CAGE MERGER GIVES ACES BRIGHT FUTURE

SAME GROUPING

The "Y" Aces, who, by all present appearances, will be London's only entry in the Intermediate O. A. B. A. series this winter, held their initial workout on the Y.M.C.A. floor last night.

Practically all members of last year's team, eight strong, were out, with the exception of George Young, speedy little forward, who, along with Jimmy Smith, made a great scoring combination last year.

From present indications, the city's intermediate cage team will be made up from an amalgamation of the Aces and the Orioles. Last year London's chances were considerably lessened by the feud between the two organizations. Both were in the same group, and while they were doing their best to kill each other off, the other teams were going ahead and piling up a lead. However, as it turned out, the Aces were the winners of the little series and finally came into the final with the Windsor clan, where they lost out in a two-game series.

This year London should go even farther, as there are more players to draw from and along with that there will be harmony. Of last year's Orioles, who have announced their intention to come out with the Aces, are Bill Wallace, center man and forward; Charlie Harbour, one of the best scoring ends in the district; Harold Gillies and Geo. Douglas. There is possibility that Jerry Goodman and "Art" Ardel will also turn out.

This makes a very promising roster, as the Aces will have Freddie Quick, Douglas, Fox, Goodman and Jack Lightfoot for defence, with Jimmy Smith, George Young, Frank Shaw, Wallace, Harbour, Fairless, Bolkwell, and several others for the forward line.

The grouping this year is expected to be the same as it was last year, with the exception of the Orioles, who are expected to mean three teams in the group, Aces, St. Thomas Orioles and Stratford C.N.R. Apprentices. There is a possibility that Windsor may be shoved in, but the locals are against the move on account of the long jump.

The squad will practice regularly until the season opens, and under the coaching of physical director Roy Bege should round into a formidable machine that will give London real representation in the O.A.B.A.

TORONTO'S ONLY HOPE IN BALMY BEACH

Considerable Criticism Being
Hurled at Varsity's Graduate Coach System

Associated Press Despatch.
Toronto, Nov. 3.—Considerable criticism is made of Varsity's coaches and methods following their defeat by Queens on Saturday and their elimination from the championship race in the intercollegiate basketball tournament. The criticism centers around the graduate coach system.

While Varsity's intercollegiate entry plays at Montreal on Saturday, the M. A. A. squad will play a return match with Argos, who are charged with the "big four" series they played last week. After being deprived of a crack at the title, the scullers are determined to keep out of the cellar position, and the first essential to that is to reverse the score on the Windsor Wheelers.

Balmy Beach in the O. R. P. U. senior series are Toronto's only hope now for a Dominion title, and they came through the overtime battle at Hamilton on Saturday with five men injured. The team, Crozier, Reeve, Crowhurst and Keith were all damaged. The team returned yesterday but will not resume practice this evening. The beachers are particularly strong in substitutes, however.

Associated Press Despatch.
Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 3.—Theodore Presser, music publisher, and founder, owner, and for years editor of the Etude, who died at his home here Oct. 28 left virtually all of his $2,000,000 estate to a fund he had established several years ago to aid the cause of musical education and to assist struggling musicians.

The will, filed for probate yesterday, stipulated that the fortune, excepting a few cash bequests to relatives and employees, should go to the Theodore Presser Foundation, which was created by the donor in 1916 to establish scholarships and aid worthy music students.

INGERSOLL STARS ARE DOWNED 8-0

Woodstock College District
Champions Romp Away From Cheese Town Gridders.

Special to The Advertiser.
Ingersoll, Nov. 3.—In a very keenly-contested and exciting game in the Oxford county secondary schools rugby league the Ingersoll collegiate all-stars went down to defeat here this afternoon before the strong Woodstock college crew 8 to 0.

It was one of the best rugby games of the season, and the visitors were forced to extend themselves at all times. The collegiate team was strengthened by a number of players of last year, and their presence made strong opposition to the class Woodstock aggregation, which has won practically all of its games this season. Neither team scored a touchdown.

Woodstock's points were all garnered on kicks. It was in this department that the visitors extended the home team. The line plunging of Fisher and Smith, coupled with the generalship of Cheu, the famous Cheese player, formerly of Peterboro, were outstanding features. For Ingersoll the work of Peters at quarter and the line plunging of Parker, Leckie and Hutt were outstanding. The first quarter was scoreless.

In the second quarter Smith and Fisher counted two points for the visitors on kicks to the dead line. Neither team scored in the third, while in the fourth the locals tired, and Woodstock, who were in better condition, added six points. Jinton scored three points on a drop kick from twenty yards out, and another shortly after on a kick to the deadline. The last two points were scored on kicks to the deadline by Fisher and Hutt.

The teams:
Woodstock College—Snap, Knight; Ingersoll—Peters, Leckie, Hutt, Leckie, W. Fisher, J. Smith; outsiders: R. Brownell and G. Linton; flying wing: B. Thompson; quarter: H. Cheu; halves: N. Ferris, W. McGregor, R. Tarr; aubs: R. Denike, L. Janzen, W. Lee, M. Jones. Ingersoll Collegiate—Snap, S. Hamilton; outsiders: Whatlow, P. Desmond; middle: L. Miller, P. Maher; flying wing: Beekie; quarter: C. Peters; halves: R. Hutt, S. Cradock; R. Glendenning, J. McDermott, I. Thomas, N. Bonesteel, D. Rogers.

Referee: J. F. David, Dr. L. W. Staples, Ingersoll.
Umpire—Major Wilcox, Woodstock.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

Must Stay In College Till Columbia Beats Cornell

Slim Goldstein Made Wager in 1921, and He's Still Paying.
IS OPTIMISTIC

Special to The Advertiser.
New York, Nov. 3.—David "Slim" Goldstein, a rather portly young man, tilted his chair against the wall in the Beta Sigma Delta house at Columbia university yesterday and repudiated with scorn the idea that he would "hedge" in carrying out his wager to remain a schoolboy until Columbia beats Cornell at football.

Rumors that Columbia's defeat Saturday by the Ithaca eleven—the fifth since Goldstein wagered his academic emancipation on the Morningside team—had established the possibility of downing Cornell and the fulfillment of his wager Goldstein indignantly denied. The bet, he said, was "on" and would remain so.

"I'll stick," the veteran scholar said. "I've taken four degrees since 1921, and I can take four more. If necessary, or even fourteen more, I'll stick."

Goldstein's eyes flashed through his tortoiseshell glasses. "I'll go on studying," he said gravely, "until we have proved to Mr. Goldstein that his big bet is not inevitable. It may take time, but the law of averages is in my favor."

Speculative.
Mr. Goldstein speculatively twirled his Phi Delta Kappa key as he turned the corner of the building of Captain Pease, Columbia's quarterback.

"I took my bachelor of arts in 1921 and my master's in 1922. I tried the bachelor of science curriculum and we lost again. In 1924 I became a master of science, but that didn't do any good, so I tried law."

Goldstein, who is 24, sighed heavily and shook his head. "I am wondering now if law is the right combination," he went on. "I sometimes have my doubts. It may be that the school of medicine, where I suppose I shall enroll in time, will eventually see the downfall of Mr. Goldstein's bet."

"He's been up there about fifteen years now. Twenty-five years at most, I think, ought to be enough of an active period for any football coach. They ought to force these fellows to retire when they get old, the way they do policemen and college presidents."

The erudite football enthusiast paused for a somber memory. Immediately after Saturday's defeat, he wired a young lady in Ithaca asking her to be his guest next year "at Columbia's victory."

She's Pessimist.
"I will not see Columbia's victory with you next year," she wired back. "But I'll go to the game with you."

Her telegram is a possible prediction, Goldstein believes of another academic year. Goldstein, who lives with his parents at 600 West 189th street, has three sisters, all younger. One of them has gone through grammar school and two have put high school behind them since "Slim" wagered what may be the rest of his life on the Morningside eleven. His father thinks four years of college are enough for a young man, but "Slim" wagers is a wiser man.

"Some of my old classmates come back from reunions and tell me about their profits from the bond business," Goldstein said. "There are others who have asked me to go in business with them, and they've made fortunes while I'm still a schoolboy. But I don't regret making that bet; I know that sooner or later we're going to win."

"And," he added, "I'm going to take degrees until we do."

Stratford Plans Three Days' Fair

Loss On Fourth Day of Exhibition Influences Directors' Decision.

Special to The Advertiser.
Stratford, Nov. 3.—Despite the fact that expenditure on permanent improvements amounted to $728, and that the loss on the present presentation amounted to $839.50, the Stratford Agricultural society was only $76.61 behind on the fall fair. These figures were submitted at a meeting of the directors, held in the agricultural representatives' rooms. The small deficit may be reduced even more, as there are some receipts yet to come in. Receipts amounted to $3,890.76, and expenditures were $3,937.37.

It was believed advisable that the fair be curtailed in length from a four-day to a three-day show. With the four-day arrangement, the closing day is generally conducted at a loss, so it is believed wiser to drop it. This will give the first of the three days as preparation day and the two full days as desired.

It is not probable that there will be any additional buildings erected next year.

Ready for Contest.
The land on which the Perth County Plowmen's association will be held tomorrow on the farm of Theodore Parker, Ellise, was marked out for the competition this morning. As it is so it will be in good shape for plowing and not too muddy after the recent snow, according to Agricultural Representative M. C. McPhail.

Mrs. W. A. Sauer of Sebringville died at the General Hospital here late Monday night. She was 65 years of age. She had long suffered a stroke, which, with ensuing complications, made her recovery practically impossible. In her last days she was attended faithfully by her husband and his various friends. Despite her afflictions she was always of a cheerful disposition.

Born in Welland county, near Chippewa, her maiden name was Mary Margaret Piley. She was married in 1895. Since then they have made their home in the following centers: Morristown, three years; Dashwood, two years; Rosthern, Sask., four years; Winnipeg, four years; Alfeld, Wellington county, three years; Rodney, four years; Hanover, five years; Campden, five years. She was a member of the center to Sebringville last May, where Rev. Mr. Sauer has conducted a successful pastorate in the Evangelical church.

Surviving are the husband, two sons, two brothers, a daughter, and her mother, aged 85, who resides with the oldest son.

BELLEVILLE TEACHER DIES, BURIED AT ST. MARYS

Special to The Advertiser.
Prospect Hill, Nov. 3.—There passed away in Belleville on Friday morning Miss Annie Hardie. Miss Hardie was a successful teacher in Belleville college for some years as well as a public school teacher prior to that. She is survived by four brothers, Milton of Granton, Alfred of London, Will of St. Marys and Thomas at home. The funeral was held Monday from the home of the brother, William Hardie of St. Marys, to St. Marys cemetery.

BILL BURCH.

Bill Burch, captain of Tex Rickard's new professional hockey team, was a visitor in the city last night. He was passing through London from Windsor, and, of course, looked up his old mentor, Bill Marsden.

Burch is one of the highest-paid hockey players in the game, and one of the most popular. Few athletes of Burch's age would wear his honors as modestly as does the former junior star. His popularity is perhaps based on the fact that he is one of the likeable personalities in Canadian sport both on and off the ice.

HERMAN OR FINNEGAN MAY MEET KID KAPLAN

Scrap Wednesday Promises To Set Status of Both As Contenders.

By FAIR PLAY.
Special to The Advertiser.

New York, Nov. 3.—Habe Herman and Honeyey Finnegan will meet Wednesday night in New York in a scrap that promises to set the status of both boys as rightful challengers for Kid Kaplan's featherweight crown.

Herman was the victim of a poor decision in his set-to with Kaplan in Waterbury last summer, and a lot of fans, taking their cue from the fight, have been willing to acclaim Babe as the rightful leader in his class. The trouble is that Babe's work since that memorable battle in Connecticut has practically nullified the gain he had made.

Finnegan, out of the crowd among the available substitutes for Johnny Dundee, Baby, was floored in the first round and barely earned a draw. Yet Celmar proved little more than a punching bag for Chick Briggs, who is hardly more than a banian.

Herman has practically had his own way in arranging his fight with Finnegan. He refused to take the match unless Honeyey came in at catchweights, and he will grab three thousand dollars for the scrap. Finnegan first came into prominence as a titleholder in the navy. His work at Baltimore and Washington earned him the respect of the boxing public.

His first claim to fame was a newspaper decision over Johnny Dundee. Last month he won the affection of Philadelphia fans by a smashing bout against Babe Ruth, a local product, in a hard left-hand wallop, bringing Ruth down in the first round.

MOONEY, VETERAN JOCK, RULED OFF FOR LIFE

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 3.—J. A. Mooney, a veteran jockey, today was ruled off the tracks of the Kentucky racing club for life. Mooney's expulsion came after Jockey D. Mergler had confessed to the racing stewards that he had pulled Bumpkin, a 2-year-old belonging to Frederick Johnston, eastern turfman, in the race for the Kentucky Derby.

Mergler implicated Mooney in his confession, it was said.

WINDBAG EQUALS TWO-MILE AUSSIE MARK

Victoria, Australia, Nov. 3.—The Australian record for two miles was equalled by Windbag in winning the Melbourne cup at Flemington this afternoon. Windbag was owned and trained by Mr. W. W. Windbag, a local trainer.

Windbag, a 2-year-old, won by a length, and Manfred finishing a length behind. The race was a handicap, and the time for the two miles was 3:27 1/2, equalling the record established by Kin in the Sydney handicap at Randwick in 1920. The betting was Windbag 5 to 1, Manfred 7 to 4, and Kin 10 to 1. Twenty-eight ran.

The race was staged in fine weather before an enormous crowd.
