The How and Why of Ferro Engines

Factors That Afford Accessibility and Convenience

The Removable Cylinder Head and Hand Hole—Simply every working part of the engine and give instant access to piston, connecting rod and crank shaft.

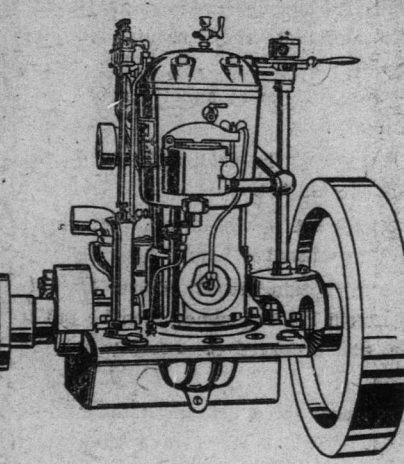

The Pump Valves—Can be inspected and cleaned by merely unscrewing a nut on the pump.

The Exhaust Manifold—Is cooled by circulating water, thus protecting the operator from overheated surfaces.

The Carburetor—Is equipped with a jet-cock providing a convenient means of filling a priming can.

The Timer—Access can be had to all parts of the timer by half a turn of a screw. The cut-out button in the timer handle enables the electric circuit to be cut out and the engine instantly stopped without touching the switch.

Interchangeability of Parts—All parts of Ferro Engines are interchangeable, thus insuring a perfect fit in case an accident necessitates the obtaining of a new part.

The Gears—Are all protected from grit by covers, thus insuring cleanliness and, at the same time, rendering inspection easy.

The Cooling System—Ample provision is made for easily draining the cooling system in freezing weather.

The Crank Case—Can be emptied of any sediment by removing a drain plug.

The Bolts and Nuts—Are all located so as to be easy of access, and are standard sizes.

The Reverse Gear—Is protected by a metal cover which can be lifted for inspection purposes.

Make Your Engine Pay For Itself.

FERRO KEROSENE ENGINES can now be purchased on easy terms, which will give a man two years to pay for his Engine, and if fish are plentiful the Engine will more than pay for itself.

Hundreds of satisfied users all over Newfoundland declare the Ferro to be the best Engine on the Market to-day.

King's Cove, Dec. 28, 1914.

Messrs. L. M. Trask & Co., St. John's.

Dear Sirs—I have been using one of your 7 1/2 H.P. Engines for two years and got all the satisfaction I like to have. I have gone four miles in 27 minutes. I installed the Engine myself, and never seen one put in a boat before. I have taken aboard two or three other makes of Engines, but I don't see none of them like the Ferro. The Ferro is about the easiest Engine to start that I ever seen.

I recommend the Ferro Engine to any Fisherman if he wants satisfaction.

Remaining yours truly,

JOSEPH S. BROWN, King's Cove.

Fishermen intending to purchase Engines should write for descriptive Literature on our Kerosene Oil Engines and get prices on four payment terms.
