THE RESULT.

Taken broadly, the result of the elections does not show that much thought was taken of the Commissioners' work or the New Charter. If ' the return of Mayor Gosling shows a tual practice. vote of confidence in the Commission the result in the general Council points if anything to the opposite view. With some exceptions the contest became one of personal popularity and prejudice. Of course when the latter appears all thought of worth and fitness is lost sight of. It was by far the most regrettable fea-The distinction is now drawn between the man who pays taxes to the Council and the man who does not the man who pays a rental of under forty dollars a year is not liable for taxes. THE FUTURE.

And what of the future? Conciliation and the golden rule must be the solution. Else what happiness is there going to be between men working side by side, as we are, and each becoming eternally suspicious of the other, not because of what he is, but because of the accident of birth which made his religion different from that of his fellow-workman?

After all the different creeds but represent the different angles at which they view God. We all are working towards the same goal, but by many roads.

The FUTURE.

And what of the future? Conciliations of voters is manhood suffrage, with residence of one or two years, and residence outside the limits at a reasonable distance for those who have business places and pay taxes in the city. Also extend the franchise to women who pay taxes, if it is not thought well to make it universal suffrage. I see no more reason for limiting the franchise in civic elections.
