THE HOUSE AND LEVEL CROSSINGS.

Trains Limited to Ten Miles an Hour in Passing Certain Specified Crossings.

(Special Despatch to the Times.)

Ottawa, May 11.—The House of Commons this morning considered the protection of life at level crossings amended in several respects. Hon. Mr. Graham's bill to amend the Railway Act came before the House of Commons this morning.

10 miles an hour until protection is provided according to Railway Commission, and that when the commission has made an order for protection of the crossings trains should not run over that crossing at a greater speed than 10 miles an hour until the board's order has been complied with.

Mr. Lennox objected to the Railway Commission having a free hand in assessing municipalities and urged the inclusion of a provision in the bill limiting contributions of municipalities. He also suggested that the country's contributions should be devoted only to separation of railway and highways and that in every case the initiative for redress should be taken by the Railway Board.

ARE TAKING SOME NOTICE.

Greater Hamilton's Boom is Being Observed All Over.

To show how the Greater Hamilton Movement is being noticed abroad, the following is reproduced from the Sign of the Times, a publicity journal published in Cincinnati:

More than fifty prominent citizens, enthusiastic boosters and optimists in the future greatness of Hamilton, Canada, met on Wednesday afternoon, April 14th, 1909, at the Board of Trade Rooms, elected officers, approved of a constitution and heard, with satisfaction, of the progress already made in the "boosting" campaign, which it is expected will set a pace for civic progress rivaling any Canadian City.

The election closed with the following result: John Hoodless, President; John Patterson, First Vice-President; George C. Copley, Second Vice-President; Thomas W. Watkins, Third Vice-President; Stanley Mills, Treasurer, and C. A. Murton, Secretary.

Executive Committee, consisting of six members and the chairmen of the Finance, Publicity, Membership, Transportation and Conventions and Entertainment Committees.

Finance Committee, consisting of six members.

Publicity Committee, consisting of seven members.

Membership Committee, consisting of twenty-eight members.

And now 123 business men, hustlers, every one of them, have been elected to offices in the Association, they are holding committee meetings, devising ways and means of boosting the Electric City of Canada. The Publicity Committee will map out a campaign to advertise the city through the United States, with a view of securing Canadian branches for Hamilton of American industries.

SOMETHING NEW IN KINRADE CASE

Col. Warburton and Wife (Miss Elliott), Found in Alexandria, Ind. --Important Letters in Hands of Authorities.

Montreal Despatch Says Mrs. and Miss Kinrade Have Left For Portland, En Route For England--Others All Here.

That Col. Warburton and Marion Elliott, two of the mysterious persons told about at the inquest by Miss Florence Kinrade, are real living people is the belief now of members of the local detective department. Only a few days ago they were looked upon as mythical individuals. Detective Bleakley has two or three letters in his possession, which were written by a young woman in Alexandria, Ind., in which the pair are spoken of at some length. The letters were obtained last night by the officer from Mr. Albert Newport, son of Mr. William Newport, King street east confectioner, who also has a photo of the couple. The picture is a back view, taken by an amateur with a kodak, soon after the names were mentioned at the inquest. That the detective who secured the letters think they gave some bearing on the case is evidenced by the fact that he urged the young man to "keep strictly mum." Mr. Newport, however, told of the photo and letters some days ago, to several persons. When seen by a Times reporter this morning, Mr. Newport refused to say anything about the letters or photo. From other sources, however, it was learned that he has been corresponding with a young lady in Alexandria, whom he had met in Toronto a year or so ago, while working there. In one of these letters Col. Warburton and wife were referred to. This letter was written before the murder. When the colonel's name and the name of Marion Elliott were mentioned by Miss Kinrade at the first session of the coroner's inquest, Mr. Newport wrote to his fair correspondent, asking for further particulars, and also then has secured two letters, one of which contained the snap shot of the pair, which show them to be a stylish couple. The man is well built and wears a Fedora hat. The photo was taken unknown to them, while were walking away from the house, which is on Churchill avenue.

The Provincial detective department will at once investigate the story from Alexandria, and if the couple are the man and woman told of by Miss Kinrade, some new light may be obtained. Alexandria is a town of 8,000, on the line of the Cleveland, Chicago & St. Louis Railway. It is about fifteen miles south of Marion, which may suggest something to the minds of the detectives.

WHAT WILL AUTHORITIES DO? On the decision of Premier Whitney's Cabinet, which meets in the Parliament buildings this afternoon to consider the recommendation made by the Crown representatives, rests the question of whether the important step, vaguely hinted at in the press during the past week, is to be taken. If the Cabinet

Leaving For Eng.?

Montreal, May 11.—It is believed here that Florence Kinrade, the central figure in the Hamilton murder inquest, along with her mother and Montrose Wright, her fiancé, left this city this morning on the 8.30 train for Portland, Maine, and it is presumed it is the parties' intention to leave for England on a Dominion Line steamer which sails tomorrow. It is believed the party registered at the Queen's Hotel here under the name of Latchford, or Lachland, Washington, D. C. Their movements while in this city were kept very quiet, and everything that could be done to avoid publicity was done.

REPORT CONFIRMED. (Special Despatch to the Times.)

Montreal, May 11.—Florence Kinrade, who, accompanied by her mother and her fiancé, Montrose Wright, the divinity student, has been staying at the Queen's Hotel here since yesterday morning, left here on the 8.30 train for Portland, Maine. The Kinrades were positively identified at the railway station by A. J. Ferson, a commercial traveller from western Ontario, who knows the family intimately. The trio while here spent a very quiet time, remaining most of the time at the Queen's Hotel. Florence Kinrade was approached several times by newspaper men, but absolutely refused to say a word or acknowledge her identity. The girl and her mother were registered under the name of Latchford, of Washington, D. C. Some significance may attach to their destination, when the fact is known that a Dominion Line sails from Portland, Maine, to-morrow.

presentatives, rests the question of whether the important step, vaguely hinted at in the press during the past week, is to be taken. If the Cabinet Ministers sanction the recommendations made by George Tate Blackstock, the Crown examiner, and the alienists, decisive action will be at once taken. Those in authority refuse to say what the move will be, but from the very fact that it is of such importance as to justify a Cabinet meeting to discuss the matter, it is believed that it will be sensational.

BY NAME OF LACHLAND.

If Florence Kinrade, her mother, and Florence's fiancé, Clair Montrose Wright, are in Montreal, as reported in the Times yesterday, they are registered under assumed names. There are three people at the Queen's Hotel here who are said to answer the description. They are registered at Mrs. Thomas Lachland, Miss Isabel Lachland and Mr. Norman Lachland, of Washington, D. C. They refuse to answer calls, although they are in their rooms. The Montreal Herald says they are the people who were gathering information yesterday about summer resorts. Describing their arrival in Montreal the Herald says:

The trio, who carried only hand baggage and had apparently no trunks with them, went to the ladies' waiting room, and there held a brief conference as if discussing plans. Then they turned away, leaving the station by the Chabouzeau entrance.

They walked slowly along St. James street, and about Inspector Street were lost to observation for a time, but afterwards they turned, retraced their steps and were seen to enter the Queen's Hotel.

No names corresponding to theirs appeared on the Queen's register, but shortly before noon the young man and young woman came out of the Queen's and crossed over to the station, where they made enquiries of a member of the ticket agency staff regarding the summer resorts of the province.

Having got this information, they were seen to re-enter the Queen's Hotel. The members of the station staff are most positive regarding the identity of the Kinrade party, the features of all being familiar from their portraits which appeared in the newspapers during the trial. But beyond that there was the positive recognition by the passengers in the Pullman, one of whom remarked to the ticket examiner:

"You see that party of three in front, that is Florence Kinrade, her mother, and Wright, the sweetheart of Florence. They have come to Montreal for a few days, they say."

The Attorney General's Department expressed no surprise when informed that the Kinrades were in Montreal.

OTHER MEMBERS HERE.

All the other members of the Kinrade family are in Hamilton. As stated in (Continued on Page 10.)

MRS. JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER, SR., Who has been dangerously ill at Hot Springs, Va.

EDWARD HUGHES GAVE HIMSELF UP.

Is Alleged to be the Man Who Assaulted Henry Buswell on New Year Day.

At last the citizens of Hamilton are to see a mystery solved. Edward Hughes, 106 Market street, the young man accused of assaulting Henry Buswell on New Year's Day and inflicting injuries upon him which, it was feared at first, might result in his death, walked into the police station this morning and gave himself up. Knowing that there was a warrant out for him, he said, he wanted to see the thing cleared up.

The assault occurred about 3 o'clock on the morning of New Year's Day. Buswell, together with his wife and a party of friends, were returning home across the Market square and along King William street, when one of a gang of young men standing on the sidewalk made an insulting remark to Mrs. Buswell. Mr. Buswell resented this, and went back to protest. The gang waited until he got up to them, and then he received a fearful blow. Mr. Buswell's party seeing the state of affairs hurried to his assistance, but too late, the gang took to their heels, and nothing more was seen of them. Mr. Buswell was taken to the hospital in the ambulance, and for several days he was not expected to live. He finally recovered, and after staying in town for a short time left to take a position out of town. Before leaving the warrant had been made out for Hughes, and Buswell was very anxious that he be arrested.

Some weeks ago one of the city detectives is alleged to have gone to the residence of Mrs. Buswell, who remained in Hamilton, and she says, offered her $100 to drop the case against Hughes, who was in New York at the time. Mrs. Buswell wrote to her husband, but he instructed her to refuse the offer, which Mrs. Buswell did the next time the officer called. Complaint was made to the Police Commissioners and an investigation was held, the result of which was never given out.

Chief Smith, in an interview with the Times at the time of the investigation, said that the officer had been merely doing his duty, as he was instructed by the department, but that Mrs. Buswell had misunderstood him. "It was told to go down and see if any person had offered Mrs. Buswell money to drop the charge," said the chief.

Hughes disappeared shortly after the assault, and nothing was heard of him until this morning. He presented a rather prepossessing appearance as he stood in the prisoners' dock. He is about twenty years of age, fair, rather good looking, well dressed, and has not the appearance of a man one would think would be mixed up in such a scrape. George S. Kerr, C. appeared for the defendant, but as the Crown had not had time to get its case prepared an adjournment was granted until next Tuesday.

Speaking to the reporters later on, Mr. Kerr said the defendant had a strong case, and could likely clear himself.

another tyled door investigation to find out who gave the tip before that house was raided.

Toronto has a big revival every year or so. But I don't notice much improvement in its morals or walk and conversation.

Did you read in last evening's Times what the Greater Hamilton Association stands for? You are wanted to help in the good work. Get your membership card and fall into line. Mr. Murton needs the assistance of you all.

I am afraid the agricultural editor of the Herald did not know what he was talking about when he said the rain made the "farmers laugh." The fact is the farmers are almost crying over it. Work is at a standstill and the season is very backward.

What Hamilton will be five or ten years from now depends very much upon what the Hamilton people do in the meantime. A city is like a business. To grow it requires steady, persistent and intelligent effort to build it up. It needs push and hustle behind it, with proper publicity. Many of the large cities on the other side have found this out, and have gone into the business with energy and snap and go, and have been rewarded with the greatest success. They have set a mark to be aimed at—a high mark. Some have got there, others are getting there. Now, what other cities have done Hamilton can do. It has got all the advantages. For situation it cannot be beaten. Its railway facilities are of the best. The district it lies in is perhaps the most fruitful in Canada. It has electric power superior to anything in Canada. It has reached such a position that it cannot now be kept back. But its citizens—its business men, as well as its workers—can accelerate its growth if they will. Now the Greater Hamilton Association has been organized to help Hamilton grow; 100,000 population is wanted. You are asked to come and give your best effort to help. It is your work just as much as anybody else's. Don't say you haven't time or that others can do it. Nobody but yourself can do your share. If you are patriotic and loyal to Hamilton you will not hesitate to do your best, whatever that is. Come on in and register; then take off your coat and hustle.

Mrs. J. H. Robinson, 19 John street north, will receive this Thursday, and not again until the fall.

Three Got Off

Duluth, Minn., May 11.—F. R. Goodnow, captain of the steamer Berlin, and Fred Reno and Lester Elmer, special police officers, were released last night by a Coroner's jury in Superior, Wis. The men were charged with complicity in the killing of James O'Rourke, a union seaman, on board the Berlin, when the latter arrived in port Saturday night with coal.

FELLOW OF THE U. OF C.

Rev. Chester New, of This City, Wins Scholastic Honors.

High scholastic honors have again come to Hamilton, the winner being Rev. Chester New, nephew of Mr. Henry New, with whom the young man lived prior to taking charge of the Baptist Church at Ridgetown. Rev. Mr. New has been granted a fellowship for church history in the University of Chicago. It is worth $200 a year, and will give him the privilege of a post-graduate course at the same time.

Mr. New has already had a brilliant scholastic career. He received his primary and Collegiate Institute courses in Hamilton, graduated in arts at the University of Toronto, and took his divinity course, with the degree of B. D., at McMaster University.

It is Mr. New's intention to remain at his present charge in Ridgetown throughout the summer, and take his place in the University of Chicago in October.

His many friends here bespeak for him still greater things.

Best Always. B and A Coffee, sold only in one pound tins, fresh roasted and blended, so as to produce the most delicate flavor and aroma; it's different from the ordinary. Order a sample tin with your next order, it will please you, the price is forty-five cents pound, it's worth it. Bain & Adams, 89, 91 King street east.

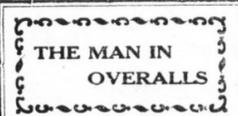

GOES TO ERIE.

Vernon Carey Engaged as Soloist in U. S. City.

Hamilton is to lose another of its brilliant singers, who is going to another city to uphold the laurels of this musical city. This time the singer happens to be that favorite tenor, Mr. Vernon Carey; the place he is going to is Erie, Pa., and to the Central Presbyterian Church. He is taking the place left vacant by the resignation of Mr. Chryslar Brown, who was so well and favorably known here. Mr. Brown has gone to New York, and the Erie people were of the opinion that they could do no better than come back to Hamilton again, and they did. Mr. Carey's education has been most thorough, and he has a pleasing appearance and an excellent voice. He will leave in the second week in August, and will take up his duties as choirmaster and tenor soloist on September 1st.

Oh, yes, we will have some nice weather yet.

Mr. James Boyle, the kidnapper, has been sentenced to life imprisonment. Let us hope, with my Irish friend, that he will live long enough to serve out his sentence.

The new City Engineer will not find it necessary to flush the sewers. The rain has done that.

The prospective June brides are beginning to pick out their trousseaus, and the grooms are counting their money.

I haven't yet given up the idea of this city having an annual exhibition. I think there is room for it in this neighborhood.

This free car ride proposition of Stanley Mills & Co.'s should set the other business men thinking what they can do to advertise Hamilton and their own business.

How are the boys of the public schools making out with the medium Spencerian style of penmanship? I don't hear much jubilation over the change.

Mr. Editor—How long can a pewholder in the Gore Park keep his seat? Can he hold it all day or must he get up and let another sit down, say, at the end of a half hour or hour? Can't tell. Ask George Wild.

Perhaps a dose of what the kidnappers got would be good medicine for the bicycle thieves.

The drowning season has now fairly opened. But not without some cases of real bravery in efforts to save life, which helped to lighten the gloom.

The Frost Wire Fence people have certainly confidence in the future of Hamilton.

The Police Commissioners should hold

HENRY BUSWELL.

Mr. Buswell is one of the central figures in a case which has aroused much interest in Hamilton. On New Year morning, very early, Buswell, his wife and friends were returning home when, following some words with some young men, Buswell was assaulted, and for a time it was feared he would die. A warrant was issued for the arrest of Edward Hughes, but he could not be found.

Then Mrs. Buswell made a public charge that she had been approached by a member of the Hamilton detective department and offered $1000 to withdraw the warrant.

The Hamilton Police Commissioners held a "dark lantern" investigation and heard Mrs. Buswell's story. A statement was published that they had exonerated the accused detective. The members of the Board of Commissioners, however, refuse to make a statement as to what was done behind closed doors, or to confirm the statement that the officer had been exonerated.
