" DATED DATES, M. D. "RICHARD BRIGHT, M.D."

The Turnks giving Day on Thursday last was observed with more than usual solemnity, not only in the metropo-lus and English provinces, but in all parts of Ireland and Scotland. In London the police made the unparalleled report on the following day, that for the first time in their report on the inflowing day, that he had not time in their annals they had not a single case calling for their interference from nine in the morning till nine at night. The Thames river throughout the day presented an unusually quiet appearance, in consequence of the very few eraft which were to be seen. In fact, less work was performed on the Thurses on Thursday moguing than on Saturday. The Lou to 1 and Westminster Penny Steamboat Company directed that none of their boats should be navigated on the river, and their respective piers were entirely closed. Although the day was fine, there was little of the holidaymaking usual on such occasions; the places of worship manus distribution of them to overflowing. and the clerzy, with scarcely an exception, gave a practical turn to their discourses, which the Bishop of London. calturn to their discourses, which the histop of London, had advised, the daily papers filling several columns on the Friday with a summary of the principal ones. At St. Paul's the Hishop himself preached. After dwelling on the religious view of the recent visitation of cholers, he called upon his congregation to show their sense of God's called upon its congregation to show their sense of Unique mercies by supplying the people with increased means of education and public worship.

The Dublin Evening Mail, which started the idea a few weeks since, of Prince Albert purchasing the Connemars property, as a family estate, now throws out a bint that the town of Galway may become the property of the City of London, and be converted into the western outport of the great metropolis. Rumours are, it is stated, affoat of me vast enterprise of this sort, and the establishment of an American packet station at Galway is said to be awaited as the preliminary step.

Viscount Masserene, in answer to the circular of the ommittee which is conducting the address to Lord Roden agreed to in Dublin, says that though he yields to no one in his exteem for Lord Roden, he cannot sign the address, one of his principal reasons being because he cannot agree to the doctrine that honesty of purpose in a magistrate ought to be a protection against his summary dismissal.

The rental of the estate is about £350, and the price obtained about £3,300. Sig months ago the same estate was sold for £3,960.; but the purchase was not completed. Before the potato failure more than double that amount might have been realized. The present poor-rate in the district is 4s. 6d. in the pound.

At the Thurles quarter sessions several persons were tried for making away with crops, in all of whose cases there was a verdict of acquittal.

It is a fact that the farm of Rathbeggan, comprising a hundred and fifty-four agree, was sold in Dublin last week for £110.! Upwards of £1,000, was, a few years ago expended upon it in improvements.

The Marquis of Anglesey has instructed the agent of his Irish estates to allow all his tenants twenty per cent, this year, upon their rent, and to expend £300, annually, henceforth, in improvements on his lordship's Carlingford property, which is under £6,000, per annum.

FIRE. - On Sunday night, about 8 o'clock, a fire broke out in the wood gard of Mr. Archer, in this village, but it was soon extinguished, by the prompt and rable damage had been done. Two engines from the Fort were on the ground and did much service. It is sup-pused that the fire originated from sparks from the Propeller Indiana; the wind being very high at the time she passed. The frequent fires occasioned by this class of hours, certainly call for special legislative action, in order to accure the property of individuals from destruction. -.
