Entries have been received from all the best known riders and ropers on the continent, and the large number of valuable prizes offered for competition ensures that the spectator will see the best that can be offered in the way of broncho breaking, roping, wild steer riding, etc.

SINGERS, PLEASE NOTE.

Why is it that singers, good bad and indifferent, invariably ignore on their programmes the writers of the songs? Surely the poet is entitled to some slight recognition for the poem is the source of inspiration to the composer, the foundation of the interpretation and the current of understanding between singer and audience.

Who would want to hear a singer, no matter how beautiful the voice and melody, stand up and give sixty poems in full, omit the names of the measure of Tra-la-la, and call it poetry.

NATURE'S WARNINGS

Danger Signals That Everyone Should Take Seriously.

Pain is one of Nature's warnings that something is wrong with the body. Indigestion, for instance, is characterized by pains in the stomach, and often by sharp pains in the chest and joints, headaches are a sign that the nerves or stomach are out of order. In some ailments, such as anæmia, pain is not so prominent, in this case Nature's warning take the form of pallor, breathlessness after slight exertion, palpitation of the heart, and loss of appetite. Whatever form these warnings take, wise people will not ignore the fact that many diseases have their origin in poor blood, and that when the blood is enriched the troubles disappear. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are most helpful in such cases because they purify and build up the blood to its normal strength. In this way it tones up the nerves, restores the appetite and gives perfect health. Miss Hazel Berard, of Annapolis, Ont., has proved the great value of this medicine and says: "I am a young girl and have been working in a factory for the past four years. For two years I had been in such poor health that at times I could not work. I was thin and pale, and troubled with headaches and fainting spells. I did not nearly all this time, but it did not help me. My mother advised me to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and after using them for a while I could notice an improvement in my condition. I used nine boxes and can truthfully say that my health is restored. When I began taking the pills I weighed 97 pounds and now I weigh 114. I feel that I owe my good health to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and hope other ailing people will give them a fair trial."

WAS NO JOKE IN THOSE DAYS.

Congressman Guy Harby of Colorado, himself a country publisher, has a faded old clipping in his possession about the difficulties of a pioneer newspaper out in his country which reads: "We begin the publication of the Rocky Mountain Cyclone with some phew diphiculties in the way. The type pounder whom we bought our outfit for this printing hpphic platted to phur us with any eps or cays and it will be phour or phive weep bephore we can get any. The mistake was not phount out till a day or two ago. We have ordered the missing letters, and will have to get along without them till they come. We don't like the look of this variety of spelling any better than our readers, but mistax will happen in the best regulated phanillies, and iph the phs and es and s's and q's hold out we will weep (and the e hard) the Cyclone whirling apter a phashion till the sorts arrive. It is no joke to us—it's a serious aphair."

BACKBONE AND WISHBONE

Don't you ever wear your wishbone. Where your backbone ought to be? Is a maxim full of wisdom. And applies to you and me. For the fellow who is wishing. For the things to come his way. Is the one who puts off doing To-day's work another day.

This life is but a mirror; laugh, And smiles come back to greet us. Sorrow at once and just as surely. Sorrowing business ever meet us. If it hurts, get 'em and bear it. What's the use to cry and curse, Make the best of circumstances. Take what comes, it might be worse.

If you don't get what you're wanting, What do things that you can get. You can't tell in the beginning. Just how high your mark to set. If your job don't suit your notion, And you think the other world, Just remember that the other fellow Would swap back, may be, if he could.

The world is full of people, And the year is made of days, Takes a lot of folks to fill up All the time in many ways. But if you just keep on doing All you can, your very best, Some day opportunity'll open And you'll find you lead the rest.

Like don't look alike to people Looking at it in different ways. Better strike an average, somehow. On the rainy and sunny days. Wishes won't get there like bustle; Grit and push win out, you see. Don't you ever wear your wishbone Where your backbone ought to be?

NIGHT MOTOR RIDERS STORMED CUSTOMS HOUSE AT PORT MORIEN, C. B.

One Hundred Men, Some Of Them Masked With Flour Sacks Carried Away Forty Three Kegs Of Seized Liquor.

Sydney, N. S.—Customs House at Port Morien was stormed early Tuesday morning by night motor riders who came in ghostly appearance, masked in flour sacks and carried away some forty-three kegs of seized liquor.

The seizure had been made at Long Beach last evening. Word of it got abroad and through the night a threatening band gathered. The windows of the Customs House were smashed by rocks and those in charge though it politic, in face threats, to surrender two kegs of liquor. The crowd dispersed, but later fresh numbers came, some of them in cars and masked. They entered the building, took possession of the goods, loaded it into their cars and drove away.

NOVA SCOTIA MAY SELL APPLES TO THE U. S. MARKET.

Virginia and New England Crops Short—Annapolis Valley May Supply Lack.

Nova Scotia apples may be on the U. S. market the coming season, Mr. Comeau, general agent of the D. A. R. here, and just back from Boston, says that, like the strawberry crop, the apple crop in Virginia and the New England States promises to be short this season, which may open the U. S. market for Annapolis Valley growers. This situation arose in the U. S. about five years ago.

Referring to Mr. Comeau's presence in that city, a recent issue of the Boston Transcript said: "Mr. Comeau brings an enthusiastic report regarding 'Apple Blossom Week' in 'Evangeline's Land' which has recently been enjoyed by thousands of Nova Scotians and visitors from the U. S. 'Blossom Sunday' is an outdoor festival which has no parallel anywhere in the world, was observed June 7th, and Mr. Comeau says that 10,000 persons, coming from every part of the province, flocked to the Annapolis and Cornwallis Valleys to see the hundred miles of fragrant bloom. Not only was the display of blossoms great, but the fruit has since set well, and from indications there will be a crop of about 2,500,000 barrels of apples this year, only half a million barrels above the average crop. CONGRESS ASKED TO ACT IN COAL FIELD

Restoration of Anthracite Industry to Normal Competitive Basis Urged

Washington—Congress is asked in a report by the Federal Trade Commission to take steps to restore the United States anthracite industry to a normal competitive basis, and also to secure an adequate supply of reasonable prices.

The report dealing with past high prices of the fuel, viewed as a result of the anthracite industry's failure to produce a large quantity of coal, suggested similar action by Congress to obviate high prices in times of actual or anticipated shortage. Complete restoration of competition in the industry, in the opinion of the commission, would be preferable to price regulation.

Of the 88,000,000 tons of anthracite produced annually, 70 per cent was said to have been produced by eight large companies now or recently owned by affiliated with railroads, and that the remainder was produced by 100 independent companies. The commission reported that the railroad companies published prices periodically but that they failed to reflect current changes in supply and demand, while the independent simular took the highest price obtainable.
