HAIL TO THE VICTORS!

By beating the Cadets last night in the Holy Cross team win the Junior League 1923 Championship, the Higgs-Hunt trophy. This is a victory to be proud of and Capt. Murphy and his gallant team fully merit the congratulations being heaped upon them. It was not luck that helped them through, but good hard work and strenuous practices under the clever guidance of a coach who prefers to remain in the background. It is said at once that the Junior League has fully justified its existence. Despite the scoffers and very serious handicaps, it has come through successfully; and the confidence reposed in its executive is best exemplified by the fact that none of these scoffers in which the seniors took themselves involved this summer, are at any time evident. The main reason, however, why the Junior League should receive every possible encouragement is that it is virtually the only recruiting ground from which the seniors can fill their ranks. At present there are too many old-timers, since past their labor, who still cling with the tenacity of crabs to the senior teams and are more of a hindrance than an acquisition. The seniors, therefore, of these youngsters and the gradual infusion of new blood can have but one effect and that is that in the course of the next two or three years football must stabilize as it never did before.

Undoubtedly last night's exhibition was a splendid one, for the youngsters played real football. Three minutes after the start of play Thompson drew the blood for the Cadets. Instead of expressing them this seemed to have the effect of bucking up the West Enders and they dug in hammer-and-sledge. The Cadets' defence was brilliant but the prolonged assaults could not be held off indefinitely and eventually through with the Cadets. Capt. Murphy's pressure the Holy Cross were awarded three corners in succession. Two were fruitless, but the last one was faultlessly placed by Walter, and in the scrum at the Cadet goal mouth, Jackman-banged in number two.

On crossing over both teams entered the lists determined to do or die. The tactics of the Holy Cross were developed with machine-like precision and they came through with more than a few successful plays. Some of the Cadets played strenuously, and gave little or no quarter and in the closing moments of the game organized a rally that very nearly produced the goods. At one moment the spectators, fooled by the rapidly fading twilight and low visibility thought that they had actually scored, but Referee Churchill ruled it back. The Telegram offers the Holy Cross team its congratulations on their splendid achievement and also the Junior League for the successful termination of its first year's activities.

WHAT AGE SHOULD GOLFER QUIT?—DEATH REVIVES OLD QUESTION.

LONDON.—The death of A. R. Smith, secretary of the Dover college, who succumbed while playing golf, has revived the discussion of the age at which golfers should retire. Mr. Smith was 65 and was the English golfer past middle life to die in the links this year. Some British physicians contend that 50 is the danger mark. They say that the arteries have become rigid at this age and that club swinging is likely to be fatal.

WORLD RECORD SET IN RIFLE MEET AT PERRY.

CAMP PERRY, O.—In winning the National Palma Match at the National Rifle Association tournament, with a score of 224 out of a possible 225, Capt. James R. Tucker of the United States marine corps broke the world's record for this match, which was held in the 800, 900 and 1,000 yard ranges. Capt. Tucker dropped one point on the 1,000 yard range. Capt. James T. Campbell of the coast artillery corps finished second, with 223, equal to the former record. Campbell also dropped his points on the 1,000 yard range. Many of the contestants were tied for third place with totals of 222.

GENE SARAZAN DEFEATS HAGEN IN EXHIBITION.

ASBURY PARK, N.J.—Gene Sarazan, former United States golf champion, defeated Walter Hagen, former British open golf champion, and broke the Asbury Park Golf and Country Club record yesterday when he turned in a score of 76 for the final 18 holes of a 36 hole exhibition match. Hagen scored 75. Scores 13 holes or less morning match were Sarazan 75, Hagen 74.

DANNY, THE STRONG MAN.

Everyone calls me "Rockbottom," because I am so strong and fit. I can lift my legs from the floor of habit.

A fellow will scot like a frightened rabbit!

A clever boxer from me turns. Just like he would from Bobby Burns. My biceps are like bands of steel. Ask Bearas or Halley how they feel.

My legs like marble pillars are. Stronger than other chaps, by far. Broad, deep, and strong my manly chest.

I am a burly sort of chap. Who's always spilling for a scrap. Said I to Gills, in the ring: "You have to suffer now, old thing!"

At lifting weights, and things like that. I'm jolly good, I tell you flat. To walk five miles and he faded away.

Say what you like, say what you can. There's none so strong as Foley Dan. Claude Hall worships me, no doubt. The way I throw my weight about!

WILL RIDE PAPYRUS.

Despite stories to the contrary, Steve Donoghue, thrice winner of the Derby, will ride Papyrus this month in the International Housenace at Richmond for the championship of the world. Donoghue was Papyrus's jockey when they won the Derby this year.

1924 AMATEUR MEET IN THE EAST.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa.—The 1924 national amateur golf championship tournament will be played at the Merion Cricket Club, Haverford, near Philadelphia. Mr. Lesley, president of the Golf Association of Philadelphia, Mr. Lesley said to-day that a telegram from Alan E. Wilson, Philadelphia, member of the Executive Committee of the United States Golf Association, had been received, stating that the Merion course had been selected.

JOE LYNCH TO MEET JOE BURMAN.

NEW YORK.—Joe Lynch of New York will defend his bantamweight title against Joe Burman of Chicago in a 15-round match at Madison Square Garden on the night of Oct. 12th, unless there is a hitch in the State Athletic Commission's present plan to lift the champion's suspension next Tuesday.

BELGIUM THE WINNER.

BRUSSELS.—De Myster, the winner of the James Gordon Bennett balloon race in 1922, landed the cup again this year. He landed in Sweden, at a distance of 1,175 kilometers from Brussels. Switzerland, Spain, France, the United States and Spain take the next five places in the order named. The United States Navy balloon A-689, under Lieut. Lawrence, landed at Putten, Holland. The race caused the death of five aeronauts, including two Americans; the injury of five others, and the destruction of a half dozen balloons.

RIGHTLY CLAIMS THE RECORD.

Editor Sportographs. I noticed by the papers containing the results of the A.A.A. Championships that this year the Broad Jump distance was 15 feet 70-100 ins. made by L. Spurrell, and that it was recognized as a record owing to the fact that proof of previous records could not be established—that is to say the record of 1921, claimed to have been made some years ago before the A.A.A. came into existence. In fact this event, I understand, was put on the program as "open" although all the other events gave the names and winners, times and distances of the 1922 championships. As I was the winner of the Broad Jump in the 1922 A.A.A. Meet, and my distance was 19 feet 9 ins. I would like to know why the A.A.A. this year considered it an open championship, surely my distance—duly measured by the A.A.A. officials and verified by Mr. Noel—should stand as the Newfoundland record, beating as it does by a fraction, the distance made by Mr. Spurrell this year? I shall be glad if I could use your good offices to have the matter rectified.

Yours truly,

T. V. PAYN.

Deer Lake. Note.—Mr. Payn is perfectly right in his contention, and the A.A.A. now rule that he is the title holder, having established the distance at the 1922 Championships Meet.

TO-DAY'S MESSAGES.

MARQUIS CURZON REVIEWS BRITAIN'S FOREIGN POLICY.

LONDON, Oct. 6.

The whole field of Great Britain's foreign policy was reviewed for the benefit of the Imperial Conference to-day in a three hour speech by Marquis Curzon. With regard to the Lausanne Treaty, Lord Curzon admitted that when he went to the Conference he only hoped to secure the freedom of the Turkish Straits for commercial vessels, whereas the Treaty guaranteed the freedom of passage for foreign warships subject to reasonable limitation in numbers, while the Black Sea was no longer a Russian preserve. He was not satisfied with the position of foreigners and trade in Turkey under the Treaty, but he thought the Turks themselves would be the greatest sufferers and they would learn through experience that the new Turkish State was dependent on foreign resources and assistance. He justified the policy followed by the Allies at Lausanne, of conceding certain points to the Turks rather than breaking up the Conference, and reverting to the war. The task confronting Turkey was a heavy one and she was likely to experience great disillusion and disappointment, but "in making what will be a great experiment she starts with a complete absence of resentment on our part and with the sincere expression of good will." Reverting to the negotiations following the Franco-Belgian occupation of the Ruhr, Lord Curzon repudiated any suggestion of the slightest desire on the part of the British Government to let the Germans down easily. He thought Germany's abandonment of passive resistance should have come three months ago, but he suspected it was true that no German Government could survive such a surrender. The speaker said he would not grudge France and Belgium the victory if it was a victory, but he doubted whether they were any nearer the fount of reparation. What was certain, "we see the beginning of that international disreputation of Germany which we all along feared, but which we have consistently been told to regard as a bogey."

STRESEMANN'S COALITION IS RESURRECTED.

BERLIN, Oct. 6.

The resuscitation of Chancellor Stresemann's defunct Four Party coalition to-night put an end to a Parliamentary crisis whose mysterious origin is only exceeded in novelty by its baffling solution in that four warring parties virtually agreed that there had been no ground for disagreement three days ago, and that the forming of the coalition was the only way out of the dilemma. Conservation of party prestige, emulating of office, and concern over political stagnation were declared to have played an unusual part in the inter-party truce which was preceded by a day of bartering and jockeying for position, the coalition leaders apparently preferred to risk the immediate political future by giving four party bloc another tryout, to taking a chance of being eliminated from the nation's affairs through the advent of a dictatorship with which they were threatened. Predictions around the Reichstag accord the resurrected coalition a slender parliamentary existence. It declared the present solution will have an inevitable sequel in the nature of a dictatorial regime without which it is commonly believed effective salvation of Germany's chaotic economics is inconceivable.

LLOYD GEORGE'S TRIUMPHAL PROCESSION THROUGH NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.

Hon. David Lloyd George, former Premier of Great Britain, veteran of seventeen years' activity in the labyrinth of Old World politics, came to the United States yesterday and found in a wholehearted enthusiastic welcome tendered him by New York a series of humanely potent thrills. So delighted was the little Welshman who had guided the British Ship of State through the tumultuous years of 1916 to 1922 that his demeanour was more often that of an interested schoolboy than of a wise statesman. His passage from the Mauritania to the police boat Mason to the Battery and thence by motor, accompanied by a cavalcade of cars to the City Hall and through the streets of the metropolis, was almost a triumphal procession, marked only by two minor street disturbances precipitated by Irish Republican fanatics. To Canada and the United States Mr. Lloyd George declared he brought, as Britain's war-time Premier, a message of heartfelt thanks for their services in the Great War. He came, he said, with no political status, with no official credentials, but as a private citizen of the Crown to express to Canada his personal thanks for "the volunteer aid she unstintingly offered the British Empire in her time of need. To the United States he brought thanks for the army that had come when the horizon of the Allied Powers was blackened with despair. His visit, however, was one of self-instruction. He wanted to say little and to study and learn much. He will leave this morning for Montreal.

Magistrate's Court.

A drunk and disorderly was fined $2 or 7 days.

A 27-year-old stoker of Forest Rd., appeared before court on a charge of perjury. Defendant gave evidence for the Crown in a Prohibition case heard before the Magistrate in the early part of the week.

A man for making alterations to his house, without first asking permission of the Municipal Council was fined $1 and costs.

Two young men who failed to support their mother were ordered to find a home for her.

Appeals From Magistrate's Judgment

It is learned that Mr. Joseph Burnstein, who last week was fined $300 for a breach of the Prohibition Act, has given notice of appeal to the Supreme Court, and furnished the necessary securities. The evidence and the judgment of Judge Morris have been forwarded to the Supreme Court.

MOSCOW, Oct. 6.

Sixty persons were killed and one hundred injured in a stampede in Kiev synagogue last night. The panic started when the lights were suddenly extinguished and cries of fire raised.

GERMAN WORKMEN IN SWITZERLAND THREATEN TO AGGRAVATE UNEMPLOYMENT PROBLEM.

GENEVA, Oct. 6.

German families rich and poor are fleeing from unrest in their country, and for the past few weeks have been crossing the Swiss frontier in large numbers. They are admitted as other tourists, but workmen most of whom come from Bavaria and along the Rhine, receive permission to remain only one or two months so that they will not compete with Swiss workers, for there are already one hundred thousand unemployed in this country.

LORD CURZON'S STATEMENT ON FOREIGN POLICY IS ADVISELY CRITICISED.

LONDON, Oct. 6.

It cannot be said that Lord Curzon's statement before the Imperial Conference received a warm reception from the press while there are indulgent comments on some parts of the official summary given to newspapers. The majority of editorials display impatience that no British policy was revealed and that this country apparently is to wait and see what France does.

A PERIOD OF INDUSTRIAL ACTIVITIES ANTICIPATED IN THE RUHR.

LONDON, Oct. 6.

Reported activities of big Ruhr industrialists such as the visit of Hugo Stinnes at Dueseldorf is attracting attention here and are subject to various rumors. It seems undoubted that General Degoutte had a private conversation with some of these representatives of German big business firms but nothing is known with certainty as to the subject discussed. The correspondent of the Daily Express states that France may be prepared to make further important concessions in order to bring about a real termination of passive resistance.

Three Schooners Ashore at Lamaline

A message to the Deputy Minister of Customs from Sub-Collector C. C. Pittman, Lamaline, states that the schooners Bretivilla, James W. Thomas, and Arkoma drove from their moorings during Monday's gale and went ashore. The Arkoma has since refloated but is leaking badly and will have to dock for repairs. The other two are still ashore and it is thought that they are considerably damaged. The message further states that several fishermen lost their stages and that the damage will prevent further prosecution of the voyage. The total catch to date is estimated at 25,500 qts.

Obituary.

With the passing of the late John Hoskins, whose death occurred on Sept. 27th from injuries received while at work Sept. 25th, the city has lost one of its most highly respected and esteemed citizens. The deceased, who was a native of Cornwall, England, came to this country about 30 years ago from Toronto, Canada, and has since resided here, earning a reputation as skilled and first-class mechanic. Of a quiet and retiring disposition he possessed many rare qualities of character which earned for him the respect of those who were privileged to know him. Honorable, honest and charitable, to those seeking his aid he was always a ready, sympathetic and helping friend. He was a great reader and well versed on all the topics of the day. An accomplished musician, playing both piano and violin, and the possessor of a remarkably strong voice, he sang in some of Toronto's largest churches, and on his first visit here, while attending services at Cochrane St. Church, sang as one of the congregation, and upon a request to join the choir he refused, as it was not then his intention to remain here.

The funeral which took place on Sunday, Sept. 30th, was the largest seen for some time and was attended by many friends and prominent citizens, who followed the flower-covered casket to the General Protestant Cemetery, where with impressive solemnity the Rev. Hammond Johnson officiated, and all that was mortal of the late John Hoskins was laid to rest, there to await the resurrection morn. He leaves to mourn a wife, one son and three daughters, also three brothers and three sisters residing in Canada and the U.S.A.—Com.
