Governor Visits Household Science School.

His Excellency the Governor and Lady Williams, and the Chief Justice and Lady Horwood visited the Household Science School yesterday afternoon. They were received by the Superintendents of Education and their wives. A class from the Mercy Convent was at work under the direction of Miss Wright, its capable teacher. His Excellency spoke words of encouragement and was followed in brief address by Sir William Horwood, Dr. Curtis, Mr. Blackall and Mr. Burke.

A Reminiscence.

The taking of the bell to St. Patrick's Church last evening reminded the older ones in the gathering of a similar demonstration which occurred in 1864. About 100 tons of brick were landed at H. J. Stab's premises for St. Patrick's Church which was then being erected, a special dray was built for the occasion, the brick stowed on it and properly secured and hundreds of people drew it to the structure. The Phoenix and Cathedral Volunteer Fire Brigades participated and Rev. Father Conway and the late Frank Boggan, Chief of the Phoenix Brigade, stood on top of the great pile of brick as it was drawn through the streets to the music of the bands in the procession.

Killing Goats.

The people of the western part of the south side road rear a lot of goats which are very useful to them. They are put out to graze on the south side hills and yesterday it was discovered that the dogs which roam about there had killed several. Mr. Ben Squires who owned one of the goats killed by the brutes went up and shot two of them. His son who went up on the hill was attacked by two of these brutes more viciously than their fellows and would have been badly bitten but that he beat them off with a cudgel which he carried.

A Pleasing Presentation.

Subscriptions To the Marine Disaster Fund.

Last evening the Executive Committee of the Marine Disaster Fund Committee met for the transaction of business. The editors of all the newspapers of the Colony were added to the General Committee.

The offer of Mr. Jack Rossley to give an entertainment in aid of the Fund, and of Mr. Myler to arrange a cricket match for the same purpose were accepted.

Arrangements were made to begin the work of collection to-day. Hon. W. C. Job and Mr. Hepburn will take Water Street from Beck's Cove West, and Hons. John Harris and John A. Robinson from Beck's Cove East.

At present the money received and promises made are as follows:—

To amount already acknowledged $3,665.00
Job Bros. & Co. 500.00
W. S. Moore 100.00
Emilie G. Sterling 5.00
Helen Martin (proceeds of Children's Bazaar) 1.65
Imperial Tobacco Co. (Nfld.) Ltd. 200.00
L.S.P.U. Employees (Harvey & Co's) per James McGrath, President 24.00
S. S. Ernie & Co. 200.00
J. A. W. McNeilly 10.00
Geo. R. Williams 10.00

At least five times as much must be subscribed to provide for the widows and orphans of those lost on the S. S. Ernie, and the ailing ships Anroola, Grace, Dorothy Louise, Arjansas, Beatrice and Reliance on the scale of the provision made for those who are in need of help by the Greenland disaster. We have no doubt that the response will eventually be as liberal in proportion to our means and to the necessities of the sufferers as was made in the case of the Titanic funds in England, where the public had to be urged to stop subscribing as all the funds needed were in hand.

CABLE NEWS.

Special to Evening Telegram. BALTIMORE, To-day. All hope of averting a fight in the Democratic National Convention vanished last night, when the National Committee approved of the selection of former Judge Parker of New York, an temporary chance, in defiance of the threat of Wm. Jennings Bryan to make an issue of the alleged Conservatism of Judge Parker as opposed to the progressivism which the distinguished Nebraskan declares should prevail. An effort was made by the National Committee to placate Bryan, but the conference resulted in a complete failure. Bryan announced if no other good progressive could be prevailed upon to make the race, he would enter the field himself as opponent to Judge Parker.

LONDON, To-day. Lloyd George in speaking on the supplemental estimates said there was a new item of expenditure and development of the resources of East Africa and Uganda. The Colonial Office was pressing the Exchequer for an advance for further development in that rich country. He had recommended a year or two ago that a portion of the surplus should be extended to the extension of the railway of Uganda and of the protectorate and for construction of an adequate deep water pier and jetty. There was no doubt, at all, he said, about the enormous possibilities of that great country. There was an increase from year to year of products coming from that quarter, especially of cotton and wheat. It was undeniable the interest of Britain to assist every new cotton producing country. This was a lesson which Britain had had in the shortage from the States last year by its injurious effect on our cotton industry. It showed it was dangerous to rely exclusively upon one particular source of supply for one of our most important industries. He proposed the Government should advance to the Colonial Office, a sum of half a million pounds at a fairly remunerative rate of interest. The remaining five million pounds of surplus should, he said, be devoted to the redemption of the National Debt.

"Hauling the Bell."

BY TIM SHANNAHAN. No matter how modernized we become, still here in St. John's, we cling to the old customs, says Tucker. Of course, we have a hard job to hold on to them, but now and again opportunities crop up that awaken within us the old time feelings that make us live again in the days of old. 'Twould do your heart good to see the immense crowd of men, women and children that gathered on the Beach last evening, to haul the new bell to St. Patrick's Church. Sometimes, says Tucker you'll hear folks say that the old time enthusiasm in church affairs is dying out in this town, but last night this contention was "knocked on the head" for all time. The only fault that I found, said Delaney, was that the bell wasn't half heavy enough. Why, said he, there were enough men there last night to haul the Cathedral if 'twas necessary. The Cadet and Total Abstinence Bands attended and played lively music and once the crowd, which was impatient for work, started on the route, away she went with a clip, 'till you'd think 'twas a military parade instead of hauling a bell. The bell which will be installed in the new tower has been donated to the church in loving memory of the late Dean Ryan, a priest who spent a life time with the people of St. Patrick's, a priest whose work stands out as a lasting memory of a noble life. And every time that we shall hear the bell send forth its silvery peals, our thoughts will fly back to the happy days, when "Father Ryan" was Parish Priest, and again we'll hear his solemn warning from the pulpit, or the words of consolation that he spoke in our day of trouble.

Two scenes, the bonfire on Signal Hill and hauling home the bell, brought back old-time memories to the people last night and many of the old time tale was told, and many a prayer was said, as the old folks returned homewards, from the "Hauling of the Bell." TIM SHANNAHAN. Minard's Liniment Cures Rheumatism.

Demonstration.

Last night some thousands of men and boys, mostly residents of the West End proceeded to Harvey & Co's premises and conveyed the new bell for St. Patrick's church to the ground opposite the edifice. The bell was placed on a heavy truck furnished by Mayor Ellis and was drawn by hundreds of men and followed by the thousands present up King's Beach, Duckworth and New Gower Streets to the grounds. The demonstration was accompanied by the bands of the Catholic Cadet Corps and the T. A. Society, playing spirited airs, and on arrival at its destination the greatest enthusiasm was manifested by the great crowd present. The people were met by Revs. Frs. McDermott, Pippy, Kelly, Sheehan, O'Brien, and Dr. Green. Rev. Fr. McDermott made an eloquent address to them from the steps of the church. He thanked all for their loyalty and enthusiasm and the service they gave gratuitously in taking the bell from the steamboat pier to the church. He reminded them that the bell was the gift of the parishioners of St. Patrick's to the memory of their friend and counsellor the late Rev. Dean Ryan whose service to the cause of religion and Holy Church was remembered by all. His eloquent tongue which so often called them to repentance and which prompted them to live good christian lives would be perpetuated in the sonorous notes of the bell when it would ring out calling them to the church to praise and worship their Saviour. Fr. McDermott's effort, though impromptu was indeed masterly and the eloquence for which he is noted was evident in every phrase uttered. After the bands had furnished some fine music cheers were given for His Holiness the Pope, His Grace the Archbishop, the clergy of the Deanery and for old St. Patrick's.

The bell was manufactured by Menecley's, the famous bell founders of Troy, N. Y. It will be blessed and christened in a few weeks time and will be named "Patrick." Fifty feet more are to be added to the tower, which will be the highest of any church in the city and the bell will be hung in it in September.

Note From Dr. Wakefield

Dear Sir,—Some time ago the question was raised in your paper as to my reasons for warning the public in my lectures against the use of patent medicines. I thereupon stated that I would gladly give my reasons, but that I must be granted time to obtain information of certain details.

Delay after delay has ensued, caused first of all by press of work, and secondly by sickness, lately followed by a most urgent call to the north which kept me three weeks. Now I have to leave for Britain. I am not however backing down in any way from the position I have taken up in the matter, it is only extreme stress of circumstances which has prevented me from laying my case before the public, and I hope to ventilate the matter further on my return.

Thanking you for allowing me to explain the position to any who may have been wondering at my silence, I am, Yours sincerely, A. W. WAKEFIELD.

St. John's, June 21, 1912.

[A letter of a similar tenor appeared in the Daily News of Saturday. It will be observed that the letter bears the impress that it was written in the city on Friday last. On Monday it was found in our box at the East End Post Office. It was not there on Saturday afternoon when the box was emptied. The stamps impressed by Post Office on the front of the envelope bear date June 21st. On the back of the envelope the East End stamp bears date June 23rd. From this it will be seen that it is received by the P. O. on Friday and took two days to get from one P. O. to the other in the city and arrived in our hand two days after a letter probably posted at the same time had appeared in the Daily News. We direct the attention of the P. M. G. to this matter.—Ed.]
