, will call at this office he will hear of something to his disadvantage.

If the gentleman who called up this office Wednesday night and, after hearing that three Grits were elected, said he was sorry, will come around we will hold a mutual commiseration meeting with him. If the man who called up this G. H. J. for election information on the same night and who, on being informed that three Grits had been elected, yelled "Hurrah!" in a gladstone tone, will call at this office he will hear of something to his disadvantage.
