AGED GUELPH WOMAN BURNED TO DEATH

Mrs. Hewer's Clothes Caught As New York's streets have killed 227 the time, did not know of this fact, She Tried To Light Oil Stove.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Guelph, Nov. 2.-Mrs. Hewer, aged 66, living at No. 14 Oliver street, met a horrible death yesterday afternoon. Her clothes were burned almost completely off her body, and death was caused by the inhalation of the flames. It is supposed that she was attempting to light an oil stove when her clothing became ignited. The aged woman tried to rush out of the room, but her strength carried her as far as the banister, where she fell over. The accident was not discovered for a few minutes. Mrs. Hewer boarded with Mrs. Newsome, and when the latter's little girl came into the house she told her mother she smelled smoke. Mrs. wire from a stre Newsome attempted to get past the my was 22 years smoke to the fire, but was pressed Inkerman, Ont. back, and she was horror-stricken wthen she saw the body lying over the banister. She at once sent a call to the fire department, who rushed to the scene, but were too late to save Mrs. Hewer. They extinguished the fire in the house with little trouble. An inquest will be held.

In Choosing Oriental Rugs

The buyer must depend almost solely upon the integrity and knowledge of the dealer who sells the rugs, as each district of the Orient, in producing their own peculiar styles, make as well as rugs of great merit rugs of inferior value, which to the inexperienced eye may seem the equal of others at much higher prices, as much of the value of Oriental rugs lies in the permanence of dyes, grade of materials, care and originality of weave and design, which only an expert or those who have made it a study can determine with
