Ala. whety, 725.—There were bad en an energe in morning before the Public is Committee. Under the skillful be of Mr. Mulock another chapter in evin block sandal was unfolded. A & Mather, who were tenderers for softing, were the chief witnesses, and tendered for the work at $42,000. Swore they expected to make $8,000 or 50 out of the contract. But owing to the Langevin's ruling the Secretary of e had declared that it was wrong to so the classe in the contract, and assured him that also was the opinion of the inister of Justice. This appeal to Mr. hapleau was keenly unjoyed by the bears, but the Minister maintained age and judicious silence. It was lebois' artist under this extraordinary to con pl from contractors who to get the years to the building megual to 25 per cent. of amount of their contracts. Thus ad power to extract $10,000 from the Minister, and were finally in emphatic and peremptory that they must submit to the as of the Charlebois contract and vithin fifteen minutes or their vald be forfeited. THE DEFENSE.

Purpose of the cross-examination of McGreevy seems to be to show that wed his brother money and that he dover the sums got out of these conin settlement of this indebtedness, nis in no way helps the position of the comment. "It is of no consequence for purpose Hon. Thos. McGreevy sold olitical influence to the firm of Larkin, aioly & Co. if the result was that the lie was robbed for his benefit.

A BROTHERS OUARREL

A BROTHERS' QUARREL. The evidence goes to show that the others McGreevy operated rogether more than a score of years; that there are been other serious ruptures of their relations; that Robert had once made a lubious affidavit for his brother's sake, and that it was many, many years ago that relations; that Robert and Thomas first sat as member of the Commons and, in violation of the Act to Preserve the Independence of Parliament, drew money out of a public contract. Mr. Tarte's indictment is absolutely sustained by the letters and public documents produced. His case cannot be seriously weakened by the records of witnesses of the ingenuity of cross-oxaminers. There is reason to believe that the reports of the expert accountants and the engineers will strongly corroborate the witnesses for the prosecution. Hon. Thomas McGreevy has arrived from Quebec, and it is expected will go into the box at a later stage of the inquiry.

The Mail's Ottawa special says the evi-

The Mail's Ottawa special says the evidence given touching the Langevin block was startling, though Mr. Fensom's story of a day or two ago prepared the committee for it. Mr. Fensom, it will be remembered, testified that he had to pay Charlebois, contractor for the block, 25 per cent. upon the amount he received for putting in the elevators. Now one of the members of the firm of Garth Bros., of Montreal, adds that when he supplied the heating apparatus her Batch of Disgraceful when he supplied the heating apparatus, Charlebois fined him 25 per cent. or $3,750

the members of the firm of Rousseau & Mather testified that Charlebois from the supplied to supply it for $43,000. When they came to sign the contract they found in it a clause which was not in the specifications, requiring them to make is a rangements with Charlebois for the use of the building ano which the roof was to be placed. They protested, and then Charlebois, who had a tender in for $60,000, offered to let them do the work for him are their price if they withdrew their tender and allowed the contract to fall to him. Here Sir Hector appears on the scene. The firm protested to the magainst the proposed assault upon the treasury, but the Minister declined to interfere to protect the public interest. So, as the scene in the specific to for the price they named and give Charlebois a bonus of $10,000, they had to withdraw, and Charlebois got the job as $20,000 additional.

It appears that Mr. Chapleau received a protest against the exactions of Charlebois, and that Sir John Thompson said the objectionable clause in the contract was not legal.

E PAY FOR A FLEASURE YACHT. J. Arnoldi, incehanical engineer He Works Department, was the ure in yesterday's sensational before the Public Accounts - It was sworn that he was the survey steamer registered in the R. Wilson, of Montreal, for aras he has drawn $100 a month acy for services supposed to performed in connection with the of dredging plant in various be country; but as a matter of believed that the steamer was and the following and pleasure yacht. It is a member of the iron firm Rooferson & Co., of Montreal, for Rooferson & Co., of Montreal, poiles goods to the Government odd's bare order to the value of r $5,000 a year. Mr. Lister, these damaging facts and liso that Arnoldi had used the abank clerk to get public money age of dredging material in a shed property in Ottawa. This all in violation of the law, which declares transment officers shall not receive and the the analytic that a year ago he appeared defore the committee and denied that he had any interest in the steamer which the had any interest in the steamer which the man in whose name it was registered declares was then and for years before his property. Arnoldi has been under suspicion of the Liberals for many years, but pitil now he has succeeded in concealing the law whose record is not above record in the Calonet which will now whose record is not above the proportion of the Liberals for many years, but pitil now he has succeeded in concealing whose record is not above the proportion of the Liberals for many years, but pitil now he has succeeded in concealing whose record is not above the proportion. To retain in the Calonet was then and for years before his proportion of the Liberals for many years, but pitil now he has succeeded in concealing the proportion of the Liberals party, and that is by a reorganization of the Ministry and a sweeping civil service reform. To retain in the Cabinet any man whose record is not above suspicion will be suicidal folly. The dismissal of a few clerks will not satisfy public opinion. The big boodlers as well as the little boodlers must go. The righteous indignation of the gentleman who engineered the great Pacific Railway bribe in 1873 at the spectacle of the little $100 or $200 jobs of the Department of the Interior can easily be pictured. His contempt for such petty jobbery must be sublime. How many Ministers may be implicated in the recent seandle is a matter for conjecture, but the Ministers may be implicated in the recent scandals is a matter for conjecture, but the resignations of Mr. Abbott and Sir Hecter Langevin would put the party in a better position to deal with the offenders in the civil service. The Conservatives, if defeated on such an issue as that now before the country, will not recover as rapidly again as they did after the Pacific scandal. Then they had the personal popularity and ability of Sir John Macdonald to aid them. There are, thousands of Canadians who would have railied to the support of "John A" under almost any circumstances in almost any circumstances in

of enthusiasm.

New York, July 25.—Special telegrams continue to point to some increase in the activity of raw wool, hides, the manufacture of boots and shoes, sole leather, rubber stock, wheat, flour, cattle and hogs. Prices for wheat are 3c higher per bushel and those of corn le higher, while quotations for oats are off 1½c. Flour is firmer but not quotably advanced. Cattle and hogs are 10c higher per cwt. Cotton is 5-16c lower. The menace to the general industrial situation would be found in the extraordinary-increase in the output of pigiron of 16 per cent. within the month of June without a corresponding advance in the demand, and in the 2,700,000 tons of anthracite coal more than was mined from Jan. 1 to July 18, 1890, an increase in 1891 of 15 per cent, (under an agreement to restrict productien), were it not for continued industrial disturbances among from and coal workers which tend to check the output. To the Editor of the WESTEIN ADVERTISES.

Thousands of dollars have been lost by the farmers of Canada in the frauds that have been practiced upon them by the traveling vendors of seed grains. The memory of the gigantic Bohemian oat and Red Lyon wheat swindlers are fresh in our minds, and these are only two of the many frauds that have been practiced upon the farmers in this line. The necessity for purchasing seed grain from this class is now forever gone, if indeed it ever existed, as our experimental stations can now more effectually protect the farmer from these frauds than any fegislation that can be enacted relating to them.

Henceforth the experimental stations and the seedsmen will be able to supply the farmers with everything that is likely to prove useful in the line of improved varieties of seed grain, or indeed of any kind of seeds that they may desire to sow or plant. There can and should be the most cordial co-operation between the experimental stations and the seedsmen, at the existence of the former may prove help ful to the latter, as well as to the farmer, in the work that it may give the seedsman to do, which otherwise he might never have had. It will, therefore, prove impossible for the dishonest dealer in seeds to make such headway in future, if the farmers are only wise enough to be guided by the information which the stations and the seedsmen are able to furnish as to new varieties and the promise of these.

The work that the experimental station and the seedsman will do respectively, it would not be easy to define with accuracy introduce such varieties, but their facilities for testing them are not equal to ours. They weakest point with us at present is the fact that the results which we may get here are not equally applicable to all parts of the Province capable of growing winter wheat, owing to diversity of soil and climate; but we hope to remedy this weak-ness ere long by a judicious averteen of disclimate; but we hope to remedy this weakness ere long by a judicious system of distribution of seed. The results can be obtained from the growers, and after comparison they may be used to guide us as to which varieties can be grown with the promise of the most satisfactory results.

Our winter wheats this year have done well. There is little or no trace of rust upon any of the varieties; and they are filling very much to our satisfaction. We are quite hopeful that some of the newer varieties will prove valuable. A bulletin giving full and accurate information regarding the results will be ready for publication before the middle of August,
