Dear Sir Arthur,

Mrs. Baumgarten has a villa for the season at Cannes, and when I was there last week she talked to me about her private affairs. She told me that her late husband had long intended to bequeath to Mr. Hill his property on Mr. Tavish Street, but had felt obliged to change his intention and leave the property to her when he suffered some unexpected losses in connection with the transfer of the Atlantic Sugar Refinery. She said she would never live in the house again, and expressed disappointment at her failure to sell the house for club purposes to the Knights of Columbus, who are said to
