SMALL FRUITS FOR HOME GARDEN.

(Experimental Farms Note.) A naturally well-drained loam is preferable for all small fruit plants. Heavier soils, however, if there is sufficient sub-soil drainage to prevent an excess of stagnant ground water, will give good results. On the first type of soil planting may be done without ridging, but on the latter type it is better to ridge the soil slightly with the lowest part midway between the rows. The soil should be fertilized with a liberal application of stable manure, and plowed deeply. This should be done as soon as the ground is dry enough to work in the spring, so that early planting, which is an important factor, may not be delayed.

Strawberries are set in rows four feet apart and twelve inches apart in the rows. Currants and gooseberries are set in rows five feet apart each way. Raspberries are set in rows six feet apart and one and one-half feet apart in the rows. Two year old plants of currants and gooseberries are the most satisfactory for planting. Care should be taken to keep roots of the plants moist until planted, by giving protection to prevent them from drying out.

The strawberry may best be set by using a spade, thrusting it into the soil and pressing it sideways, and setting the plant with the roots spread fan-shape in the opening so made, then withdrawing the spade and pressing the earth firmly around the roots with the foot. The plant should be set so that the crown is level with the surface of the ground. Frequent hoeing and cultivating are necessary to keep down all weed growth until runners and new plants are formed, when they should remain undisturbed except to space the runners evenly about six inches apart. After this, careful hoeing around the plants will be necessary to prevent weed growth. It is wise to set out a new plantation every year as otherwise the plants become thick and poor crops result.

The only attention necessary to give the bush and cane fruits the first few years is to hoe and cultivate sufficiently to prevent grass and weeds from starting. If these are allowed to become established it is very difficult later to rid the plantation of them, and they will seriously interfere with growth and the production of good fruit. The raspberries are confined to a row not more than one foot wide and about six inches between the canes. An application of 150 pounds of nitrate of soda and 300 pounds of acid phosphate per acre, applied in the early spring, should give natter there fruits come into bearing.

The Senator Dunlap strawberry is one of the best. The Victoria Black, and Fays Prolific Red are two of the best currants. The Herbert raspberry is one of the best, and Downing one of the best gooseberries.

BLUENOSE COUPLE MET GRIM REAPER FEW HOURS APART.

William and Annie Woods, Natives of Weymouth, Buried Together in San Francisco.

Yarmouth.—The following clipping taken from the San Francisco Chronicle, has just been received in Yarmouth: "Fifty years of happy married life together, death within three hours of each other, and the last long journey to Holy Cross Cemetery side by side. Thus ended the lives of William and Annie Woods, old-time San Franciscans, who were buried here yesterday."

Fate Kind to Pair. It is not often that death comes to two old folks together. Usually one or the other is left to grieve, but that kindly Fate which ruled the lives of Mr. and Mrs. Woods seemed to be with them to the end, taking off the husband of five decades but three hours after his wife had succumbed.

The last act of a long, full, happy life was played for the wife at 2 o'clock, Thursday morning. At 5 o'clock William followed his mate, facing life's greatest adventure with that childhood sweetheart and wife of 50 years waiting in the shadow just beyond.

The life history of William and Annie Woods is the story of a young boy and girl love affair back in Weymouth, Nova Scotia, many years ago. Woods came to California leaving his little girl sweetheart behind. But the two came together again in San Francisco many years after, and were wed.

COUPLE NEVER PARTED.

That was in 1874. Since that time never had they been parted. Nor were they parted in death. Woods was well past the Biblical three score years and ten, having celebrated his 82nd birthday some time ago. He had been ailing and under a physician's care. But Mrs. Woods who was two years younger, was thought to be in perfect health until her sudden death at the home of her niece, Mrs. Thomas Dougherty of 1455 Fifth Avenue, with whom Mr. and Mrs. Woods have made their home for several months.

STOLEN $14,000 SPENT TIPPING "WHITE WAY"

Surrenders When "Broke." For two weeks George Lister was "the millionaire kid" on Broadway with $14,000 he stole from the American Express Company in Sausalito, Cal., when he absconded as cashier. Today he is under arrest—"broke." He borrowed a nickel subway fare to give himself up and was arrested on the way.

Lister was held in $25,000 bail by Magistrate Oberwager in Tombs Court for a hearing on April 19th. Most of the $14,000 Lister says, is in the pockets of waiters, cabaret singers, and doormen along the gay white way. He passed it out in tips ranging from $5 to $100. His boast when arrested was that he didn't spend a penny of it on himself, but used it to "make others happy." He still wore the brown business suit in which he disappeared.

Lister, who is thirty-four and lives at the Hotel Manhattan here, reached the end of his financial string a few nights ago with a $100 tip to a jazz orchestra leader for playing a favorite tune. Then his friends began to disappear. He decided to give himself up.

He was just a few feet from the office of the express company, at 46 Trinity place, when Detective Sergeants Fay and Fitzpatrick, who had consulted company officials on his case, recognized him. Questioned, he admitted his identity. Under his arm he carried a bag in which he had stolen the money. He turned it over to the officers. It was bulging, and they believed for a moment it held the $14,000. But looking inside they found only a few pair of socks and some shirts.

Lister disappeared March 10. He blamed it all on the fact that he had become associated with a crowd of bootleggers. He said he tried to commit suicide a few days ago, but that after he had turned on the gas "some one" turned it off.

"I posed as the son of a rich man," Lister said. "I wanted to make every one on Broadway happy. I think I succeeded until my money gave out. I tipped every one in sight. And I didn't spend a cent on myself."

QUALITY

NO TREASON

PRICE has always been of secondary importance in the blending of KING COLE Orange Pekoe. It has to be, if that characteristic rich flavor is to be maintained. Unusually choice teas are continually sought for it, and the cost of these is frequently changing.

KING COLE Orange Pekoe is for the real tea lover to whom a fine cup of tea is a delightful necessity. Any lowering of the quality would be treason.

The price of KING COLE Orange Pekoe has changed slightly from time to time, and may again be higher or lower according to market conditions, but its original exclusive flavor remains unaltered.

60-POUND WILDCAT CAUGHT AT CAPE DOR.

Eastville.—On Saturday of last week a huge wildcat weighing 60 pounds was caught at Cape Dor by Eros Wason and Emery Allan. This huge cat had killed a large deer and came at night to feast and in the day it concealed itself.

Mr. Wason and Mr. Allan set a large trap and caught it a number of times but owing to its great strength it always got away, till at last by attaching a spring pole to the trap they succeeded in catching him, which was a great deed as it will save the lives of many deer.

THE ROAD TO GLORY.

You'll never get to glory, lad, along the glittering road. Your shoulders must be big and strong to bear the heavy load. And you must put the pleasures by. The painted cheek and smiling eye, The merry dance and rousing song, To do what duty asks.

The road to glory's straight and far away from where the revels are. With many a dusty mile to tread and countless dreary tasks. Two ways there are for youth to go, and one is gay with song, The other calls for earnest men and rugged hearts and strong. Bewitching signs lure to the feet. Of those who sigh for pleasures sweet. But when the purse is empty, boy, in scorn they pass you by: "Tis time enough to dance and sing. When you have done some useful thing. And youth must strike for goals afar which old men dare not try.

You'll never get to glory, lad, by travelling pleasure's way: Who steps aside for dance and game shall see his strength decay. So bend your shoulders to the load. And trudge the rough and dusty road. And choose the brave and earnest souls. Whose eyes are turned to distant goals. And they shall make you strong and wise, and peace shall dwell with you.

COMPETITION BRINGS DOWN COAL PRICE

Montreal.—The price of American anthracite was reduced from $17 a ton to $15.25. A fight for the Montreal market has begun between merchants handling Welsh and Scottish coal and those selling the United States product. It is understood the British interests this year will lay down 300,000 tons of coal, which is half of the city's supply. Due to competition from Nova Scotia coke this commodity, has dropped from $14 to $12.50.

PRACTICALLY CERTAIN THAT SMALL SCHOONER FOUNDED IN BAY.

Captain Was Andrew Baxter of Lower Granville.

St. John, N. B.—Doubt as to identity of the small two-masted schooner that founded off Spencer's Island Saturday last during a heavy storm, with two men on board, merged into practical certainty today that the ill-fated vessel was the schooner "Champion," bound for Windsor from St. John with a cargo of fertilizer, and that the two men on board were Captain Andrew Baxter, of Lower Granville, N. S., owner of the vessel, and T. W. Bingay, deck-hand.

By telephone communication with Bass River, N. S., today it was learned that a "T. W. Bingay" resides at Port Au Pique, N. S., and that when he left there he was to go on a schooner.

Crusoe Knew What He Wanted And He Got It

ONE of the most persistent advertisers in the history of success was Robinson Crusoe. He knew what he wanted—a ship—so he put up an ad. for one. He flung up a shirt on a pole, at the top of his island. That, in the language of the sea, was plain to every seafaring man.

The circulation was small, there was no other medium, but Crusoe kept at it, despite the fact that he got no inquiries for a long time. He changed his copy, as one garment after another was frayed out, and in the end got what he wanted.

Crusoe used the best medium at his disposal. The best medium in Annapolis County, Mr. Advertiser, is the Weekly Monitor. It goes direct to the people to whom you wish to tell your story. Use these columns persistently and you are bound to obtain results.
