

1 1/2 more butter 12 1 lbs.

If you can increase your butter production without any increased cost or any more work won't it pay you to do it? And if you can get more butter from your milk with less work, that will be still better, won't it? That's exactly what you can do if you will do as Mr. LEITING did—buy a Sharples Tubular Separator. Here's what he says about the Tubular:

Randolph, Nebraska, Feb. 15th, 1906. Gentlemen:—On the 23rd day of January, 1906, I took a No. 4 Sharples Tubular Separator on trial. On learning that I was in the market for a cream separator, the agent for the disc style "bucket bowl" separator brought one to my farm and requested me to give it a trial before making a purchase. After giving both machines a fair trial, I concluded to keep the Tubular as I consider it far superior to the other machine. It skims closer, runs easier, and is very much easier to wash, there being so many less parts. From three skimmings of milk from 7 cows, we were able to make 1 1/2 lbs. more butter with the Tubular than we could with the "bucket bowl" machine. B. LEITING.

The Sharples Tubular Separator

gets all the cream there is in the milk, does it so easy that it's not work to run it at all, and is so simple, with only one little part in the bowl to wash and keep clean that comparison is out of the question.

The extra cream it gets makes the Tubular a regular savings bank for its owner.

All the other good money-making points are told in book F-193, which you ought to read. Write for it today—we'll send it free to you.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS. Miscellaneous.

CLYDESDALE NUMBERS.

Who imported Pride of Avon, and what is his number? Who imported Boy in Blue, and what is his number?

W. J. S. Ans.—We do not find a horse named Pride of Avon in the published volumes of the Canadian Clydesdale Studbook. Boy in Blue [295] (112); foaled in 1871; imported by J. Henderson, Duncrief, Ont.

RIVER-DRIVING.

Give the law for river-driving in Quebec. Can a man put a boom across the river for his own lumber, and prevent others from passing?

Quebec. Ans.—It will be necessary for you to consult, personally, a lawyer of the locality in question.

WORMS IN HORSE.

Please give remedy for a horse with worms. He has a ravenous appetite, and no amount of feed seems to satisfy him.

W. H. B. Ans.—Take two drams each of sulphate of copper, sulphate of iron, tartaric acid and calomel, and make into twelve powders. Give a powder every night and morning in feed. After the last has been given, give him a purgative ball of eight drams aloes and two drams ginger. Feed bran only for 24 hours after giving purgative, then increase feed gradually, and work lightly at first.

COW FAILING TO GIVE MILK.

Can you give a remedy for a cow that gives under a pint of milk after calving?

G. P. Ans.—This may be due to illness from some derangement of the cow's system, or to nervousness, owing to treatment or environment, causing her to hold up her milk. If her appetite has failed, we would advise giving a purgative of one pound Epsom salts with two ounces ginger in a quart of warm water as a drench, carefully given, and blanket to keep her comfortable. Follow up with 1 dram each of sulphate of iron and gentian, twice daily for a week, in water as a drench; feed light, at first, of chopped oats and bran, and increase gradually. If from nervousness she holds up her milk, try a sack with sand or other weight in each end, laid across her loins while milking.

WATER SYSTEM—SUGAR BEETS—LUCERNE.

1. My well is 37 1/2 feet deep, with from 2 feet to 4 feet of water. Cow-stable floor is 5 1/2 feet below platform of well. Can I use syphon pump directly below mast of windmill, about 90 feet from well? Give best system of pumping water to house and stable.
2. What is the feeding value of Royal Giant sugar beets, compared with factory beets, mangels and turnips?
3. Had corn last year on clover sod, and would like to sow lucerne with barley in 1908. What grain crop would be best this year?
4. Should rape be sown in spring, or after harvest to be plowed under in fall?

READER. Ans.—1. A syphon pump would not work. The perpendicular height to which the water would have to be raised is too great. There is no one best system of pumping water to buildings. Each windmill company has its own.

2. Large sugar beets, grown for stock, are very valuable roots. Though not nearly so nutritious as the factory beet, they are much superior to mangels, and keep better.

3. Oats, though rather exhaustive, would probably be best. You could afford to give the ground a light coat of manure next winter, if you raised a profitable crop like oats this year. That would make up for the drain on the soil, and increase the chances for a good catch. It seems to us that it would be better to sow the alfalfa this spring with barley, as the land, after hoed crop, should be clean and in excellent condition for a catch of alfalfa.

4. In most seasons, a greater growth could be secured by sowing in spring, though it is something of a nuisance among grain. Better sow in June, and pasture in October with lambs or young cattle. Rape can be more profitably utilized in this way than by plowing it down.

PASTOR AND PEOPLE PRAISE

PSYCHINE

(PRONOUNCED SI-KEEN)

A Marvellous and Triumphant Record of Victory Over Disease.

No medicine has ever effected as large a number of wonderful and almost marvellous cures as Psychine. It has had one continuous record of victories over diseases of the throat, chest, lungs and stomach. Where doctors have pronounced cases incurable from consumption and other wasting diseases Psychine steps in and rescues numberless people even from the very verge of the grave. Coughs, Colds, Catarrh, Bronchitis, Chills, Night Sweats, La Grippe, Pneumonia, and other like troubles, all of which are forerunners of Consumption, yield quickly to the curative powers of Psychine.

Mrs. Campbell, one of the many cured, makes the following statement:

I cannot refrain from telling all who suffer of my remarkable recovery with Psychine. In April, 1902, I caught a heavy cold which settled on my lungs and gradually led to consumption. I could not sleep, was subject to night sweats, my lungs were so diseased, my doctor considered me incurable. Rev. Mr. Mahaffy, First King's Presbyterian Church, recommended Dr. Slocum's Psychine to me, when I was living in Ontario. After using Psychine for a short time I ate and slept well, the night sweats and cough ceased. Months ago I stopped taking Psychine, as I was perfectly restored to health and to-day I never felt better in my life. Psychine has been a god-send to me. MRS. ANDREW CAMPBELL, Cottonwood, N.W.T.

PSYCHINE never disappoints. PSYCHINE has no substitute. There is no other medicine "Just as good."
