WHAT CAUSES SNORING.

When asleep, people that snore breathe through the mouth instead of the nostrils, which are choked with catarrh. Just use "Catarrhozone" before r tiring anl you'll quickly cure the snoring habit. By destroying the cause of catarrh and healing the membranes, Catarrhozone makes a complete cure in every 'case; it cleans the nostrils, stops the discharge and prevents dropping in the throat in a few minutes. Unnecessary Noise. A great protest against noise is rising from all parts of the country. Seattle is working for the suppression of un-necessary noises. Pennsylvanians are trying to see how the barbaric clangor of certain foundries may be reduced. In New York city a crusade has been started against too much whistling by the tugboats. "The Steam Whistle as a Menace to Public Health" was the title of a recent paper before a meeting of associated boards of health. Schoolteachers and anxious mothers who have been working on these lines for years will be glad to know that in wider spheres the public is coming to recognize how essential to calm nerves is reasonable quiet.—Youth's Compan-

THE PENSION OFFICE Dyspepsia of Women

Caused by Female Disorders and Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

A great many women suffer with a form of indigestion or dyspepsia which does not seem to yield to ordinary treatment. While the symptoms seem to be similar to those of ordinary indigestion, yet the medicines universally prescribed lo not seem to restore the patient's

Mrs. Pinkham claims that there is Mrs. Pinkham claims that there is a kind of dyspepsia that is caused by a derangement of the female organism, and which, while it causes a disturbance similar to ordinary indigestion, cannot be relieved without a medicine which not only acts as a stomach tonic, but has a peculiar tonic effect on the female organism.

a peculiar tonic effect on the female organism.

As proof of this theory we call attention to the case of Mrs. Henry leaubien, 58 Sparks St., Ottawa, Ont., who was completely cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after everything else had failed. She writes: Dear Mrs. Pinkham:

"I had been troubled with indigestion and general stomach disorders for nearly a year. I had a soreness in my stomach and was unable to digest my food. I dieted and doctored without success; but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound brought mermanent relief. I used three bottles and treated me of my stomach trouble and built up my general health. I now enjoy a splendid appetite, can eat all kinds of cool, have no trouble with indigestion, and now that I owe itsalf to Lydia E. Pinkam's Vegetable Compound."

HIDDEN GOLD. The Hoard of Precious Metal That Is

It would be an immense benefit to all mankind if the stores of gold held by individuals in India could be made available for general use. Ever since the dawn of history that country has been gathering gold and hiding it away. Treasures of almost incalculable value are possessed by many Indian princes. When the maharajah of Burdwan died the stock of gold and silver left by him was so large that no member of the family could make an accurate esti-mate of it. A report made to the British government by a secret agent stated that on the estate of the defunct po-tentate were a number of treasure houses, one of them containing three rooms. The largest of these three rooms was forty-eight feet long and rooms was forty-eight feet long and was filled with ornaments of gold and silver, plates and cups, washing bowls, jugs and so forth—all of precious metals. The other two rooms were full of bags and boxes of gold mohurs and silver rupees. The door of this and other treasure houses had been bricked up for nobody knows how long.

These valuables, according to an ancient custom, were in the custody of the maharajah's wife, the vaults being attached to her apartments, but none of them was allowed to be opened save in the presence of the master. One vault was filled with ornaments belonging to different gods of the family. The natives of India commonly bury their hoards, and among the poorer classes a favorite hiding place is a hole dug beneath the bed. Disused wells are sometimes employed for the same pur-pose. It is undoubtedly a fact that pose. It is undeducted a fact that very many hoards thus deposited are lost forever. Gold is also valued on religious grounds. The god's take up great quantities of gold, silver and precious stones. The temples contain vast amounts of the yellow and white metals. The habit of hoarding seems to have been induced by ages of misgovernment, during which oppression and violence were rife. No feeling of safety existing, it was natural that the natives should adopt the practice of reducing their wealth to a concentrated shape and hiding it.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

The day after you meet the average man he asks you to take sides. Flattery has a pretty bad name, but It gets better returns than disagreeable candor. Of this you may be sure—that the black sheep in every family was once the most petted lamb.

When a baby cries in its father's arms he discovers that it is crying because it wants to go to you. A man never knows until he has fallen into a hole now many paths ha might have taken to avoid it. When two men get their pencils mixed, ever notice how jealously the owner of the longer pencil insists on getting his own back?

Time files so rapidly that it seems only a few months from the time a boy is crying for a jumping jack until Frog Egg Curiosities.

Frogs' eggs are laid before they real ly become eggs in the true sense of that word. They are always laid under water and when first deposited are covered with a sert of envelope in the shape of a thin membrane. In this shape they are very small, but as soon as they come in contact with the water they rapidly absorb that element and in so doing go through a queer transfor-mation. The thin membrane containhag the little seedlike eggs is quickly changed into great lumps of a clear jelly-like substance, each section joined to the other, the whole forming a string from a few inches to several feet inlength. On the inside of each of these lumps of jelly the eggs come to perfec-tion and in due course of time add their quota to the frog population of the world.

Costly Competitions. When a new cathedral or a new col-ege is to be built it is well that architects should compete for it, for then, other things being equal, the best man gets the job and the best possible kind of building is assured. Few persons, though, realize what it costs an arch tect to enter a competition. They do not understand the time and labor that must be devoted to the design, the estimates, etc. There is one firm of architects in this city that spent $2,500 last year on a single competition. This firm entered ten competitions altogether, winning four of them, and the total cost to it was $7,000.
