

An Impressive Record

the new American tariff bill, and André Siegfried told of its repercussions in Europe.

While not advocating any particular program, FOREIGN AFFAIRS often gives space to explanations of the work of the League of Nations and the World Court by such writers as Elihu Root, A. Lawrence Lowell, Viscount Cecil, John Dewey and Sir Arthur Salter. Eduard Benes contributed a classic analysis of the Locarno Pact.

The problems of the British Commonwealth have been thoroughly explored by men like Sir Josiah Stamp, H. A. L. Fisher, Sir Basil Blackett, Harold J. Laski and Lord Lothian. John W. Davis and Allen W. Dulles made expert examinations of the Anglo-American naval problem. Ireland has been dealt with by Sir Horace Plunkett and the beloved "A. E." There have been articles regularly on Canada, India, South Africa, and Australia.

During the London naval conference Viscount Grey chose FOREIGN AFFAIRS as the most suitable place in which to publish one of his rare and weighty pronouncements, this time on the fundamental problem of "The Freedom of the Seas." After the conference was over its work was appraised from different points of view by Walter Lippmann, Allen W. Dulles, and André Géraud ("Pertinax"). Looking to future developments, Admiral Sir Herbert Richmond warned expert and layman alike of neglected but highly important aspects of the naval disarmament question.

America's able representative on the Supreme War Council, General Tasker H. Bliss, ex-Chief of Staff, first told in FOREIGN AFFAIRS the true story of the formation of the Supreme Unified Command, and he also contributed a highly suggestive paper on Disarmament.
