In a lengthy article on fall sickness, Dr. Hall concludes that if persons in the country, where intermittent fevers prevail, would adopt the breakfast before going out of doors, and keep a blazing fire on the hearth in the living room during morning and evening, fevers and chills would almost entirely disappear as a provailing disease.

CHARCOAL POR HOGS.

Professor Kuapp, of Vinton, Towa, thus alludes to the value of charcoal for hogs: "Charcoal should be fed to hogs frequently." Better keep a supply by them in small boxes. Mix four quarts of salt, two ounces of sulphur, and one bushel of wood ashes, and keep constantly in the pen in boxes. It tends to reduce fever, destroy worms and aid digestion."

QUEEN OF PUDDINGS.

Take one pint of bread crumbs, add one pint of milk, one cup of sugar, the yolks of four eggs, well beaten, rind of a fresh lemon, g ated fine, a piece of butter the size of an egg: then bake till well done; now beat the whites of four eggs to a stiff froth, adding a toacupful of powdered sugar, in which has been stirred the juice of a lemon; sproad over the pudding a layer of jelly, then pour the whites of the eggs over, and place in oven till browned. Serve with cold croam.

RYE AND INDIAN PRUIT LOAF.

To five quarts of fine corn meal add five pints rye meal, mix thoroughly, add water as hot as the hands will bear, and make into a not very stiff dough; then add three pints stewed raisins and three pints of washed currents, mix intimately, fill a deep pan, and smooth it over the surface, steam it six or eight hours (all night if convenient), bake about two hours longer, and serve warm or cool.

A NOVEL MODE OF PRESERVING TOK.

The use of ice in small quantities fro-quently repeated is very general in many diseases, but it is generally found to be a difficulty to keep it from melting, especially in small blocks. Dr. Schwarz recommends, to obtain this result; that the ice mends, to obtain this result, that two less should be put in a vessel covered with a plate, which vessel should be placed on a feather-bod and covered with a feather-pillowor cushion, feather-abeing very had conductors of heat. Dr. Sohwarzystates that by this plan he has been able to keep six pounds of ice for eight days when the thermometer marked summer-heat.

A NEW HYDRAULIC CEMENT.

A French chemist is said to have succeeded in preparing a mineral compound, which is said to be superior to hydraulic lime for uniting stone and resisting the action of water. It becomes as hard as stone, is unchangeable by the air, and is proof spinst the action of acids. It is made by mixing together nineteen pounds sulphur and forty two pounds pulverized stoneware ; the mixture gentle heat, which melts the sulphur, and then the mass is stirred until it becomes thoroughly homogonoous, when it is run into moulds and allowed to cool. It melts on about 248 ° Fah. and may be reemployed without loss of any of its qualities, whenever it is desirable to change the form of an apparatus, by melting in a gentle heat, an operating as with asphalte.

TREES.

"Trees as a cordon around a house are considered a prophylactic. They must not evershadow the building, for sun and air are the best sanitary preventive agents; but at a little distance, they seem, especially if about 100 properties. if camphor bearing, like the Australian gum tree, to absorb or avert the miasma. There are many authentic instances of this power of vegetation. Then, not too many trees should be cut down in the neighborhood. Our sun has a tromendous power, and it may be safer not to expose an old forest ground to its rays. Under-draining is a well-known preventive, and will sometimes (though not always) completely preserve a place. Ponds should be distrusted, even with running water through them, as they will become stagment under the best of care. Bedrooms on the ground floor should be avoided; and in Spring and Addition a Noticet; and in opinion and all the kept up in the evenings. The old Romans well understood the sanitary effect of an open firs on their malarious plains. Night air in April and September must be guarded against an article food he helptinally ed against, nourshing food he habitually taken, a little solution of quinine kept at hand, and, with ordinary prudence, a family may escape all ill offects. For the enouragement of our rural house-owners it should be remembered that England once inflored ander intermitted fover as much stany part of the United States. In the time of Cromwell, parts of Lincolnshire were almost uninhabitable from the form fever, and so with other districts of England. Underdraming and cultivation have changed it all in this respect. This will inevitably bo the case here."

A REMARKABLE PROFESSIONAL SUCCESS.

From the Missouri Republican (St. Louis.)
Among the notable professional men of this country who have achieved extraordinary success is Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N.Y. The prominence which he has attained has been reached through strictly legitimate means, and, so far, therefore, he deserves the envisble reputation which he enjoys. This large measure of success he enjoys. This large measure of success is the result of a thorough and careful preparation for his calling, and extensive reading during a long and unusually large practice, which have enabled him to gain high commendation, even from his profes-fessional brethren. Devoting his attention to certain specialities of the science he has so specialities, he has become a recomized leader. Not a few of the remedies pre-scribed by him have, it is said, been adopted by physicians in their private practice. His pamphlets and larger works have been received as usual contributions to medical knowledge. He has recently added an other, and perhaps more important work, because of more general epplication, to the list of his published writings. This book, entitled "The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser," is designed to enter into general circulation. Dr. Pierce has received acknowledgements and honors from many sources, and especially scientific degrees from two of the first medical insti-tutions in the land.

The immense domand for his specifics, some time ago necessitated the opening of a regular Dispensary for their preparation, the establishment has expanded it into mammoth proportions. In order to meet the demand constantly made upon it for the romedies propared by Dr. Pierce, a large number of men are employed at all times, and the expenditures made by Dr. Pierce are enormous. The postal expenses amount to nearly a thousand dollars a month, while a corps of experienced physicians are constantly employed by the dector for the conefit of his patients.

There is scarcely any disease in which purgative medicines are not more or less required, and much sickness and suffering might be prevented were they more generally used. No person can feel well while a costive habit of body prevails; besides it soon generates serious and often fatal diseases, which might have been avoided by a timely and judicious use of proper Cathartic Medicines.

The proprietor can recommend these Pills with the greatest confidence, believing them far superior to those in general use; being more mild, prompt, safe and uniform in their operation.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color,

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sedi-ment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a

Every year increases the popularity of this valuable Hair Preparation, which is due to merit alone. We can assure our old patrons that it is kept fully up to its high standard, and to those who have never used it we can confidently say, that it is the only reliable and perfected preparae. its high standard, and to those who have never used it we can confidently say; that it is the only reliable and perfected preparation to restore GRAY OR FADED HAIR to its youthful color, making it soft, lustrous, and silken; the scalp, by its use, becomes white and clean; it removes all eruptions and dandruff, and by its tonic properties prevents the hair from falling out, as it stimulates and nourishes the hair glands. By its use the hair grows ticker and stronger. In baldness it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, and will create a new growth except in extreme old age. It is the most economical HAIR DRESSING ever used, as it requires fewer applications, and gives the hair that splendid glossy appearance so much admired by all. A. A. Hayes, M.D., State Assayer of Mass., says, "the constituents are pure and carefully scleeted for excellent quality, and I consider it the BEST PREPARATION for its intended purposes." We publish a treatise on the hair, which we send free by mail upon application, which contains commendatory notices from clergymen, physicians, the press, and others. We have made the study of the hair and its diseases a specially for years, and know that we make the most effective preparation for the restoration and the preservation of the hair, extant, and so acknowledged by the best Medical and Chemical Authority.
