

WHAT IT WAS WORTH TO HIM.

How Geo. L. Hall (Traveller for the great Chicago Soap Factory of Allen B. Whitley), while on a commercial tour to Canada was made happy.

We give his experience in his own words: "On my last trip to Canada, I was advised to try Dr. Carson's Stomach Bitters for Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint and Biliousness. Up to that time I was continually taking pills and other medicines, but they only gave me temporary relief. I did not seem to digest my food properly, and I was afflicted with headache and sour stomach. Well, I got a bottle of the doctor's Stomach Bitters, and, I tell you, it beats anything I have ever used. It did not sicken or gripe me, and I have felt like a new man ever since I started taking it. I tell you what, gentlemen, Dr. Carson's Stomach Bitters is far ahead of any medicine we can get over on our side of the line, and you may be sure I don't go out of Canada without a fresh supply. I have just struck the medicine that suits my case to a knock-down." Dr. Carson's Stomach Bitters is the best and safest blood purifier one can take; it has no equal as a spring medicine. Sold in large bottles at 50 cents by all druggists and dealers in Patent Medicines. Try a bottle this spring and you will never regret it.

No journal of its class has attracted so much attention during the past twelve months as the TURF, FIELD AND FARM, published weekly at 39 and 41 Park Row, New York. It has discussed breeding theories in such a way as to make a marked impression upon the thoughtful public mind and to draw out the views of many able students of the problem of reproduction. It has shed a great deal of light on an important question, and its opinions have been widely quoted. Its reports of running and trotting meetings have been models of clearness and accuracy, and its Field and Kennel department has been better than ever. The first bench show, the first gun trial and the first field trial in America were given, at the suggestion and under the direction of the TURF, FIELD AND FARM, and so there is a logical reason for the paper being recognized as an authority upon dogs and guns as well as horses. The athletic and aquatic champions have signed in its office articles of agreement for their important contests, and the paper is extensively read by men fond of these vigorous sports. Much space is given to the two great intellectual games, chess and checkers, and on these it speaks with authority. The dramatic department bears the stamp of scholarship and originality. The amount of fresh and original matter published by the TURF, FIELD AND FARM is astonishing, and it is gratifying to learn that the circulation of the paper is rapidly increasing. In ability, circulation and influence it is second only to its great rival, the London Field.

Sparkles.

We grow broader, not by seeing error, but by seeing more and more of truth.

De fust step toward spillin' a child is ter laugh an' call him smart when he sasses yer.

NOTHING except what flows from the heart can render even external manners pleasing.

An old agricultural correspondent writes us to know "whether hogs pay." Some hogs pay and some do not. Quite a number take the paper several years and then send it back marked "Refused."

The old gentleman who got tripped up while trying to cross the ball-room remarked, as he slowly crawled to a perpendicular, that it was always pleasant to be thrown in the company of young people.

WHAT a beautiful example of simplicity is set by that useful animal, the domestic cat, which rises at three o'clock a.m., washes its face with its right hand, gives its tail three jerks, and is ready dressed for the day?

LIZZIE: "Aunt, do you like to eat chocolate drops?" Aunt: "Yes, very much." Lizzie (after much thought): "Then I think I'd rather give my paper of chocolate drops to grandmamma to keep."

"MAMMA, where's papa gone to?" asked a little girl one day. "He's gone to town to earn more bread and butter for you, darling." "Oh, mamma, I wish he would sometimes earn buns!" sighed the child.

SCENE: An Irish cabin. Pat is ill. Doctor has just called: "Well, Pat, have you taken the box of pills I sent you?" "Yes, sir, be jabers, I have, but I don't feel any better yet; may be the lid hasn't come off yet!"

WHEN a man's wife comes in and sees him razor in hand, and with his face all lather, and asks him, "Are you shaving?" it is a provoking thing for him to answer, "No; I am blacking the stove." But it is in human nature so to reply, when women will do such things.

MINISTER—"Well, John, I've nae doot, frae your long experience, ye cood occupy the poolpit for an afternunc yersel', should an emergency occur." Beadle: "Hoots, ay, sir, there's nae difficulty in that; but then where in the hael parish wad ye get enybody qualified to act as beadle?"

A MAN rushed up to a woman looking in a show-window, and grasping her by the arm angrily exclaimed, "Come on; I'm tired of waiting for you." Then noticing he had made a mistake he drew back with. "O I beg your pardon, madam; I mistook you for my wife." "I thought so," she answered, and passed on.

"MR. SMITH, do you know the character of Mr. Jones?" "Well, I rather guess I do, Jedge." "Well, what do you say about it?" "Well, he ain't so bad a man after all." "Well, Mr. Smith, what we want to know is, is Mr. Jones of a quarrelsome and dangerous disposition?" "Well, Jedge, I should say that Tom Jones is very vivid in verbal exercise, but when it comes to personal adjustment, he hain't eager for the contest."

THE FALSE PROPHET.—He who prophesies falsely of the weather, leaves off his flannels and overshoes, and catches cold, is indeed unwise. If you follow this false prophet your rescue lies in taking Hagar's Pectoral Balsam. It is the best cough cure and the safest throat and lung remedy known to medical science.

A BOSTON paper tells us that once in the course of an argument for a man tried for manslaughter, based on the assumption of self-defence, General Butler informed the jury that "we have it on the highest authority that all that a man hath he will give for his life." Judge Hear, council on the other side, rose and retorted by quickly saying that he had "long wondered what General Butler considered the highest authority, and was very glad to have the question settled," and proceeded to read to the court from the Book of Job, "And Satan answered the Lord and said, All that a man hath will he give for his life."

PECTORIA.

Something we all want in this climate is "Pectoria" the great 25-cent cough and cold cure. Pectoria is put up in 25-cent bottles, and cures Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, soreness or oppression of the Chest, and all affections of the Lungs and Throat. At this season of the year the Great "Pectoria" should be on hand in every household. Pectoria has a large sale throughout Canada, and is acknowledged to be one of the greatest of Cough medicines. Never say die until you have tried Pectoria, it will surely cure you.
