THE FOREST CULTIVATOR.

THE FOREST CULTIVATOR.—Patented by JOHN A. CULL, Toronto, has, after two years trial, proved itself to be the most useful implement on the Farm,—for all kinds of new land, a land encumbered with roots and stumps, it is an absolute necessity, and is so strong, that it will pass over logs without injury.

For Spring use after Fall ploughing, nothing can compare with it—the draught is light, and an ordinary team will cultivate five acres once, (or two and a half acres once and across) in a day. Apply, post paid, to the Patentee. v2-17-1t
