NEW EDITION IN ONE VOLUME,

Marius the Epicurean,

HIS SENSATIONS AND IDEAS.

By Walter Pater, M.A. One volume.
12mo. $2.25.

"A style of perfectly finished beauty, full of an exquisite restraint, and, after all, only the fitting and adequate expression of the exactest thinking. As we read the pages characterized by such unflinching fitness of phrase, finished from their first to their final line with a flawless perfection which one demands in the brief lyric of a master, but hardly looks for in a prose work of extended length, we find far more than the justification of the author's long cessation from slighter literary efforts—a continued silence which has been felt at least by some lovers of sweet and sifted English, as nothing less than real personal loss."—The Academy.

"In this picture, touching the sweet charities at home, we see the Pagan boy at his best, in no way a stranger to what we are apt to think the gift of a later religion and a later civilization. Follow this youth under the exquisite influences of his mother; assent with the author that 'maternity itself is the central type of all love, richest with its unflinching pity and protectiveness,' and once touched by the pensive note and attuned to the minor music, sensitive to the exquisite modulations of Mr. Pater's style, you will follow him through some five hundred pages of the most alluring reading that the literature of our day has given to us. It is not often that a book so rich in historical interest, so profoundly touching in its personal character, comes before the reader, and yet it will escape him unless his mind, and life, and temperament are nicely adjusted, and in harmonious relationship to judge the finest things of this world, and to enjoy an urbane, an artistic, a conscientious treatment of them."—EUGENE BENSON, in N. Y. Commercial Advertiser.

$1,000 REWARD FOR ITS SUPERIOR.

Washing made light and easy. The clothes have that pure whiteness which no other mode of washing can produce. No rubbing required—no friction to injure the fabric. A ten-year-old girl can do the washing as well as an older person. To place it in every household, the price has been placed at $3, and if not found satisfactory, money refunded. See what the Baptist says, "From personal examination of its construction and experience in its use we commend it as a simple, sensible, scientific and successful machine, which succeeds in doing its work admirably. The price, $3, places it within the reach of all. It is a time and labour-saving machine, is substantial and enduring, and is cheap. From trial in the household we can testify to its excellence."

Delivered to any express office in Ontario or Quebec, charges paid, for $3.50.
