NEW CARLISLE

Some of the I.O.G.T. members had a very pleasant drive, Tuesday evening, the 26th. Namely Rev. Mr. McLeod, Miss McLeod, Mrs. Geo. Duncan, Miss Eunice McKenzie, Mr. J. O. Sherar, Mr. Melvin Jacobson and Dannie Sherar driving through the mud to attend an open Temperance meeting at Shigawake. There was about 100 people present and the meeting was a grand one. Mr. J. O. Sherar presiding. After remarks by the Chairman, the Rev. Mr. McLeod made a few remarks and gave a recitation. Rev. Mr. Vibert gave a very interesting and instructive address on temperance and rehearsed some of his experiences with those who had fallen by the dread drink appetite and urged all to total abstinence. Singing again "We'll Vote." Reciting, Rev. Mr. McLeod, "The Run Menace", Duet, Mr. Sherar, and Jacobson, "A Mother's Boy". Reading by the Chairman. Facts and figures. Solo by Mrs. R. Traverser, also Mr. Jacobson. Singing by all, "We'll never say God-bye." Meeting closed with prayer by Rev. Mr. Vibert, and singing "God Save the King".

The New Carlisle visitors wish to thank the brethren in Shigawake for the kindness, and wish to say they feel none the worse of the long drive through the mud, but feel they were well paid by the kind reception. This is one way we may help our brethren that are not quite as strong as we are.

Miss Traverser of Shigawake kindly assisted as organist, which was much appreciated.

Don't waste your money buying strengthening plasters. Chamberlain's Liniment is cheaper and better. Dampen a piece of flannel with it and bind it over the affected parts and it will relieve the pain and soreness. For sale by all dealers.

SHIGAWAKE

The Rev. Mr. McLeod of New Carlisle, together with Messrs. Shearer, Jacobson and others visited Shigawake I.O.G.T. Lodge last Thursday, as it was an open lodge and outsiders were admitted, there was a good attendance. Mr. Shearer acted as chairman, and gave out the program, which consisted of temperance songs by Messrs. Shearer and Jacobson, a recitation by the Rev. Mr. McLeod, who also made a short speech, a song by Mrs. R. P. Traverser, and a speech by the Rev. A. J. Vibert, in which he pointed out that one of the chief reasons for Shigawake being interested in the Temperance matter was the fact that it is hoped to have a county election on the question of prohibition before long, and the fact that legislation is now being passed, whereby the same voters will have a right to vote as those who names appear on the Federal lists. The meeting was a most enjoyable one, and was brought to a close with the singing of the National Anthem, and the Benediction, which was pronounced by the Rev. Mr. Vibert.

Mr. Arthur Skene was up from Port Daniel and spent Sunday at home.

Miss Jennie Smith is away spending a few weeks in Campbellton.

Mrs. M. A. Almond spent Monday this week in Paspebiac.

Mrs. J. A. LeGallais is away spending a few days at Gascons.

Mr. William Hayes went down to Chandler last week for a few days.

Miss Robena Hayes has been confined to the house with a severe attack of La Grippe, but is now much better.

Messrs. Ted Traverser and Robert Hayes spent last week at home, but returned on Monday to resume their studies at New Carlisle Academy.

The many friends of Miss Barbara Ramier will be pleased to learn that she has been accepted as a nurse-in-training at the Sherbrooke Protestant Hospital school for nurses in Sherbrooke.

The wind and rain storm of Sunday last damaged quite a number of fences around here, and as a consequence the farmers are putting them in order again. Ploughing is still the occupation of quite a few, the ground being as yet free from frost.

The roads are still very bad, especially in St. Godfroi and Hopetown West.

It is hoped that the new Minister of Roads will in the near future force the municipal councils to keep at least respectable roads. That this is possible is evidenced by the fact that where a sufficient amount of gravel has been put on them, they are quite fair. Each person ought to devote at least two days a year to graveling the road opposite their property, then in a few years we would have very good roads.

The boy's appetite is often the source of amazement. If you would have such an appetite take Chamberlain's Tablets. They not only create a healthy appetite, but strengthen the stomach and enable it to do its work naturally. For sale by all dealers.

ST. OMER

On November 21st, the numerous friends and admirers of Mr. J. P. Walker were all sorry to hear of his departure from St. Omer. For the last four years Mr. Walker was manager for the firm of Chappell Bros., and for six years before that he was with Mr. W. K. McKean in the same capacity. Mr. Walker was well known throughout Bonaventure Co., and his many friends will deeply regret his absence. Before his departure Mr. Walker gave a sociable entertainment to a few of his friends, at the residence of Mr. J. H. Allan, St. Omer. Among those present were Messrs J. T. Dagneau, mayor of St. Omer, Nicholas Arseneau, Ernest Allan and a few other friends.

BLACK LANDS
A gloom was cast over Black Lands, when we heard of the death of Mr. Donald Nichol, one of the best known and aged farmers of the country, after a short illness in his 79th year. Although of such an advanced age, he was always well and hearty, and his death came as a shock to all. Sincere sympathy is felt for the beloved wife and family. The funeral was held on Tuesday the 18th, to New Mills burying ground, and was largely attended by friends and relatives. A floral wreath was contributed by the Sunday school, with sympathy to their old superintendent. He was a faithful believer in Jesus, and we hope he is rejoicing in his glory. The pallbearers were: Dave McLean, Bob Archibald, Dan Archibald, John McConnell, Willie Archibald and Nattie Campbell.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

MEETING MONDAY

Mrs. W. D. Duncan is Added to Directorate—Good Paper by Mrs. Currie.

A meeting of the Women's Institute was held on Monday evening at the home of Mrs. A. A. Andrew, the President, a goodly number being present. Mrs. Wm. Currie read an interesting paper on "Domestic Science," and Mrs. Wm. D. Duncan was added to the Directorate. An interesting discussion was held after Mrs. Currie's paper in which she said:

We are met together this evening in the capacity of the Women's Institute. As this is a new department of work in our town, we all have something to learn no doubt, for my own part I feel that I have very much to learn. When we consider that the object of the Women's Institute is to discuss plans and methods for the betterment of home conditions, I think we will all agree that our object is a worthy one. Our motto is for "Home and Country," and surely in no gathering of women could there be a closer unity existing than that for the discussion of subjects relating to the home. In these stirring times women have a greater independence of spirit, than the women of a few years back. We cannot cling to conditions of the past as our mothers did a few years ago, and in this connection I think we must learn to do things in a better method, is not a sign of weakness or idleness, but rather stirring to live with the spirit of the age, and accomplishing our life work. God has given us a good country, but with this country great responsibility, and as the home is the cradle of the nation, we should we come anything our women, that has for its object, efficient womanhood, and the training of our children to become better citizens. A great many things relating to the home, present themselves that might be discussed, but I want to say a few words on a subject that it seems to me is of vital importance in every home in Canada, viz., The elementary course in Home Economics, or what we commonly call Domestic Science.

We are living in an age when the crude methods of our forefathers have given place to the more scientific mode of doing things, and when we want to instill these principles into a nation, we must begin with the children, and then if with the children, we must begin in the schools. Some one may say, our mothers were good cooks and thrifty housekeepers, then why not let the girls be taught at home.

True they were good cooks, etc., but the course in domestic science teaches the child, the relative value of foods and why such and such things should go together, which we as mothers could not teach them, because we were not taught ourselves, and besides, even if we did know these things, we have not the system, nor the time. We might give a lesson one day, and perhaps it would be totally neglected another day, we were very busy. Let us take Arithmetic or History, or any other subject and with our other work try and prepare a pupil for examination, or give them a certain course, it seems to me that with our other work our pupil would be neglected, and would not be able to compare favorably with the other pupils at school. In the domestic science room the pupil is taught the whys and wherefores of things in such a systematic way that cooking is a pleasure and not a drudgery. In my experience, if I wanted a girl to stay at home for a lesson, and it happened to be the afternoon of the cooking lesson and they objected strongly to staying at home and when our work is our pleasure, we all know how easy it is to do it. In the first place they are not nearness as will be seen from the following rules:

1.—Pupils will require for cooking classes an apron, hand towel, pot holder, sleevelets, a good note book and blotter.

2.—Bracelets or rings with settings should not be worn.

3.—Loose curly hair or short braids must be pinned up, long braids doubled under or tied.

4.—Before touching or preparing any food, wash your hands thoroughly.

MEN SHOT FROM MOUTHS OF CANNON

Barbarous Method of Execution Revived in India.

Allahabad, India, Saturday.—While a great crowd was assembled at Kabul, capital of Afghanistan, nine men were blown to pieces from the mouths of cannons for conspiring to assassinate the Ameer.

Habebullah Kahn, the Ameer, who rules like a feudal despot—in these modern times, wished to give his people a terrible object lesson on the danger of plotting against the life of a monarch. He chose, therefore, a method of punishment made infamous by the old Moguls more than 150 years ago and employed by the British conquerors of India to avenge the terrors of the prisoners plainly natives.

Knowing their fate, the nine men were dragged out of their prison in Kabul, marched through the streets to the parade ground, and drawn up in line while the cannons were being prepared by soldiers for their execution. One by one they were strapped to the mouths of the cannon.

When the last thong was fastened the terror of the prisoners plainly shown in their faces as they awaited their fate with bodies writhing the military commander of the execution squad gave the signal and the cannons were fired.

For an instant or two the air in front of the cannons was filled with smoke and fragments of men. The Ameer was avenged.

Until news of this execution reached Allahabad, British rulers believed this method of punishment had long been discarded. The British themselves used it during the Sepoy mutinies.

Sir Hector Munro, who was then a major in the British army of India, first employed the cannon mouth method of punishment against the natives. After the massacre of Patna in 1761 in which 2,000 Sepoys and 200 Britons were killed as a sequel to a war begun by the Nawab of Murshidabad, the Sepoys instituted their mutiny against the English. Sir Hector quelled that mutiny and executed twenty-four of the ringleaders by having them blown from the mouths of cannons. Subsequently the method was discarded.

This form of execution has peculiar terrors for the Hindus and Mohammedans owing to their religious convictions, the latter believing that the body will enter heaven in the form it left the earth.

With soap and warm water, scrub nails and clean them with wooden tooth-pick or regular nail cleaner.

6.—Always wipe hands before touching hair, handkerchief, coat or anything that is not quite clean. Never wipe hands on dress, apron, handkerchief or dish towel.

6.—Put your towel upon the table temporarily.

7.—To taste food, take up a little food on a stirring spoon, place it upon a teaspoon and taste from the spoon each time.

8.—Keep watching yourself and correct slovenly habits.

9.—Have a proper place for everything, and keep everything in its place. These rules should all be carried out at home.

If these rules are carefully observed the pupil cannot fail to become neat and clean in her cooking. While would give the dead languages their proper place in schools, and many girls who are seeking a higher education etc., cannot get along without, but if they are simply to follow housekeeping at the end of a common school education, it is not reasonable to suppose, that a thorough course in cooking would be of much greater benefit than the dead languages. While in Vancouver I called on a lady one afternoon, and she deeply regretted that she had taken languages, and so many other things that were of no practical use, and had not the chance of a course in domestic science like her sister enjoyed later. She said she simply knew nothing whatever about the simplest cooking, and paid dearly for her experience by wasting material. Is this not the experience of hundreds of girls?

Some may say the receipts are expensive and only for the rich. I can positively say that so far I have known our girls bring home samples of their cooking such as mutton stew, that was simply delicious, both in flavor and quality and made from a cheap piece of the mutton neck. Also in another case I remember, an exercise such as this was given: A supposed 50c was
